NEW YORK CLIPPER

THE OLDEST AMERICAN SPORTING AND THEATRICAL JOURNAL.

FRANK QUEEN, Editor and Proprietor. | NEW YORK, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1869. | VOLUME XVII.—No. 20. PRICE TEN CENTS.

THE MIDNIGHT WALK.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER,
BY F. J. WILLOUGHBY.

I.

The seasons may come, and the seasons go,
And bury themselves in eternity,
But, long as I live, I can ne'er forget
The night on the shore of the lonely sea!

II.

My lover was with me, and I was blest;
I murmured my passion, and she was mine!
The far away heavens were envying us,
As slowly we paced by the sobbing brine.

III.

How lovely she looked when the moon stepped forth
From amethyst clouds, then withdrew again!
I swore in my heart that no man should part
Us twain, as we roamed by the groaning main!

IV.

But scarce had we traversed a hundred yards,
When suddenly, out of the dripping caves
That towered above us, my rival came,
As softly we strayed by the angry waves.

V.

I saw by the gleam of his dagger blade
That horror and woe were in store for me—
I felt in my breast for my poinard keen,
And paused in my walk by the raving sea.

VI.

He swore she was his by an earlier troth;
She crept to my breast, and he read the sign;
With terrible curses he lunged at me—
And murder was done by the lashing brine!

VII.

O, Saviour! a pebble had turned my foot—
I staggered, and fell—and my love was slain—
The merciless dagger had pierced her heart—
Its treasure was spilled in the howling main!

VIII.

My voice cried aloud, for my brain was wild,
The echoes shrieked back from the hollow caves,
I buried my blade in the demon's breast,
And hurried him into the hungry waves!

IX.

The seasons may come, and the seasons go,
And bury themselves in eternity,
But, long as I live, I can ne'er forget
The night on the shore of the lonely sea!

THE GIPSEY QUEEN.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "THE COTTAGE GIRL," "SHADOWS ON THE RIVER," "JANE SHORE," ETC.

CHAPTER XLII.

THE SEAL RING RETURNS TO ITS OWNER.

An ancient man, in a dirty brown smock frock, over which flowed, at his shoulders and breast, a profusion of dirty, white matted hair and beard, waited near the prison gate from which Basil Holmes emerged at the expiration of his sentence. The forlorn looking ancient approached, as it were, to beg, and when repulsed, shuffled after the swift long strides of the tall figure, that, buttoned up in a close paletot, with high standing collar pulled up to his ears, hurried away from those frowning walls.

"Bestow a trifle on a poor old man?"

Basil threw him a penny without looking at him.

"Heaven bless your worship! Would you buy a ring of me that I picked up to-day—a seal ring, look."

The seeming rustic mendicant drew nearer, and Basil threw a quick glance toward him, recognising in a moment both old Nathan and his own seal ring, which the ancient held up between his finger and thumb.

"Where did you get that?"

The black eyes of the weird old gipsey gazed mysteriously upon Basil as he turned the ring round and round, a cunning look upon his face, which was deeply furrowed and nearly black, a few dirty, white tufts of hair bristling out over his low forehead. Altogether he was not a pleasant figure to meet, Basil remembering, too, the beer house in the Five Fields.

"You know that ring?" old Nathan asked, mysteriously.

"I do, where did youfind it?"

"I had it from one who sends it back to you for a token."

Basil's whole aspect changed when he heard that. He drew aside with the old gipsey priest, and received from him the seal ring.

"What am I to understand?" Basil eagerly inquired.

"She who had that ring from you grants your request. You know what that was, when you showed her your money on the wall."

"What, will she leave the country with me?"

"She will. She waits for you now."

"Where is she?"

"At the same place."

"When am I to meet her?"

"At ten to-night."

"Where?"

"Just where you showed her the money."

"Very well. Do you know will she be alone?"

"Yes, and you are to be prepared to start away at once, if you mean what you said to her."

"She will leave with me?"

"Have I not said so, and have I not given you the token? At ten, remember. I have to let her know your intentions. Don't say you will come unless you mean it."

"I tell you I will be there. Is that plain and positive enough?"

The little, blood-thirsty eyes of the abominable old savage twinkled, and his horrid grin was heightened, as he bowed his head with pretended humility and response:—

"I will tell her to expect you. Good day to your worship."

Then, as Basil looked after that most disreputable and strange old man he felt a momentary misgiving, but a glance at his restored ring satisfied him of the reality of the message, and his pulse beat high, and the old vices arose in their strength.

"It was no slight thing for the vagabond to part with a valuable ring like this," replied Basil. "He would not have done so, but to obey the Gipsey Queen, whose power over some of her people I have experienced."

He did not like the appointed spot; it was too near the camp, too near the Five Fields beer house, and unpleasant remembrances were associated with it. But she had named that spot, and there he would meet her. Yes, such was the infatuation that possessed him, he swore that at last he would be at that spot, though a host of demons accompanied her there.

"I am fallen so low that I can fall no lower," he said, with a groan. "And I hardly care now whether I have to cast in my lot with hers or she with mine. Better men than I am have lost themselves in a gipsey life. I do not see why I should care what becomes of me. All professions are blocked to a man of my lost character. And I will never submit to be managed and snubbed by my goody brother."

As the thought arose in his mind, that goody brother laid hold of his arm, and Oliver's bright, open countenance was before him, beaming with the kindliest expression.

"I was almost too late," exclaimed Oliver, "and I should never have forgiven myself if I had missed you."

"I had rather you would not trouble yourself for me," said Basil, with cold pride, folding his arms.

Oliver looked unspeakably grieved.

"Is it to be thus to the very bitter end?"

"Yes, to the very last. Go you and marry your heiress, if you are not married already, and set up your new establishment and enjoy it, but meddle with me no more."

"Catherine and I were married this very morning, privately, and very quietly, on account of your misfortunes."

"Married this morning, and you here now?"

"Yes, by Catheriene's wish as well as my own. Come, she waits to see you. She and our mother, in a carriage round the corner. All the past shall be forgiven and forgotten."

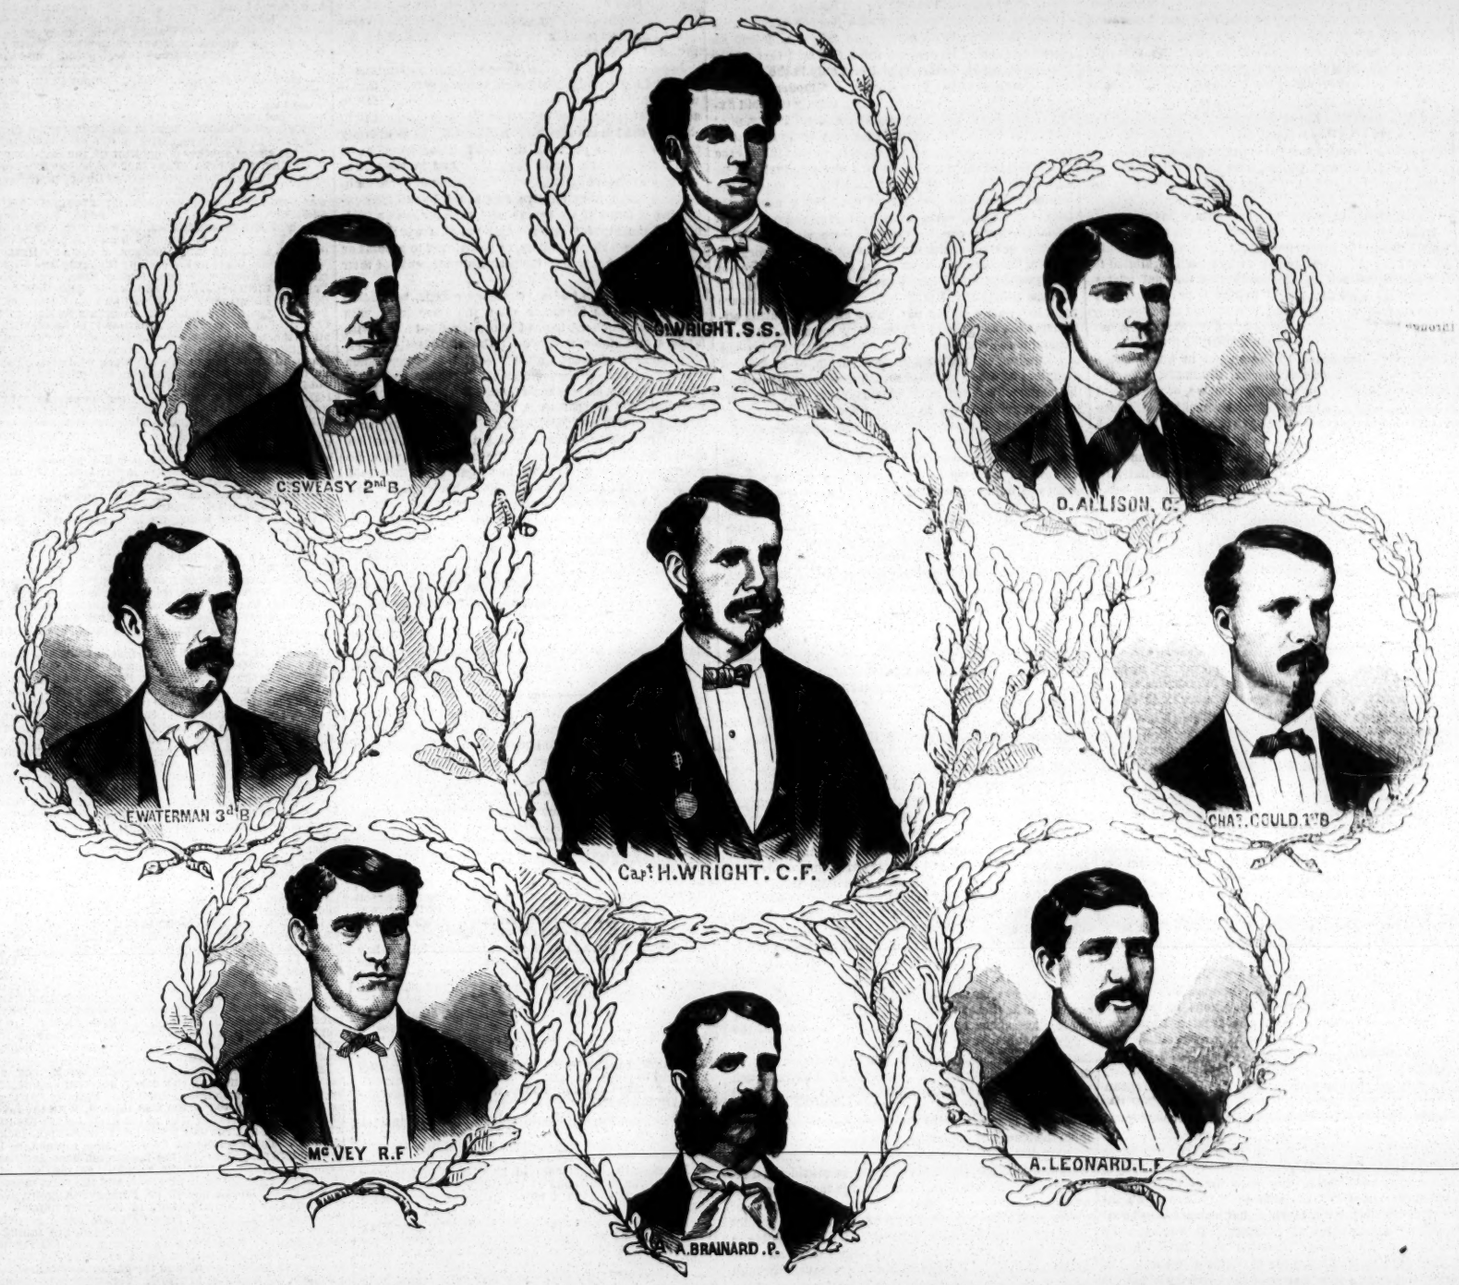
Basil stood a minute in deep meditation. His features were working, as if his hard heart was really touched at last by his brother's magnanimity, his mother's love and Catherine's kindness. The conflict within him was greater than Oliver could understand. It was as if his good angel and his bad then strove for the mastery over him as they had never striven before.

"Even for mother's sake," pleaded Oliver. "You should think a little of her. Poor soul, if you could only have seen how she has suffered on your account during the last year. She is so feeble now that the least disappointment may prove fatal to her. I entreat you not to forsake her again. She is willing to do anything; go anywhere, so that she may be with you to see after your health and comfort. You know how fondly she has loved you, more than me, Basil. Come to her now."

"No. I thank you all. I do from my soul. Had you come but ten minutes sooner, you might have secured me. But in the brief interval——"

He made a dead stop, and was violently agitated.

"Well, what has happened in that brief interval?"



THE FAMOUS "RED STOCKING" NINE OF THE CINCINNATI BASE BALL CLUB.

For Biographical Sketch see elsewhere.

He answered in abrupt, discordant tones—

"I have met Satan, that is all."

"Oh, nonsense, Basil, nonsense. I am not to be put off in this way. We mean to have you with us this happy evening, so it is no use for you to offer opposition. Mind, there is not a single visitor with us. You will see no one at present but your mother, your brother and your sister. Even our one confidential servant at present is a woman who is no stranger to you; you always liked Susan at Heath House, you remember, and Susan always took amazingly to you. We are in furnished lodgings in the Regent's Park, and have ordered dinner at seven. There will be a cover and a chair for you, and a hearty welcome. It is no use resisting, we mean to have you, so come along!"

"If you knew the villain I have been you would not urge me."

"I know all about it."

"No, you do not."

"Yes, I do."

Basil looked him steadily in the face.

"It is impossible!" muttered Basil.

"It is possible. It is certain."

"What do you suppose was my worst crime against you?"

"We will not name it here, nor will we name it anywhere. I tell you, before heaven, I forgive that—shot—not more thankful that I have survived your attempt, than thankful that you have escaped the hideous punishment which might have fallen upon you."

"I should not have escaped but for you. And does my mother—or Catherine—now believe—of me——"

"I will not deceive you; I have kept your secret to the utmost of my power, but there have been doubts on the minds of both."

"I know that—but how is it now?"

"Catherine is one in heart and mind with me; we wish to have you with us this evening at a friendly table, where not one word or look shall wound you. Afterwards you and our mother will live together. She has a scheme all ready that you cannot object to. In fact, apartments are taken for you both, and there is respectable employment waiting for you under one of the sleeping partners of the old firm. Everything has been arranged, and well arranged, as you will say. And we do hope, Basil, that you will this day commence a new life. It must be so, indeed; this is the happiest day that can ever shine on me—if you will not be obstinate and unkind."

"Oliver, give me your hand once more, just once. I never knew all you were worth till now; would to God I had. Some veil has been over my eyes, some devil has hardened my heart against you."

He wrung Oliver's hand—once—twice; tears forced themselves from his eyes.

"You will tell Catherine I thank her profoundly, but I could never look in her face again, I am too vile. And as to my mother, tell her not to grieve any more about me, at the same time I know she will."

"And will you really refuse me?"

"Yes, Oliver, it must be so; I shall never see you more. Your goodness to me is unparalleled—but you only heap coals of fire on my head. And that," he uttered the words very slowly and thrillingly—"that I feel! Farewell, brother, for ever and ever."

He rushed away, but only to be seized by both arms. Mrs. Wynne had come to see what had detained Oliver so long. Her fears that he would fail to persuade Basil had realised the actual truth beforehand. The mother and son confronted each other in the street.

"You will not refuse us!" she said, in an agony of supplication.

"Yes, I will," he answered doggedly.

"You shall not," she persisted.

"Mother, you distress yourself to no purpose; your plans for my good have been premature. I answered your kind letter; why did you not believe that I meant what I wrote."

"Basil, you are not insane, and you must have some pity for me. Have I not endured enough misery on account of you? Oh, do, do be a better man, and come with us, and all will be well."

Her entreaties were heart rending, but the seal ring was on his fore finger, and that fatal token was a talisman of evil to him that day. As she clung to his arms, he kissed her tearful face, that had aged twenty years and more since he last saw her, and then tore himself from her grasp, hailed an empty hansom cab that was passing, sprang in, clapped to the small folding doors, then waved his right arm as a parting adieu to Oliver, and with one backward glance at his weeping mother, went forward to the doom that he had wilfully provoked, though he knew it not.

CHAPTER XLIII.

DOOM.

At half past nine o'clock that evening Basil passed by Mary Brentford's school house. She was sitting at the open lattice window of her sitting room, her serious eyes fixed on the evening star, that shone very brightly opposite, alone on a purple sky. A western breeze rustled the leaves that mantled the school house walls, and made music in a grove of tall trees near at hand. The thoughtful face of the curate's daughter grew more and more pensive as she sat there. The breeze playing over her cheeks, the star shining opposite, the choral music of the grove sounding in her ears, Basil watched her, himself unseen. He repeated to himself Wordsworth's lines:—

She dwelt among the untrodden ways
Beside the springs of dove,
A maid whom there were none to praise
And very few to love.

A violet by a mossy stone,
Half hidden from the eye,
A single star when only one
Is shining in the sky.

"Shall I speak to her once more or not?"

He hesitated, walked to and fro in deep shadow, then slowly moved away. A few minutes after, turning to look back at the school house, he saw Mary Brentford, in hat and mantle, issuing from the doorway, and coming toward him. She passed him by, and went to a cottage adjoining the church, where he heard her enquiring after a sick child. She went into the lowly dwelling, and came out again after a very brief interval. Then he wished, he longed to converse with her, but the errand he was upon would not harmonise with that wish, and wrestling with himself, he stood watching her re-entrance into the school house, where the curtains were dropped, the bolts drawn, and peace was left brooding through the hallowed night.

"No word of mine shall disturb her more, vile wretch that I am!" he bitterly exclaimed, and on he went, over the darkened fields to Shepley Heath.

He reached the appointed spot just as the distant church clock was striking ten. No one appeared in sight, and he sat down upon the low wall in a gloomy frame of mind, sensible of the peril he was encountering in venturing here on such an undertaking a second time, and half inclined to give it up, and go back to the friends who were so desirous to save him. But this indecision did not last. By the time the first quarter after ten had chimed, his whole thoughts were given to the gipsey queen. He had made up his mind to proceed with her by the night express train to Liverpool, and thence by the first steamer going to New York. He was thinking out many details of his scheme, when old Nathan almost seemed to start out of the ground beside him.

"She is waiting yonder," said the old man, pointing over the heath, to where a woman shrouded in some dark wrapper appeared on a rising ground. Basil hastened in that direction, and immediately two other men clambered over the wall and joined old Nathan, and the three followed Basil. Night, in solemn beauty, rested on Shepley Heath. The waning moon was scarcely visible, and only a few stars looked out of the dark purple dome, which on all sides met and mingled with the shadows of the heath. Few sounds disturbed the stillness, and none which betrayed the mystery of Basil's fate, for he never left the heath that night. There was a solitary fire kindled in a wild and desolate spot where a few gipsies were gathered, directed by Becca Falkland. But the purpose for which they were there, and for which that fire was kindled, may not be dwelt upon. When it died out at early morning Becca and old Nathan carefully gathered up minute fragments of burnt garments, some of which Basil had worn when he came to the heath a few hours before. These they destroyed with exceeding care to the last atom, and when the sun rose the earth had been raked over the place where the fire had been, and sods, and even bushes had been replaced, and all so cunningly arranged that no one not informed could tell that gipsies had been there. And they had vanished like Macbeth's witches. But, under the heather they left Basil Holmes, with all his sins upon his head.

CHAPTER XLIV.

ALF AND RHODA BID FAREWELL TO ENGLAND.

Only a very limited number of the tribe had consented to obey the ferocious commands of Rebecca Falkland. These she formed into a distinct band, and I am compelled, in closing this story, to leave her at the head of a set of continually roving men and women, who are animated by the very worst traditions of the gipseydom of the past. Among them revenge, even to the death, secret plunder, sorcery and savage manners are revived in full force, under this terrible Gipsey Queen. But her two sons refused to join her, and insisted on walking in their father's steps. They were supported by the majority of the tribe, and Alf was requested to become their recognized chief, but he declined, chiefly on account of his apprehensions regarding the fate of Captain Holmes. He had intended secretely to warn the doomed man, and a slight accident alone prevented. He had informed himself, as he believed, of the time when Basil would leave the prison, and came to speak to him, and then discovered that he had made a mistake of a day and Basil was gone. He was a day too late. Rebecca had bound every member of her own sworn band to keep secret from Alf, and from all the world but themselves, the mystery of Basil's fate; not even Rhoda was to learn a syllable of it, since she had parted from her mother, and remained with her brothers until she and Alf were married. The tragedy that had been wrought on Shepley Heath was therefore unknown to Alf and Rhoda, but knowing Rebecca's intentions, and her formidable character, and the sort of gipsies she had drawn around her, they whispered their fears to each other, and to Rhoda's brothers. All at once, Rebecca and her sworn band were gone from the rest of the tribe, which then was full of fear as to what might have happened, and Alf was very anxious to remove Rhoda from all these barbaric scenes to a gentler, higher life, of which he had caught glimpses during his long minstrel experience in London. He consulted Gough, his fast friend and musical adviser.

"My good fellow," said Gough, "you must make your escape out of England as fast as you can. Get away with Rhoda, far from your old haunts and associations. You must either do that, or be drawn back into them—and into serious mischief—one or the other. It is for you to choose. Whilst you were yourself alone, we could just manage to hold you, but now yourself is to be doubled, we shall have more than double the difficulty. You need continual study for your musical advancement. You should spend half a dozen years in those countries where music has been for a long time scientifically taught and properly appreciated. Leave it all to me, and I will undertake to map out your course, send you your engagements, and provide your funds. You have nothing to do but to study your art, sing diligently, make your bows agreeably to all new friends, enjoy your tour and train your beautiful Rhoda in the ways of civilized house life, and if she can sing with you so much the better. I am told she can, and very well, too, accompanying herself on the guitar, and even playing admirably on the violin. Let her give her mind to art as well as to you, and you'll both prosper, take my word for that. She may not rise to the height of prima donna, but short of that there is plenty for her to do, and money to win. Her majestic figure and beautiful face will go a long way to help a tolerable voice, and she has a manner of her own that would tell on any stage."

"Will you," asked Alf, "prepare a plan, and I will place it before Rhoda?"

"I will by to morrow. Dine with me at six."

Over that dinner, followed by wine and coffee, it was settled that Gough should travel three months with Alf, superintending his musical engagements and studies, which were to commence in Paris, and thence Alf and Rhoda were to proceed to different cities of Italy, Germany, Spain and Russia, one of the objects of the tour being to discover other gipsey artistes, who eventually were to join in London, the original Ethiopian band founded by the Tartar gipsey, Alexis Petrovitch. The younger of Falkland's sons proved to be an important acquisition, his voice being little inferior to that of Alf himself. The elder furnished supplies of new talent, discovered among his people, from whom he refused to be severed, as they looked up to him as a worthy successor of his father, when a few more years should be added to his life. Gough had been rather disheartened on account of a vigorous opposition of English Ethiopian Minstrels, started by a rival director, who knew nothing of the original purpose of the first foundation, and was ignorant that the founder had been a Russian gipsey.

"But we can hold our own, I hope, next winter, when I return. For although I shall lose your voice, yet you will send me substitutes, I do not doubt."

"I shall, certainly, if they are to be found in the neighborhood that I am to visit."

"I have great hopes of Nat Falkland."

"You will not be disappointed. I and he used to sing a great deal together. The whole camp praised him next to me; and I think he has more power than I."

"But less sweetness and richness. However, having Nat, I can spare you for other purposes; that is for your own advancement is art, and for finding me foreign talent, chiefly among your own race. So now that is settled. Go and secure your wife. Leave all the rest to me."

Rhoda was not found to be impracticable in the matter of arrangements, for she feared very much what might have been her mother's proceedings against Basil Holmes and what might follow. Under almost any other circumstances Rhoda would not have left the camp to be married, and Alf would have been drawn back, as Gough said, but at present there was a general feeling of gloom, suspense and fear about all those who had not joined Rebecca; and Rhoda took her leave of all with prompt decision early one morning, having made it clearly known that she was to marry Alf at once, and leave England the same day to cross the sea to France. And now behold the young gipsey artist on the "London, Chatham and Dover" railway, with Rhoda, the gipsey queen—a gipsey queen no longer, having for Alf's sake renounced all tent life, and submitted to be launched on a lot very strange to her, but full of hope and joy. She went out of England comparatively wealthy, both in money, jewels and apparel, stored in abundance of luggage that had been registered in her new name of Madame Julio, and that presently reposed, during a little over ten hours, in a vessel of the Steam Navigation Company, side by side with Alf's leather portmanteau and tin boxes, inscribed with the name of Monsieur Alfred Julio. The night passage was passed on deck, as the weather was delightfully calm, and Rhoda, slightly sea sick, lay still, on a broad seat, carefully covered up from the night dews and tenderly watched by Alf. Arriving at Calais, they took the train straight on to Paris, where Gough had directed them to a comfortable second class hotel, where English people were cordially welcomed, and soon placed at their ease, with thoroughly good accommodation, though not luxurious, and the charges quite moderate. In less than a week Gough had arrived with his wife, a plain English dame, who knew all the singular history of the young pair, as far as Gough knew it, and was discreet and kind to Rhoda, and soon won her good will. Indeed her presence proved a special comfort, separated as Rhoda was from all other womankind. The two walked and rode together, while Gough and Alf were looking after musical business.

"All right!" exclaimed Gough, rubbing his hands, as he returned after a prolonged absence, "Julio is engaged at the Bouffes Parisiens, one of the very best of the smaller musician's theatres that are to be found in Paris or anywhere. We have been to the Conservatoire de Musique, which is something like a school of music, beats all England hollow, and produces first rate composers as well as musicians; there I have made friends for Alf, and I think he is now fairly on Tom Tiddler's ground, and he ought to be soon picking up gold and silver."

THE END.

ROADSIDE GLANCES.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER,
BY ZEPHYR.

Pair of bays to wagon light;
Up to top of speed excite,
Go 'long—hip!
Ribbons hold in stylish mode,
Dust to rivals on the road—
Crack your whip!

Dashing through the Central Park,
Fast one in his glory mark;
Twig him tip
Winks and nods amid the whirl;—
Hi! there "Lady!" down, old girl!
Crack your whip!

Women, wine and trotting stock,
Others high as kite may knock,
Not him trip;
Purse Wall street millionaire
Shall his son's expenses bear—
Crack your whip!

Musty proverb seems a mock;
Only likeness 'twixt the block
And the chip;
Each along life's highway tries
Dust to throw in other's eyes!
Crack your whip!

Bursting into Harlem Lane,
Under steady pull or rein,
Let 'em rip!
Seek the thickest of the rush,
Give the best of 'em a brush!
Crack your whip!

Hold your horses!—under shed
Let 'em now be slowly led—
Blankets slip
Snugly over glassy backs;
Utmost care of ostlers tax.
Crack your whip!

Busy hands behind the bar—
Talkers, drinkers—here they are!
Try a nip?
Come, a drop of something nice—
Bottle bring us off the ice!
Crack your whip!

Ha! so soon the bottle dry?
Scarce a toothful!—let us try
'Nother nip,
'Nother drop of something nice,
'N other bottle off the ice!
Crack your whip!

Fill the gleaming crystal high;
Press the bubbles, ere they die,
To the lip;
For too brief the summer day,
Long to linger by the way—
Crack your whip!

HOW HANLEY BECAME AN ACTOR.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER,
BY PAUL PRESTON.

The late Mr. Joseph G. Hanley had originally been a practical printer; but, at the time I became acquainted with him, was engaged in commercial pursuits. His adoption of the theatrical profession was the result of accident rather than design, and it is due to his memory to remark that he ever entertained a high opinion of the stage, and labored most assiduously to accomplish himself in order that he might reflect credit upon an occupation more successful actors sometimes affect to despise.

In the year 1849 a knot of literary worthies of this city proposed giving an amateur performance in aid of the remnants of the regiment of volunteers who had served in the Mexican war. In England, a number of literary celebrities, Dickens, Douglas Jerrold, Leman Rede, Mark Lemon and others of lesser note, had performed a short time previously with credit in a revival of Ben Johnson's "Every Man in his Humor," and it was thought that a collection of writers might be drummed up in this city who could be induced to fret a brief while on the public stage. There had been more than one operation of the kind, which had achieved something like a success, notably the performance of "Hamlet," at the Chambers Street Opera House; but then it was expected that the gentlemen of the press could not fail to draw a full house.

The members of the press were duly canvassed, and some dozen or so were discovered sufficiently hardy to venture upon the boards for that night only—at least they promised to appear. Colonel Thomas Picton, then editor of the Era, was elected chairman of the combination, possibly because he once astonished the weak nerves of the old Garrick Club by his execution of "My Name is Norval," and under his management it was determined to produce the comedy of "London Assurance." The management called together the company, and a good many fervent "amies" were disposed of by the way of preliminaries.

That amateur performance was designed to be a grand affair, and doubtlessly the world at large lost a great treat when the thing caved in. The amateurs went into training manfully, under the supervision of an actor, of the then Broadway, named McDoual, who had originally been an officer in the British navy, but who, some how or the other, never could contrive to get his men together for rehearsal, much less to compel them to learn a part with ordinary accuracy. A gentleman by the name of Westervelt was designed for Sir Harcourt; Henry William Herbert was to do Charles Courtley; Picton was to flourish as Dazzle; Sid Barclay was to perpetrate Cool; Capt. Tobin, better known as "John of York," condescended to assume Dolly Spanker, and other celebrities promised to be on hand in the remaining parts. The thing looked like an immense success, and for some weeks a good many stray editors might have been seen in the neighborhood of Weehawken, and other suburban retreats, with play-books in their hands.

In order to give the amateurs a taste of stage business, it was deemed advisable to secure a private theatre for rehearsals, and one was discovered in the cockloft of Gothic Hall, in Broadway, near Pearl street. Thither the ambitious press men repaired, and attempted a grand dress rehearsal, which so encouraged the management that he rushed up-town the next morning and hired the Astor Place Opera House, with a full band. A couple of performances demonstrated, however, that the editorial corps were not cut out for actors, and one by one they dropped off, without furnishing substitutes, and eagerly concluded to retire into the shades of private life. The management was in a decided fix with the Opera House and full band on his hands, but he was plucky, and determined to give the entertainment or die in the attempt.

Now it chanced that the private theatre was in occupation of a band of stage-struck youths, who called themselves the American Histrionic Association, of which Mr. Hanley was then president. These Thespians boasted a soul beyond the confines of their little theatre, and some aspired to tread the boards of a metropolitan stage. They heard vague rumors of the press gentlemen's defection, and of the amateur manager's dilemma. They hastened to the gentleman with the theatrical cloak on his hands; they broached the idea to him of giving the amateur performance themselves, and never was man more delighted than he was at having the burden of management taken from his shoulders.

The performance at the Astor place—the tragedy of "Virginius" and the farce of "Lend Me Five Shillings" proved an unexpected success, and opened the way for others beside Hanley to embrace the dramatic profession, among these a promising actor named Lamb, whose wife was the Virginia of the evening. The volunteers of the Mexican war, however, benefitted very little by the entertainment, inasmuch as the gentleman kindly volunteering to act as treasurer absconded with the entire amount taken at the doors.

Some months after this amateur performance Mr. Hanley waited upon Picton, and announced his determination to adopt the stage as his profession, requesting him to use his influence to secure an engagement. Gratitude to the individual who had relieved the entire literary community from the necessity of abandoning an amateur performance was a strong element in favor of Mr. Hanley's proposition; but, despite editorial persuasion, our metropolitan managers could not be induced to entrust the fortune of their houses to a purely non-professional, notwithstanding the liberality of Hanley's terms—no pay and find his own wardrobe. At none of the theatres could be found a vacancy, and most of the profession regarded as visionary the idea of a man assuming leading characters without having duly served an apprenticeship at the practical work of the stage.

Happily for Mr. Hanley's future success, a bright idea struck Picton, that if a person cannot be a prophet in his own country he might become one elsewhere. He hit upon Albany as the scene of his protege's destined appearance, particularly as Capt. Farnsworth, of the Volunteers, was the editor in that city of a popular sheet known as the Dutchman. To the capital then the amateur and his patron repaired, and found the Museum in the full tide of success. A stage manager with the singular name of Smith, and with a decidedly speculative turn of mind, was induced to countenance the young man's pretensions, particularly as he desired a week's engagment without pay or recompense. In fact, stars were about those days scarce and expensive, and as the Albanians were afflicted with a taste for novelty, probably the management considered that a "distinguished amateur" might prove as available as anything else. At all events, a favorable response was elicited, and a month or so thereafter the young American tragedian made a successful debut at the Museum, and there laid the foundations for a good reputation as a sterling, reliable and judicious actor, notwithstanding disadvantages of voice and physical make.

The accidental connection of Mr. Hanley with a body of the press, although originating in a most quixotic design, proved a source of enduring advantage; and it is but just to add that no gentleman more scrupulously repaid the kindness in the first instance extended to him than he did the attention of his profession or by a marked desire to advance its interests and manifest an insatiable desire to advance its welfare and dignity. No actor, with possibly the exception of William E. Fleming, who died a paymaster in the army, was better appreciated for his manifold private virtues than was Mr. Hanley; both were comparatively unknown to the general public, yet, in their obscurity, they enjoyed a reputation for executive, rather than dramatic, talents.

NEW YORK CLIPPER BUILDING,

S. E. COR. CENTRE AND LEONARD STS.

This handsome and substantial edifice, well located on a good business thoroughfare and within view from Broadway, nearly ready for occupation. Parties wishing

TO RENT ON REASONABLE TERMS,

FIRST CLASS STORES AND OFFICES

With all

THE MODERN CONVENIENCES AND APPOINTMENTS,

Including heating by steam, should apply to

W. H. BRAY, Agent,

NEW YORK CLIPPER OFFICE.

NEW YORK CLIPPER.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1869.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.

Single Copy	10 cents	Subscription per annum	$5 00
To Wholesale Dealers	6½ "	" for 6 months	2 50
To Retail Agents	7 "	" for 3 months	1 25

To Clubs of four or more, a deduction of 50 cents will be made from each annual subscription. Subscribers in Canada and the British Provinces, $1 per annum extra, to cover postage.

FRANK QUEEN, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR,
Nos. 88 and 90 Centre st., corner of Leonard.
Box 5,860 New York P. O.

NOTICE.

☞ CORRESPONDENTS advertisers, and all others writing in relation to matters connected with this or any other department of the CLIPPER, are respectfully requested to address their favors to the editor and proprietor, and thereby avoid omissions, mistakes, and confusion, which are likely to occur when such communications are addressed to our assistants.

NOTICE.

ADVERTISERS must hand in their favors before 6 o'clock on Monday evening, in order to have them appear in that week's issue.

To Correspondents.

BILLIARDS, Ottawa, Canada.—"M. and R. are playing pin pool; R., who is twelve on the slate, plays as though he was playing for five, but makes seven, and leaves a ball quite close to the pins. M. then asks if he (R.) is burst or not, and R. refuses to tell. A bet was then made to be decided by the N. Y. Clipper between M. and R. M. bets R. that he (R.) is obliged to say whether he is burst or not after he has [illegible] He can-

[illegible]

P. H.—I. Webster defines "international" as "existing and maintaining the mutual intercourse between different nations." "Transatlantic" as "lying or being beyond the Atlantic." A "Mussulman" a genus of mammalia [illegible]

[illegible]

F. G., Oil City.—1. The Reverend Brothers [illegible] the west. 2. The Hanlon Brothers have no agent. Your letter sent to the care of Eaton Stone, Franklin, N. J., will reach them. 3. O. B. Doud is now on his way to New Orleans. 4. He is a leading heavy man and as such enjoys a good reputation.

A. W. Burlington.—We adhere to our decision of last week. The Boxer Engine having gained the first prize, and the Ethan Allen Engine the second, decides the question of bets between them. The latter engine had two trials, and the former only one. The decision of the judges settles the point.

X. Y. Z., Murphysboro, Ill.—1. B having made the trump, D cannot go alone. 2. A player cannot go alone where a partner assists. 3. The dealer's partner can order up the trump, and go alone. 4. The one who makes the trump can go alone.

ENGLEHART, Wooster.—1.—Having elected to go in harness in the first heat, he cannot change to go under saddle afterwards. 2. The regulations of the tournament govern such cases; we cannot decide the point.

HARVARD, Cambridge.—1. We cannot inform you exactly the salary at present received by either gentleman, but we should say that they both receive about the same. 2. Mr. Wyman does receive a much larger salary than the gentleman you mention.

B. B. B., Baltimore.—1. All the runs made by the Pastimes on the unfinished eighth innings, should count. 2. Bets made on the Pastimes beating the Marylands 15 runs should be given up, the proper score being 31 to 12.

P. S., Great Bend, Penn.—Properly interpreted, the rules oblige the umpire, after warning the pitcher, to call three balls in succession, if they are pitched within legitimate reach of the batsman. This is not generally done, however.

CAMBRIDGE CITY.—1 He has walked several times in matches and against time, but we cannot give you any further information. 2. Mayhew beat Isaac Smith, Tom Lee and Jim Dillon, and fought draws with Jack Rooke, (2) Shipp and George King.

C. F.—Unless the race was governed by special rules, rendering it necessary that the boats should row over the entire course, the referee's decision was wrong, providing the claim of foul was well taken.

BUCK, North East, Pa.—If the dark red ball has its base or point of contact with the table outside the string, you can play at it, even though the side which your cue ball strikes is hanging over, and, therefore, within the string.

SHANK.—That paper, singular to say, has no one recognized for that department. There are several in the office who are "pickeled" for one night only to visit a place of amusement.

AMATEUR, Quincy.—We have heard nothing of the lady since she was traveling with Mr. Aiken. Probably a letter to that gentleman will enlighten you.

STARLIGHT, Baltimore.—1. She passes for that gentleman's wife, but he has another one in England. 2. The lady is not a linguist, that we are aware of. 3. If the two, Lotta is the best.

PHILADELPHIA.—1. They rowed over the same course. 2. The time made by Oxford in the race with Cambridge in 1868 was 21:30, winning by six lengths.

WATTS, Omaha.—1. It originated from an Ethiopian act done by the minstrel companies. 2. Shall be pleased to hear from you each week. Write so your letters will reach us by Saturday.

J. F., Flint, Mich.—You have an acting edition of Shakespeare, and so far as we know it contains the speeches and quotations you give are Colly Cibber's, who introduced them in the acting edition.

M. H., Cincinnati.—1. Rose Massey has not quit the stage, although she is not acting anywhere at present. She is residing in this city. 2. They are respectively fourteen and sixteen years of age.

J. E. S., Lowell.—1. No horse ever trotted a mile in 1:43. 2 Fanny Ludlow's 1:43 1-9 is the fastest running time on record. The race was a mile and a furlong, and she ran it in 1:50½.

FOXEY, Freeport.—The match having been made without any specification that there shall be no distance, it must be governed by the regular rules of trotting, and A's horse wins the race.

STAKEHOLDER, Chicago.—Start and Hanlon's bet connected with cards in his last, his statement that he played his hand fair and square cannot be received, and he loses the money.

FORMOSA, Baltimore.—1. The Sisters will play in your city about Christmas. 2. The lady goes to New Orleans this week. 3. They play in your city soon after their arrival from California.

CLARA, Newport.—Biographical sketches of the late Adah Isaacs Menken have appeared in the CLIPPER, but we cannot furnish you with the papers containing them.

HAROLD.—1. Booth's Theatre opened on February 3d, 1869. 2. "Much Ado About Nothing" was produced at Wallack's Theatre in January, 1869.

M. T. O'S., Charlestown, Mass.—1. The "Paris Crew," of St. John, N. B., defeated the Ward Brothers—Josh, Gil, Hank and Charley—in a six mile race at Springfield, Mass., Oct. 21st, 1868. 2. They are.

CRAYTON, Philadelphia.—There being no account of the race given in yours, we omit the article, as we have already given a notice of the structure.

J. L., Westfield, Mass.—1. The City of Manchester steamer is 16 years old. 2. The Etna formerly belonged to the Cunard line of steamers.

H. F. D., Muskegon.—It is a misdeal, and you cannot claim the score you made. If your opponent had made four under the circumstances, would you have allowed him to score them?

E. B. J.—1. Goldsmith Maid was the winner; see our turf column. 2. She is forty-three years of age. 3. A trifle over $2,000 is said to have been realized from the three Hanley benefits.

SUBSCRIBER, Philadelphia.—Such an occurrence is certainly inexplicable, if your statement is correct. We never heard or read of a similar case.

T. E.—She was born in England, and came to this country with the Lydia Thompson Troupe.

E. C. H., Allentown, Pa.—Billy Boyce never paced a mile in 2:14. His best time was 2:14¾, in Buffalo.

GEORGE, Cincinnati.—The lady is at present in this city. She shortly starts for her winter traveling tour.

MOTLEY, Boston.—He is not dead, that we are aware of, but we have not heard of him for about six months.

CAPT. F., Boston.—In the language of the late "Artemus Ward," the gentleman you mention has been "too much married."

F. H. W., Brooklyn.—Mr. Forrest is not playing anywhere at present.

RAYONETTE, Boston.—1. He appears during the season at the Boston Theatre. 2. That gentleman is his brother.

WILLIS, Boston.—1. He is resting in Philadelphia. 2. See the last issue of the CLIPPER. 3. Kate is in Australia.

J. ROBERTS, Chicago.—Your note is so blotted that we cannot make out your question.

B. H. A., Washington, D. C.—We cannot undertake to select a name for you.

CRESCENT.—If they reach us on Monday morning it will answer, as that will enable you to give us the latest news.

J. GULLIGAN, South Hadley, Mass.—Write to Dick & Fitzgerald, publishers, Ann street, this city.

A CONSTANT READER, Chelsea, Mich.—Nov. 10th is the day agreed upon.

WARRIOR, Allegheny City.—If there are more than two playing, the game should be played on'; if two only, he can show out.

JACK PERCY.—It is not equal to your former efforts, and is respectfully declined.

SHIFFINS.—The party betting that the measurement would be six feet exactly, loses the bet.

C. M. D., Boston.—The electricity generated in hot weather is sometimes termed heat lightning.

RIGHT BOWER, Cincinnati.—You will see by our paper that we have a correspondent there.

KANGAROO, Cincinnati.—Having resigned the pot and thrown his hand on the deck, A had no right to demand seeing it.

HARRY GRIMSHAW, Cohoes.—1. S. having shaken more than 33 wins.

LEE, Chambersburg.—The lady has a husband living, but is separated from him. She is 29 years of age.

J. S.—The family are at present in Omaha, N. T. See our dramatic summary.

SUBSCRIBER.—The longest recorded running jump is 29ft. 7in., made by John Howard, at Chester, Eng.

W. R. B., Chester Factory.—Charles H. Day is at Laura Keene's Theatre, Philadelphia.

A. C.—John Stewart made better time in his twenty-mile race than Captain McGowan.

OAK HALL.—Yes, by defeating the Atlantics after the latter have won the title from the Keokuks.

L. U. C., Pittsburgh.—It cannot claim the card exposed, but must have another one given him in its place.

FLEASANTVILLE.—We are unable to inform you, as we do not have access to the books of other papers.

P. K. D.—The player not holding a trump is not obliged to play a heart on the ace of hearts, which is really a trump.

ENQUIRER.—Lena has been a married lady, and has a daughter about ten years of age. At present she is residing in this city.

ERIE BOYS, Philadelphia.—Delehanty and Hengler are considered as good as any in the business.

F. E., Cohoes, N. Y.—M. S. wins the bet, the umpire having given the game to the "Red Stockings."

INQUIRER.—Will endeavor to ascertain and inform you in our next issue.

DUKE, Chicago.—Dexter's 2:17¼, was made in harness, at Buffalo, Aug. 14, 1867.

L. C. D., Chicago, Ill.—As you neglect to mention the dates we cannot insert the item sent.

DARNAS, Wilkesbarre, Pa.—1. Loring and Simmons. 2. Fay is a member of the Law School. 3. We do not think so.

O. R. B., Pittsburgh, Pa.—James Hamill's 22:27 is the fastest recorded three mile time in this country.

R. T. W., Mount Holly, N. J.—1. Write to the Secretary of War. 2. The Peak Family.

OLD SUBSCRIBER, Louisville, Ky.—There are not any published that we are aware of.

O. H.—The decision given by C was correct—as A did not win the game, he lost his bet.

MANY READERS, Topeka, Ka.—It would require more research than we can devote to it to answer your query.

LYON.—1. Two years. 2. Wright. 3 Hardly. 4. We do not know the reason.

C. R., Boston.—The Dauntless was beaten in the only race in which she participated in Europe.

WYOMING, Louisville.—Allen had the fight all his own way, and won with comparative ease.

YORICK, New Orleans.—It must either order it up, or pass; he cannot make the trump until his turn comes on the second turn.

DEP. S. F.—Not of sufficient general interest.

G. N. K., Providence.—There is no vacancy.

J. W., No. 20.—Get a Railroad Guide.

J. N., Boston.—Not at present.

J. K., Marengo, Ill.—Dexter never trotted a mile in 2:15.

GIPSEY JACK.—Visit some gymnasium.

MODEST QUENCHER.—All received. No intrusion.

NONPAREIL, Keokuk.—Your items will be acceptable.

LOCKPORT.—We have not seen the article you refer to.

BUCK, Boston.—Harry Bloodgood's right name is Carlo Moran.

REPORTER.—See answer to P. K. D. above.

OLD SUBSCRIBER.—High takes the deal.

T. H.—We do not know.

JERSEY STUDENT.—He was a pupil of Bob Hart.

AUGUSTUS F., Norwalk, Ct.—The battle of Waterloo.

CLOWN, Boston.—From twenty to thirty dollars per week.

D. E., Chicago.—Retain your situation, by all means.

E. B. McF., Tuscola, Ill.—1. No. 2. No.

E. D. C. C.—Hiram Woodruff died March 13th, 1867.

AGATE, Rochester.—Shall be pleased to accept of his services

OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS.

Every observant citizen, who has contemplated our political progress for the last quarter of a century, cannot fail to remark the intense, and daily growing interest our community have grown to experience as to the internal condition of foreign countries. Indeed, now that we are connected through almost instantaneous communication with the great empires of Britain and of France, it is not wonderful that we find ourselves, involuntarily we may presume, as curious to ascertain the daily events in the political existence of those countries as of our own. Neither does our anxiety pause at such a stage; it extends not only over the entire European continent; but to the more remote recesses of the far East—to Japan, China, and the Islands of the Pacific Archepelago, whither our flag and our people have been wafted to suit the emergencies of rapidly extending commercial operations.

Not only has there been, of late years, an unprecedented immigration into the United States from every quarter of the globe, but at the same time there has been an immense exode, temporary or otherwise, of native born Americans to foreign climes either for business or pleasure. At the same time both these results have been unanticipated by those learned and patriotic statesmen who laid the foundation of our national greatness. Could the man of our revolutionary era have comprehended the destiny reserved for the new born nation, he would have been a prophetic prodigy, greater than Nostradamus. Still the policy of our government to the present hour, touching the rights as to person and property of our citizens abroad, has been left in the unprotected condition imposed upon us by the strong hand of foreign power during the weakness of the republic's infancy. The Monroe doctrine, as it is called, of denying European sovereigns the right of intervening to subvert republicanism upon this continent, was assuredly a bold declaration of natural right, which, for all practical purposes, had better never been promulgated. In fact, the principle upon which the Monroe dogma is avowedly founded has been deliberately violated by Portugal in the case of Brazil, and in the attempted creation of the Mexican Empire by France with the covert support of other European powers. In both these instances the action of the predominant potentates was a downright affront to the dignity of the American people, who appeared to have assumed a moral position without physical power to enforce it.

As the condition of the American citizen has materially altered both at home and abroad during the last half century, a change in governmental policy in relation to him abroad is as much demanded as has been exhibited to [illegible] on the soil in the conduct of internal affairs [illegible] politically proportionately [illegible] intelligence of the country [illegible] ed by our progenitors, but by us rejected as repulsive to that spirit of liberality and of protection demanded by the citizen in his more advanced state of republican liberty. Gradually, from the [illegible] qualification, we, of the second [illegible] enfranchisement of all white citizens, [illegible] we have established universal suffrage upon the broadest basis. Our naturalization laws have likewise undergone equitable changes, and the dubious status of the adopted citizen more authoritatively defined as regards the land of his nativity. We have stricken the shackles of feudal bondage from off the limbs of the naturalized immigrant, and released him from the tyranny of monarchical absolutism. Even in the most despotic realm of Europe, the adopted citizen, re-visiting the land of his nativity, is exempt from local servitude through simple declaration of American citizenship. Now does it satisfy either native born or adopted citizen to observe that, while these important concessions as to the immunity of the person have become matters of international law, our government, with well attested evidence of the violation of a well settled rule before them, have thus far refrained from demanding satisfaction from a fourth rate power for the deliberate murder of one or more American citizen for a presumptive political offence. From the report of Admiral Hoff, the commanding officer charged with protection of American persons and interests in the Cuban waters, it is evident that a young man named Wyeth was executed without form of a trial, on the plea of being a suspected filibuster; while the unfortunate victim, in a dying declaration, states that, finding himself deceived as to the character of the expedition, he voluntary sought protection at the hands of the Spanish authorities. At the same time other expeditionaires, represented as Germans, but undoubtedly Americans, from having previously served in our army, were summarily put to death.

In these cases it is universally admitted that these men had committed no overt act of treason against Spain, and the presumption of law is that they were peaceable citizens of our country and entitled to general treaty rights. It is evident, therefore, that if the government desire any respect to be entertained for the provisions of the conventions recently enacted with the greater European powers for protecting Americans in foreign climes, the numerous outrages perpetrated by the Spaniards in Cuba assuredly present an opportunity for inaugurating a decisive line of foreign policy, as well to teach European governments that our theory as to the inviolability of citizenship is not an idle conception, as to implant confidence in the hearts of traveling Americans, who alone, of all hailing from the great powers of the universe, appear to be singled out as thoroughly unprotected.

It has been a cardinal maxim with Great Britain that the intervention of any Christian country in even an internal warfare is justifiable when that warfare is not conducted upon principles of humanity. It was upon the plea of stopping self-extermination that England dispatched her Foreign Legion for the dethronement of Don Carlos, and upon a simple view of the butchery of patriot prisoners in Cuba, the physical as well as moral power of the Great Republic should have been exerted to arrest barbarities which have never before, to such an extent, disgraced this continent.

THE IDEAL AT A DISCOUNT.

If it should occur to any one not given to preponderance of thinking that theatrical exhibitions are becoming too commonplace to interest the public, and that even our native composers—what we have of them—are unduly given to the celebration of trivial subjects, it should be remembered that we live in a land and an age that are essentially prosaic. We have no classical historic past to refer to, and when Mr. Greenough was green enough to portray the father of this country sitting straddle-legged in a voluminous night gown, with what might be taken for the United States strong-box under him, people visiting Washington were certainly excusable for laughing at the whimsical suggestion. It is herein that our sculptors find their chief difficulty, and the block of marble a stumbling-block to begin with. There is no denying it—our revolutionary heroes, clad in the large cocked hat, knee breeches and pig-tails, to the eye of modern criticism do not look heroic. Clothe Benjamin Franklin or Daniel Webster in the flowing toga, and there is seeming correspondence between their costume and their deeds. Depict the great Julius Cæsar or the ambitious Antony in the full regimentals of a modern major general, and we defy you to get up any such high-wrought enthusiasm over them as we were taught to entertain in the groves of Academus. Put Edwin Forrest, with those strong Roman legs of his, on the stage of the Bowery, dressed as for Damon in the usual integuments of a comfortable citizen, or for Spartacus, in the style of Heenan or Tom Allen, and we can fancy the indignation that would swell to an uproar among the incorruptible critics of that temple of the muses. Fancy Torquato Tasso attired as the Secretary to the New York Common Council, or Socrates taking cold poison in a cell of Ludlow street jail, or Moses presenting the law to the faithful of Chatham street in a tall plug hat and coat of the nineteenth century! Yet it is to this degeneracy that modern art is tending in America. The first heroes she could boast were dressed in steeple hats, short cloaks and shoes and stockings, and if we depart from the facts at all it must be with an eye to probability. Our lady progenitors are handed down to us as so many Mother Shiptons. We had no Cleopatras or Aspasias. Yet it is hard to imagine an American citizen walking Broadway in a white shirt and flesh leggins, with lambrakins, or the Governor reviewing the state militia in a sheet with a red worsted border, and an inverted soup tureen instead of a hat. Conceive a party of gentlemen teetering about a lady's parlor, each dressed in a pair of white cotton drawers and a baby's pink hat and mantle, and a jury attired in the style of the old Roman senate. Fancy the sensation Mr. Beecher, for instance, would create, were he to go before the Plymouth congregation clad, like St. Paul, in a night gown, with that portion of his body corporeal which he denounced in the blondes conspicuously visible! Or Mrs. Stanton getting up to deliver a lecture at Cooper Institute in a long night gown? Would not the sticklers for classical propriety howl, though! Perhaps that's why all the heroes of modern drama are dressed in black coats and a stove-pipe hat of the period.

NOT TRUE.—There is not a particle of truth in the report in the daily papers that Dexter and Lady Thorn are to trot on one of the Long Island tracks, this week, for the benefit of the Avondale sufferers.

POLITICAL.—Gen. Samuel F. Cary, the temperance orator, has been stumping Ohio for the Democracy, speaking almost daily. At that rate, the latter will soon Cary the whole State.

CAN DOG-GING A MAN be twisted into a game of pou-cur?

THE DEATH PENALTY.

The question as to the abolition of capital punishment is one which will be very shortly submitted to popular judgment, inasmuch as an association of influential and able men has been permanently organized for its universal agitation. In this state the execution of a criminal has been so hampered with legal precautions as to deprive the death penalty of half its alleged terrors, for there are men, sentenced to the scaffold, who have spent so many years in the State's Prison in anticipation of a final doom that memory of their crime has passed into an obscurity, fatal to the lesson sought to be taught by their fate. Philanthropy, like every other virtue, is liable to abuse, but as all great movements for the amelioration of the condition of the human race have originated in the efforts of a disinterested few, it is due to the encouragement of charitable action that the public at large bestow upon all propositions tending to the elevation of our kind a calm and unprejudiced investigation. Most people can remember the bitterly vindictive persecution of those who set in motion the movement in favor of abolition of slavery; and now, when emancipation has become an accomplished fact, it is regarded as one of the greatest triumphs of progressive civilization. Years before almost as determined an opposition was interposed against the law abolishing imprisonment for debt, and yet, at this day, we believe it difficult to find a single individual who could not rationally advocate a return to that system of collecting debts. In fine, our experience in all philanthropic designs teaches us that the energies of comparatively few individuals, devoted to a great object, however much their efforts may be derided at the outset, rarely fail in accomplishing great results. And therefore, we are tempted to believe that, before the lapse of many years, the death penalty will be obliterated from the statute books of all these United States.

That capital punishment, which forms a conspicuous feature in all barbaric codes, has failed to achieve its moral intuitions, is evident from the fact that, at the present moment, resort is had to it only in the extreme case of murder in the first degree, for modern law has come to recognize degrees in crime mainly to avoid fixing of a definite and extraordinary penalty. Piracy, punishable by death through international law, must, however, be accompanied with homicide, except in the case of a convicted slave trader, before the criminal will be adjudged the direful penalty of his crime. Almost to the commencement of the present century, a number of felonious crimes, many at present punished with insignificant terms of penal servitude, were visited with implacable death penalties. Highway robbery, forgery, treason, burglary, arson or rape, forfeited the lives of those participating in them; yet in these days a majority of these crimes are of rare occurrence, while others are regarded, unless under particular and aggravating circumstances, as matters of secondary moment. Human wisdom perceived that the fatal tree at Tyburn, instead of strangling out the race of Dick Turpin, of Jack Sheppard, and of other notorious malefactors, only invested the felons with the dignity of martyrdom and popularized their actions with a vulgar populace, hundreds of whom burned to emulate their criminal example.

With all the stringency of the death penalty, it must be apparent to every newspaper reader that murder is fearfully on the increase in our country, as scarce a week elapses without bringing tidings of the scaffold's work in some part of the Union. And in this category is not included street brawls, bar-room affrays, and other unpremeditated occurrences in which loss of life occurred. No, the murders, chronicled by our press as such, have been deliberate and intentional homicides, coolly conceived, and systematically carried out by criminals who must have reflected upon the consequences of their contemplated crime, and yet who hesitated not, voluntarily, to jeopardize their mortal existence. And still, the sad example of the judicial destruction of these beings, many of them intelligent and drawn from a good class in society, seems to carry with it no moral impediment to the commission of similar outrages. The advocates of death punishment rely mainly for its continuance upon the theory of biblical sanction, but we must recollect that the lex talionis, or law of retaliation, included not only the right to demand blood for blood, but that of exacting retributory vengeance upon any member of the human body. Even our Scandinavian ancestors, barbarians as we might regard them, entertained more enlightened views as to the value of a citizen's life than the Roman legislators, inasmuch as the killing of a man might be commuted, under certain circumstances, by fine and recovery of a sum equivalent to the social rank of the deceased, even if his death be the result of criminal intention.

With us the taking of a murderer's life is not regarded as a retaliatory vengeance, but as an expiatory example to impress the multitude with the awful enormity of his crime. In public executions no such salutory effect is produced upon the minds of the spectators in general; on the contrary, so callous, disorderly and indecent has been the behavior of the crowds on such occasions that our legislature has long since ordered the work of the scaffold to be performed in privacy. This secrecy certainly deprives the death penalty of nearly all its boasted moral instruction upon those most likely to commit such crimes. If we are to believe the published statements of recent executions, nine out of ten criminals have expressed themselves prepared to die, and several have gone the length of observing that they were assured of passing direct into the kingdom of Heaven. If these men were truly sincere, their death must be considered a religious mockery, tending rather towards the propagation of crime among enthusiasts. Moreover, hundreds of jurors dread the responsibility of rendering a verdict attended by sacrifice of a life it would be impossible to replace should subsequent events demonstrate an error in their judgment. Were this scruple removed, through substituting imprisonment for life in the place of the death penalty, a multitude of acquitted assassins, now stalking in freedom, would have been convicted without hesitation.

A FRESH EXCITEMENT.

The advent of two bands of Canadian Indians among us, and the rapturous applause bestowed upon their national game of Lacrosse, threatens, if the young American idea can be generally directed towards acquisition of this interesting pastime, to provide our community with a new sensation in the way of field sports. Base ball, taken in hand by systematized players, has ruled paramount for some years past to the comparative exclusion of cricket and other old country field sports, but in Lacrosse there is scope for an excitement, agility and ingenuity, which is perfectly fascinating to our national humor. From the moment the ball is started every muscle, limb and energy are put into operation, and all is life from the beginning of the innings to its conclusion, allowing all players to participate without intermission. Cricket, as a ball play, never was extremely popular with Americans; croquet is very acceptable when ladies can be induced to take a hand, as well as a foot, in its execution; the velocipede made a gigantic plunge and a deal of noise for the moment, but against all of these the game of Lacrosse, once introduced, ought to prove a formidable and enduring rival. It has been suggested that the Central Park commissioners invite the Indians to honor us by a couple of performances upon the common of that municipal, but over aristocratic, domain. The expense will be but light, and less than commensurate with the entertainment, which will be witnessed by thousands of curious spectators, who only require to get an inkling of the practice to imitate, if not excel, the children of the forest in their aboriginal pastime. As Lacrosse is emphatically an American game, well in favor with the Canadians, who have excelled the Indians in frequent contests, we see no just reason why it should not be perpetuated among us as our distinctive property.

FORGERY!—We regret to see that our contemporary, the New York Sunday Mercury, has allowed itself to be imposed upon by one of those reckless characters with which our city is at present afflicted. In last Sunday's issue of that paper appeared what purported to be a card written and signed by the editor of this journal, touching the disposition of the CLIPPER Gold Ball. It is scarcely necessary for us to say that the card never emanated from us, that it is a barefaced forgery; and had the editors of the Mercury looked over our paper of the past week they would have seen that we had disposed of the Ball question in that issue by awarding the trophy to those who had fairly and honorably won it. This was made public in the CLIPPER issued in this city on Tuesday morning, Sept. 21st, while the forged card in the Mercury bears date Sept. 23d. As we before remarked, we regret that the Mercury has been so grossly imposed upon, and we hope that the proprietors will take such measures as will prevent a repetition of the offence, for we do not for a moment suppose that they would knowingly publish such a barefaced fabrication. The card will be found under Base Ball head in another column.

LIFE AND DEATH.—The following item is one of those which are perpetually going the rounds:—"A wealthy German merchant in Indiana has insured his life for the benefit of the poor of the town." To this we have merely to append the profound and charitable observation of the gentle youth who flourishes in our office:—"He's a good man, that Dutchman; and of some other feller will only turn in and insure his death, they orter both hev statyoos."

ATTEMPT AT SUEZ-SIDE.—Egypt is reported to be cutting her canal between the Red Sea and the Mediterranean.

AN OAR TRUE TALE.—Our special report of the Harvard-Oxford contest.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN HORSE DOCTOR.

It is somewhat remarkable, taking in consideration the value of live stock, and of blood horses, particularly in this country, that we have taken no steps towards the formation of a veterinary college. All other branches of the medical profession have their legal fountain heads of knowledge and power, issuing diplomas and honorable certificates, while professors in hippography are compelled to catch learning as they can and to wander through the world unhonored and unsung. It is really cruel to observe that, while the entire animal kingdom is embraced within scope of Mr. Bergh's philanthropic compeers, who can legitimately adjudicate upon the wrongs of all animated nature, from the American eagle down to a cock sparrow, the noblest and best of domestic animals can be drugged, blistered and killed outright by any unscrupulous pretender to veterinary science. The brute creation in Europe have far more protection against quackery in the medicinal art than appears to be the case with that in America, which assuredly has the right to exclaim, "am I not a beast and a brother?" In England there is a Royal College for veterinary surgeons, whose graduates are regarded as scientific professors, entitled to a reputable place in the table of medical precedence. In France there is the famous Maison Alfort, where they not only treat the horse scientifically when living, but admire him in chops and steaks when dead. Even the ills of Pompey and Dash, with their colleagues in infirmity, be they King Charles, poodles or other canine pets, are legitimately and professionally doctored in a popular dog hospital on the outskirts of the Champs Elysees. But in our country how fares the equine practitioner, when a dentist, a patent medicine vender, or even a druggist's clerk dubbs himself a doctor? If he pulls a tooth, compounds a nostrum or makes up a prescription, he is forthwith honored and revered, but should his patients be unfortunately quadrupedal, the much coveted title of medical nobility is immediately vitiated by the prefix of horse or cow.

Did it ever strike our ambitious young men, anxious to gain money and fame through medical services, that it would prove more lucrative, and equally honorable, to administer to the ills of equine patients in preference to those of the human family? A man will pay as liberally to save the life of a ten thousand dollar horse as he would for that of a son or daughter. And in the case of wealthy bachelors afflicted with admiration of horse flesh, possibly more remunerative fees could be skillfully extracted in favor of an equine idol than for even a feminine of the bipedal order. And yet this wide field is neglected by trained scholars, or given over to grooms or jockies, who know but the practical rudiments of their art.

The establishment of a veterinary college, by placing surgeons of this character upon the same level with medical practitioners, instead of being ranked along with farriers and stable men, would almost instantly obliterate popular prejudice against a collection of gentlemen whose merits are appreciated in all European countries. Some years ago, an apothecary and a bit of string formed our entire dental profession, but now a days dentists, through creation and recognition of dental surgery as a learned profession, have attained a prominent position among medical practitioners, the same as have done aurists and oculists. Possibly, in no quarter of the world has the value of horse flesh grown to a higher figure, nor handsomer sums more readily demanded and paid for roadsters and teams, than among us. Our private establishments can boast turn-outs putting to blush, in the way of animals, the most pretending of regal equipages, while the horse, as a general thing, on this side of the Atlantic, has been bred and interbred regardless of expense. Yet we have, at the present time, no legally incorporated institutions, at which any person, desirous of understanding the diseases of horses and cattle, can attain an adequate education, so that the owner of valuable stock can be assured that he is entrusting their treatment to a competent practitioner.

THE LAWS OF CONJUGAL SELECTION.—A work on this subject has just been published by S. R. Wells, of 389 Broadway, which seems to have been carefully prepared by one who is well conversant with the various laws governing the marriage state.

SPORT.—The proper place to catch C. O. D. is Adams' Express office.

Squibs and Things.

— A duel, with real pistols, took place in Main county, Cal., recently, between an eastern man, named Gardner, and a Mr. Smedburg. Cause—a girl. Smedburg was wounded in the hand, and then all hands returned to San Francisco, well pleased with the day's sport.

— While riding on a mule at Beaver Creek, Va., a boy was attacked by seven wolves, but the untamed mule kicked the wolves all to bits, and the boy escaped. This courageous act of the docile mule is worthy of commendation.

— The painter Wislicenus, of Dusseldorf, obtained the thousand thaler prize from the Weimar Goethe Association for his monumental paintings, destined for the new museum in that city.

— A shark, caught by Gloucester fishermen recently, was found to possess a peculiar stripe, which, on examination, proved to be an iron hoop, which had become imbedded in the flesh.

— A Philadelphia merchant has instituted suit against one of the Sunday papers there for having stated that he had visited Chicago with a person of doubtful character. Damages estimated at $100,000.

— Portsmouth, Va., is said to be visited just now by numerous bears driven out of the Dismal Swamp by the "fire fiend." They have a more dismal prospect before them in Portsmouth.

— An exchange says that naughty boys in New York throw bricks at random. "Our Jim" says they throw bricks at other things, too; he was among the other things.

— On reading that there are not boys enough in Southern Indiana to consume the very large crops of corn now growing there, "Our Jim" says he wishes he was there.

— The late gale proved very destructive to oysters at Providence. $6,000 worth were destroyed in one bed. They should not have been permitted to rest in one bed so long.

— The game of base ball in Philadelphia, between the Athletics and Keystones, for the benefit of the Avondale sufferers, is said to have netted $516 38.

— A Hartford court has decided that it is not cruelty to animals to tie the legs of calves together. Guess the judge has never had his legs tied together.

— Aaron Algard, a burglar, has been sentenced to an imprisonment of seventeen years in the Eastern Penitentiary, Philadelphia.

— A croquet player, in England, recently got his ball through thirteen hoops without a break, and now bawls out that he is champion.

— Game is reported as being very plentiful in the Southern states. Partridges and turkeys were never more abundant in Virginia.

— The Grand Hotel, on Thirty-first street and Broadway, which is said to have cost $1,000,000, was opened on the 22d of Sept.

— Colonel Adam L. Bingaman, formerly a distinguished turfman and politician of Mississippi, died in New Orleans a few days ago, at the age of seventy-six years.

— A somewhat defective copy of the first edition of Shakespeare of 1628 fetched £33 at an auction sale in London.

— There are over a hundred vermicelli factories in Genoa, Italy, the produce of which comes mostly to this country.

— A Prof. Faber is to exhibit a speaking machine at Hamburg. It is said to articulate words, and even answer questions by simple sentences, with distinctness.

— Garnets and diamonds are found in Maine. We expect that, in the main, they will be found to lack the brilliancy that gives them a market value.

— A French savant has discovered a method by which he can "telegraph" a moral and studious disposition or habit into a child. Can't he "electrify" it into a man?

— A sperm whale, 50 feet long, was driven by the surf, and grounded on the beach of Kennebeck. Having got on, "Our Jim" says "Kin-he-back off?" Guess not.

— Wild turkeys, in fine condition, are to be found in great numbers in the Arkansas bottoms and canebrakes. Wish we were there.

— C. Batch, of Kalamazoo, Mich., has fifty-five swarms of Italian bees, of the fighting persuasion. Batch keeps them in cells, and then sells the honey they make.

— Joseph Whitworth, inventor of the Whitworth gun—but which is not worth a whit more than some of our guns, has been created a baronet.

— Mr. Bonner says that he will give $100,000 for any horse that will trot a mile in 2:21¾, to a road wagon, as Dexter has done. Here's a chance for breeders.

— A man died recently in Pike County, Pa., who weighed 611 pounds in his shroud. His three sons are said to aggregate over 1,100 pounds. Odd thing to weigh a man in.

— Sabina Maria de Lemos, who died some time ago in Brazil, at the age of 115 years, left over 300 descendants. Prodigious, or prolific, we don't care which.

— A pigeon recently flew against a telegraph wire at Grand Blanc, Mich., with such force as to cut off its head. This is worse than "cutting the pigeon wing."

— Notwithstanding the war, Cuba, it is expected, will produce 3,313,000 boxes of sugar, of 450 pounds each, and 365,000 hogsheads of molasses.

— The Engineers' Clam-Bake Association indulged in their annual dinner at Manhattanville, on Saturday, the 25th of Sept.

— A man in Greene County, N. Y., has no ears and pie-bald hair. He gathers sounds through the medium of his mouth.

— An effort is being made to introduce bass into the Susquehanna river. They don't see bass in that region often.

— Bathers in the Missouri, at St. Joseph, are highly esteemed as articles of diet by the alligators of that region.

— A large number of sharks are stopping off Newport beach. They are a little too late to be fashionable.

— A Frenchman has produced an instrument which draws a landscape as seen through a telescope.

— Prof. Judah Dana, of Rutland, has a copy of Virgil printed over three hundred years ago.

— Earthquakes are scaring the inhabitants on the western coast of South America.

— The philosopher of the Tribune has been presented with a thirty-eight pound watermelon. What a melon!

— The Cuban women have established military camps, dress in soldier costume, and fight game.

— It is estimated that there are printed in the states and territories 542 daily and 4,425 weekly newspapers.

— It takes $3,000,000 a year to defray the expenses of our metropolitan police service.

— Major Harma, an alleged Spanish spy, was cowhided by Col. Bran, in Wall street, on Sept. 22d.

— What is fame? Some of the papers, in speaking of Jem Mace, call him Tom.

— Mrs. Mary Allen, wife of the "Wickedest Man in New York," died in the city on Sept. 18th.

— A sparrow with three legs is said to have been caught in England lately.

— "FyNe Kut 2 bak oh" is the sign on a store in Denver.

— An exhibition of oil paintings is to be held at Rome during the sitting of the Ecumenical Council.

— Thirty-seven horses have been entered for the New Hampshire State Fair races.

— The Californian pioneers arrived in this city on the 24th of September.

— Chicago has two thousand professional thieves, and almost a city full of amateurs.

— Columbus, Miss., is excited over the appearance of four immense insects, supposed to be Egyptian locusts.

— There are eight silk mills in Mansfield, Conn.; the largest gives employment to from thirty to forty hands.

— Woodcocks are becoming very scarce all over the country.

THE TURF.

The Buckeye Association Fall Race Meeting at Cincinnati.

FIRST DAY, TUESDAY, SEPT. 21.

The fall race meeting of the Buckeye Association was inaugurated at Cincinnati on Tuesday, Sept. 21st, under the most favorable auspices. The weather was glorious, the attendance large and brilliantly fashionable, comprising the elite of the wealth and beauty of the society of the Queen City. The racing was of the highest quality, and the meeting will long be mem by C. Y. Brook's b g J. Conelly, beating owner's roan gelding Saltpetre in four heats, the latter winning the second. Time, 2:50¼; 2:47; 2:46; 2:45¼.

On the Union Course, on Monday, Sept. 20th, a match for $500, mile heats, best three in five, was trotted between Mr. Wilson's r g Roan Dick, in harness, and Hiram Howe's b m Eva, to wagon. The latter won the third heat, and Dick the first, second and fourth and the race. Time, 2:50; 2:51¼; 2:51½; 2:48.

The same day, and on the same course, a sweepstakes of $300, mile heats, best three in five, in harness, was trotted. The entries were L. C. Sammis' br m Hannah; J. Allen's b g Reilly; J. Page's b g Last Chance, and Mr. Pettit's b m, the two last being drawn. The first heat was dead, but Hannah won the next three in 2:43¾; 2:46; 2:47; 2:49.

THE NARRAGANSETT FALL TROTTING MEETING.—EXHIBILM ACTION OF THE ASSOCIATION.—The entries for the eight purses, $15,000 in value, given by the Narragansett Park Association, to be trotted for at their fall meeting, which commences Oct. 5th and continues four days, have closed, and are unusually numerous. For the $500 purse, for three minute horses, eleven horses have entered, and for the $2,000 purse, for double teams, there are seven entries. The $1,000 purse, for 2:45 horses, has twelve, and the 2:30 purse of $2,000 has sixteen entries, among them the familiar names of Daniel Boone, Locust, Sunprise, Belle of Brooklyn, Captain Gill, Old Put, Jessie Wales, White Fawn, etc. The $1,000 purse, for 2:40 horses, on the third day, has fourteen, and the $2,000 purse, for 2:23 horses, the same number. On the last day the $1,000 purse, for 2:50 trotters, has seventeen entries, while the great purse of $5,000, open for all horses, has the following six renowned fast trotters:—Lady Thorn, Lucy, American Girl, Goldsmith Maid, George Palmer and Rhode Island. It is with pleasure we observe that this association has come to the conclusion, for the future, not to receive any entry of a horse for any purse that is without a name. This sensible resolution will go far to remove the confusion and doubt that starting unnamed horses has occasioned, and we trust other associations will follow the example.

GOLDSMITH MAID AND AMERICAN GIRL.—These two fast mares are traveling around the country, and contending for the valuable purses that agricultural associations find it their interest to offer for the best horses at their annual fairs. At the Binghampton, N. Y. Fair, held on the Driving Park, these two mares, on Sept. 16th, contended for the $4,000 purse, open to all horses; Goldsmith Maid winning in three straight heats in 2:26¾; 2:25; 2:27¼. The track is a half mile only, and not a fast one. At Scranton, Pa., on Sept. 22d, Goldsmith Maid was again victorious over American Girl, for the $5,000 purse offered them by the association.

SWEEPSTAKES TROT.—On the 14th instant a trot for a sweepstakes of $150, mile heats, three in five, in harness, came off over the Mystic Park Course, Boston, between Wm. H. Woodruff's b g Centreville and Mr. Call's br g blk g Kangaroo. Fanchon had also been entered, but in consequence of an injury received the night previous had to be withdrawn. Centreville won with the utmost ease in three straight heats. Time, 2:36; 2:37; 2:36.

BASE BALL.

"BASE" BALL PLAY.

GROSS IMPOSITION UPON A NEW YORK PAPER.

We fear that the base ball fraternity are committing some very unprincipled people to themselves in among them. Elsewhere, in this CLIPPER, we publish an article which recently appeared in the Albany Evening Journal, in regard to a very questionable practices of certain ball players as referred to and properly commented upon; but the latest piece of roguery which has been brought to our notice is that of a shameful fraud perpetrated upon the Sunday Mercury, of this city, in its issue of Sept. 26th. In last week's CLIPPER was given our decision in the Gold Ball question, the trophy being awarded to the Athletic Club, of Philadelphia, who honorably won it in the face of every species of antagonism. That decision was given to the public, in the CLIPPER, on the morning of Tuesday, Sept. 21st. Great was our surprise, therefore, to find in the New York Sunday Mercury, of Sept. 26th, the following article in its base ball department:—

"THE GOLD BALL DISPUTE.—We have received the following communication from Mr. Frank Queen in relation to the gold ball contest, Athletic vs. Mutual:—

NEW YORK, Sept. 23d, 1869.

EDITORS N. Y. SUNDAY MERCURY.—In regard to the dispute which is at present going on (I allude to that between the Athletic Base Ball Club, of Philadelphia, and the Mutual Base Ball Club, of New York), I wish to settle the matter and relieve all anxiety of friends of the clubs, by stating that their late matches were not for the gold ball held by me. At first I had thought that my meaning the winner of the two games the ball; but having heard, from reliable information, that the match played in Philadelphia, on the same occasion being, I wish to make mention of this fact through other papers than the CLIPPER. Yours truly, FRANK QUEEN."

From beginning to end the whole thing is a mean, contemptible imposition upon our Sunday contemporary, which has thus been made the vehicle for deceiving the public. We pronounce the card a despicable forgery, the character of which could at once have been easily ascertained by the editor of that paper, had he taken the trouble to consult his base ball reporter, who is well acquainted with our hand-writing. What motive the forger could have had for practicing such a deception upon the Mercury, we are at a loss to comprehend, for such a paper has done nothing that we are aware of to excite the ire of evil-disposed hangers-on of base ball clubs, much less induce forgers to make it the medium for perpetrating such a wrong upon its base ball readers and the public at large. Not satisfied with using the Mercury for his dishonest purposes, the forger attempts to convey the impression that the Mutual and Athletic Clubs had had an understanding how the game of Sept. 8th was to go. Could human depravity go further? Our contemporary owes it to itself and to its readers to ferret out the individual or individuals, who has, or who have so grossly imposed upon it, and to bring the guilty parties to the bar of public opinion.

OLYMPIC vs. EXCELSIOR.

Last week the Knickerbocker and Excelsiors made arrangements, so it is said, to play a third and deciding game in Washington, D. C., but the Knickerbockers did not put in an appearance. The Excelsiors, however, went to Washington, and played a game with the Olympics on Sept. 24th, and were badly defeated. They had several substitutes on their nine, else they had done better. Their fielding was very poor, and they found it impossible to bat the pitching of Leach. The Olympics did not play their usual fielding game, allowing their opponents to score eight runs up to the eighth innings, solely on errors; at the bat, however, they were excellent, batting Peters all over the field safely, yet making five home runs. Quite a number of runs were given them by errors of the Excelsiors. The play of Dohrman at short, Thompson at second, and G. Chauncey at first, was excellent. On the part of the Olympics, that of Leach, Malone, Reach, and Force, was commendable. The New Yorkers were surprised to find so strong a nine as that presented by the Olympics. The Excelsiors were shown about the city by a committee of the Olympics, and seemed well pleased with all they saw. Below we append the score:—

OLYMPIC.	H. L.	R.	1st B.	T.	EXCELSIOR.	H. L.	R.	1st B.	T.
Force, 3d b.....	1	6	4	8	G. Chauncey, 1 b	4	0	0	0
Reach, s.s.....	5	3	3	3	Moore, c f.....	3	1	1	2
Malone, c.....	6	2	2	5	Thompson, 2d b	3	1	1	2
Young, r f.....	3	5	6	9	Dohrman, s s.....	4	1	2	2
Hurley, 2d b.....	2	6	7	15	D. Chauncey, l f..	3	2	2	4
Leslie, c f.....	3	3	3	7	Leach, 3d b.....	5	0	1	1
Miller, 1st b.....	2	5	6	6	Miller, c.....	3	2	2	3
Robinson, l f.....	2	5	5	7	Young, r f.....	4	1	0	0
Leech, p.....	2	4	5	5	Peters, p.....	1	3	1	1
Totals.....	27	38	37	58	Totals.....	27	13	9	14

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Olympics.....	7	4	9	6	3	9	2	12	3—38
Excelsior.....	1	0	2	3	0	0	2	5	1—13

Fly catches—Miller, 1; Hurley, 1; Force, 1; Malone, 2; Robinson, 1—6. Lockit, 2; Dohrman, 2; Miller, 2; D. Chauncey, 3; Moore, 1; Leach, 1—11. Base play—Put out by—Miller, 3; Hurley, 3; Force, 2—8. Assisted by—Hurley, 3; Force, 2; Reach, 2; Malone, 1; Leslie, 1—9. Put out—By G. Chauncey, 7; Thompson, 5; Lockit, 1—13. Assisted by—Thompson, 3; Dohrman, 2; Double play—Hurley Miller, 1; Force and Miller, 1; Thompson and G. Chauncey, 1. Home runs—Robinson, 1; Force, 1; Young, 1; Hurley 2. Umpire—O. L. Hart, Union B. B. C. Scorers—Messrs. Miller and Holt. Time of game—Two hours and twenty minutes.

EXCELSIOR vs. NATIONAL.

On Sept. 25th, the Excelsiors were the guests of the Nationals, who had returned that morning from their northern trip, minus one man, and with another so disabled as not to be able to play. Very few people were out to witness the game, supposing the Nationals would be defeated. But they put into the nine, Billy Williams, their old pitcher, and Fiedler, another old player, and won the game by great odds. Their trip had improved their batting, and despite the changes made by the Excelsiors, they batted tremendously, many being long, safe hits beyond the fielders. Their fielding was good, but very few errors being made. Williams never pitched more effectively in his life. Shelby's play at third was as pretty a thing that he can play if he will. The Excelsiors played worse than on the previous day. Their fielding was loose, and wild throwing abundant. They could not bat Williams, and seemed entirely demoralized in the sixth and seventh innings, when by some terrible batting, aided on the bases by loose fielding, the Nationals scored thirty-one runs to one for themselves. National stock is up again. The game was called on the seventh innings, on account of the darkness. Below is the score:—

NATIONAL.	H. L.	R.	1s.	T.	EXCELSIOR.	H. L.	R.	1s.	T.
Fox, 1st b.....	3	7	4	9	G.Chauncey, 1st b	1	2	2	2
Forker, c.....	5		3	3	Dohrman, s s.....	2	2	0	0
Leak, ss.....	0	6	6	6	Miller, c.....	3	2	1	1
Shelly, 3 d b.....	4	5		5	Thompson, 2d b..3		1	2	2
"Brown," 2d b..	3	5	9	9	Lockit, c f.....	3	0	1	1
Studley, l f.....	3	4	6	6	D. Chauncey, l f..	3	0	1	1
Joyce, r f.....	3	4	5	5	Eddy, 2d b.....	2	2	1	1
Fletcher, c.....	2		4	5	Moore, r f.....	1	3	0	0
Williams, ...	0		4	4	Peters, p.....	3	0	0	0
Totals.....	31	38	40	52	Totals.....	21	11	8	8

Clean home runs—Fox, 1. Fly catches—"Brown," 3; Williams, 1; Forker, 1; Studley, 2; Fletcher, 1; Joyce, 1—9; G. Chauncey, 1; Eddy, 2; Dohrman, 2; Miller, 2; D. Chauncey, 3—10. Base play—Put out by Fox, 7; "Brown," 2—9; assisted by "Brown," 2; Shelly, 3; Leak, 1; Williams, 2; Fletcher, 1—9. Put out by G. Chauncey, 1; Eddy, 2; Peters, 7—9; assisted by Eddy, 3; Dohrman, 3; Peters, Lockett, 1—7. Umpire—Mr. Robinson, of the Olympic Club. Scorers—Messrs. Fabis and Young. Time of game—Two hours fifteen minutes.

ATLANTIC vs. STAR.

The meeting between these clubs, on the 25th ult., for the benefit of the Avondale Fund, did not attract the crowd that was expected. Through the want of foresight of those getting the game up very little publicity was given to the affair, and hence the meagre attendance. Those who were fortunate enough to be present, however, were treated to a fine display. The Atlantics played without Zettlein, Chapman pitching, and Charley Hunt going in as substitute. Up to the seventh innings the Stars held the lead, but the Atlantics settled to their work in the last three innings, scoring 14 runs, while the Stars only made five. The game was a pretty display, and the Atlantics had all they wanted to do to win a ball from the crack amateurs. The score is appended:—

ATLANTIC.	H. L.	R.	STARS.	H. L.	R.
Pierce, s s.....	5	2	Rogers, l f.....	2	3
Start, 1st b.....	3	2	Jewell c.....	4	2
Smith, 3d b.....	3	1	Dollard, s s.....	5	2
Chapman, p.....	5	1	Hunt, 2d b.....	2	2
Ferguson c.....	4	1	Cummings, p.....	3	1
Crane, 2d b.....	3	2	Hall, r f.....	3	0
Hunt, l f.....	3	0	Byrne, 1st b.....	4	1
Pike, c f.....	3	3	Worth, c f.....	3	2
McDonald, r f.....	3	3	Manley, 3d b.....	1	1
Total.....		17	Total.....		13

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Atlantic.....	1	0	1	0	0	1	7	4	3—17
Star.....	1	0	0	0	0	0	5	1	1—13

Umpire—Mr. Hatfield, Mutual Club. Time of game—one hour and forty minutes.

THE AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP.—On the 30th, at the Union Ground, the Stars and Orientals will contend for the junior championship.

"RED STOCKINGS" VS. EAGLE.—The first game played by the "Red Stockings" since their arrival in San Francisco, Cal., took place on the 25th ult., their opponents being the Eagle club. Some two thousand persons were present at the Recreation Grounds. The game fell to the lot of the Cincinnatians by a score of 35 to 4.

UNIQUE vs. LONE STAR.

The home and home game of the match between these crack colored clubs, the former of Williamsburgh and the latter of Harlem, came off at Rockaway Hunt on Sept. 23d. The Uniques, who have held the championship for a number of seasons, were vanquished, much to the surprise and disgust of their adherents. The Lone Stars talk of going to Philadelphia to contend with the Pithians. We append the score:—

LONE STAR.	H. L.	R.
J. Williams, s s.....	3	1
E. Williams, 2d b.....	3	1
Nichols, c.....	3	1
Baker, r f.....	3	1
Miles, 1st b.....	3	1
O. Williams, l f.....	3	1
Murray, r f.....	3	0
R. Williams, 3d b.....	3	1
Stephenson, p.....	3	1
Total.....		8

UNIQUE.	H. L.	R.
Newman, 1st b.....	3	1
Fagan, 2d b.....	4	0
Rogers, s s.....	5	0
Hamilton, c f.....	4	0
Baker, l f.....	4	1
D. Mabey, c.....	4	1
Hamilton, r f.....	4	2
Gilbert, c.....	4	0
Raymond, 3d b.....	4	0
Total.....		5

Umpire—Mr. Jackson, of the Ocean Club. Time of game—One hour and thirty minutes.

ECKFORD vs. UNION.

At Fremont, on Sept. 21st, the Eckfords and Unions had a game, with the result as appended:—

UNION.	H. L.	R.	ECKFORD.	H. L.	R.
Haines, s s.....	1	1	Allison, 1st b.....	4	1
Lyons, p.....	3	1	Simons n. s s.....	3	1
Austin, c.....	3	1	Martin, p.....	2	1
Baker, r f.....	2	2	Nelson, 3d b.....	4	1
Reynolds, 2d b.....	1	3	Hodes, l f.....	3	4
Welsburgh, c f.....	4	0	Eggler, c f.....	2	3
Smith, 1st b.....	4	0	Tracy, 3d b.....	2	3
Ten Eyck, l f.....	2	2	Pinkham, c.....	0	4
Whelan, 3d b.....	1	1	Emmet, r f.....	4	0
Total.....		11	Total.....		18

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Union.....	0	1	0	0	2	3	5	6	—11
Eckford.....	4	0	3	1	4	5	—18

Umpire—Mr. Valentine, of the Athlete Club.

ATHLETIC vs. OLYMPIC.

These well known Philadelphia Clubs played the first game of a new series on the 25th ult. The result was a handsome victory for the Athletics, as per subjoined score:—

ATHLETIC.	H. L.	R.	1st B.	T.	OLYMPIC.	H. L.	R.	1st B.	T.
Reach, 2d b.....	5	3	3	3	Kerr, 2d b.....	1	2	2	2
Meyerle, 3d b.....	4	3	3	3	Mellitus, 1st b..	3	1	1	1
Meyerle, c.....	3	4	3	10	Berke, s s.....	3	1	1	1
Sensenderfer, l f..	3	2	2	3	Lovett, p.....	4	0	0	0
Sensenderfer, c f..	3	2	3	3	Severs, 1st b..	3	0	0	0
Radcliff, 1st b.....	3	1	1	1	Oram, l f.....	3	0	0	0
Reach, r f.....	3	1	1	1	Clinton, c f.....	3	1	1	1
Fisler, c.....	3	1	1	2	Miller, c.....	3	1	1	1
Total.....	37	18	21		Eckendorff, r f..	3	1	1	1
					Totals.....	27	7	8	10

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Athletics.....	3	2	3	2	1	1	0	1	5—18
Olympics.....	0	0	0	2	0	3	0	0	2—7

Umpire—Mr. Halbach, of the Keystone. Time of game—Two hours.

PASTIME vs. PASTIME.

The Pastime Club, of Richmond, Va., visited Baltimore on Sept. 23d, and played a game with their namesakes in the afternoon, the result of which was as below given:

PASTIME (A.)	H. L.	R.	PASTIME (B.)	H. L.	R.
Keefe, c.....	0	2	Babcock, 1st b.....	2	3
Bailey, ss.....	0	3	Tuomallason, c.....	3	2
Sandel, 2d b.....	0	3	Edwards, 2d b.....	3	3
Campbell, 3d b.....	0	3	Geniz, 3d b.....	3	3
Gardner, l f.....	1	3	Jarvis, s s.....	4	3
Dunbar, c f.....	1	3	Hinchman, p.....	2	3
Miller, r f.....	1	3	Davidson, l f.....	3	2
Jones, 1st b.....	1	3	Fahlney, r f.....	3	2
Bowden, p.....	0	3	Kielhoits, c f.....	1	1
Total.....		24	Total.....		13

Umpire—Ed. Mincher, of the Maryland. Scorers—Messrs. Young and Riddlet. Time of game—Two hours and thirty minutes.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.—The Olives and Pioneers played a return game at Camden, N. J., on the 16th of Sept., the former scoring 50 to 2.....The Excelsiors defeated the Sirrats at Buffalo, N. Y., on the 18th of Sept.; score, 20 to 20.....The Shooting Stick and Em Quad clubs, composed of typos, tried their skill at Reading, Pa., on the 18th of Sept., the former winning by a score of 35 to 20.....The Somersets defeated the Pastimes, of Boston, 24 to 12, on the 18th ult.....The first game of a series between the Selreaf and Scientific clubs, of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., was played on the grounds of that institution on the 18th ult., the former proving victorious by totals of 32 to 28.....The Red Caps "warped" the Manhattans, of the metropolis, on the 21st ult. D. D. Edward Smith, Alden S. Swan; Coxswain, George Roahr. The Empires and the Eurekas met each other at Hoboken, N. J., on the 19th ult., the former winning by a score of 14 to 6.....On the 17th ult. the Occidental, Jr., beat the Dexter club at Quincy, Ill., by a score of 61 to 35.....The Osceola and Social clubs, of Pittsburgh, met each other on the 18th ult., when the former won by a tally of 25 to 14.....The Amateur and Atlantic clubs played a game at Waverley, N. J., on the 24th ult., the former scoring 38 to 9.....The Confidence club, Juniors, of New Rochelle, N. Y., express a desire to play any junior club in New York or Brooklyn.....On the 23d ult. the employees of the Singer and Studebaker manufacturing companies, of South Bend, Ind., tried their hands at ball tossing, but the "Singers" not being "up to snuff," not make "base" enough and had to take a back seat. The employees of the Studebaker are pretty good on the "bawl," which explains why they made 64 to 48.

TOURNAMENT AT GALLIPOLIS, OHIO.—Last week a premium of $50 was awarded for base ball playing at the Gallipolis Fair Grounds. The contest resulted in a victory for the Gallia Club, of Gallipolis. The following is the result of the games played and names of the clubs:—

First Game—Actives, of Thevenin, 33; Clippers, of Gallipolis, 31.

Second Game—Gallia, of Gallipolis, 20; Champion, of Point Pleasant, 11. Five innings.

Third game—Enterprise, of Middleport, 52; Vegetes, of Middleport, 30. Five innings.

Fourth Game—Gallia, of Gallipolis, 11; Enterprise of Middleport, 7. Four innings.

Fifth Game—Gallia, of Gallipolis, 9; Actives, of Thevenin, 0. Two innings. Game called on account of rain, which rendered the grounds unfit to play on.

CHAMPION VS. GOTHAM.—This game, played at Jersey City, on the 21st, resulted as follows:—

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	T.
Champions.....	2	4	0	5	2	4	10	—27
Gothams.....	0	0	0	2	5	8	2	—15

Umpire—Mr. Layman, of the Social Club.

POWHATANS VS. ATHLETE.—The Pow-wows walked off with the Washington Heighters on the 23d. The Pow-Pows only had seven men, but, even with this disadvantage, the Athletes were nowhere, as the following score of innings will show:—

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Powhatans.....	1	1	4	4	1	3	9	6	—29
Athlete.....	1	3	0	1	2	4	0	1	—13

RESOLUTE VS. COMMUNIPAW.—The Jersey Elizabeth boys scooped up the Communipaws on the 24th, as follows:—

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th
Resolute.....	4	3	26	8	6	7	12	8	—69
Communipaw.....	2	2	3	3	2	1	1	3	—18

Umpire—Wm. Davis, of the Pacific Club.

TWO NINES from the New York Post Office—Carriers and Distributing Clerks respectively—played a game at Hoboken, on the 23d ult., which resulted in the C.'s scoring 16 to 15, six innings only being contested.

THE GRAMERCYS defeated the Flyaways, of New York, on the 24th ult., for that disputed title the Junior Championship. Scored—Gramercy, 15; Flyaway, 10.

CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH.—The return game of the Eckford-Atlantic match will take place at the Union Ground on the 4th prox.

BILLIARDS.

CONTEST FOR $200.—HEWINS VS. BENJAMIN.—Ralph Benjamin, of Portchester, N. Y., and M. H. Hewins, of Hartford, who had played several matches at the American game, for the first time tried conclusions at the three-ball game on the 21st ult. The scene of the contest was BixBy's billiard hall, in Meriden, Conn. The number of points was 150, and the stake $100 dollars a side. For the first 125 the game was very close, appearing to be either man's; but thenceforward Benjamin almost stood still, and at the finish was 20 points behind. The average of the winner was about one and a half. Not satisfied with the result of this game, Mr. Benjamin proposed two others, each for $100 a side, one to take place in Portchester, and the other in Meriden. Hewins was nothing loth, and therefore the games will be played. They are to consist of the same number of points as that of the 21st.

THE CHAMPION IN WASHINGTON.—Miller's room, Washington, was thronged, on the night of the 22d, to witness a friendly bout between Champion Deery and Michael Phelan. The game was unusually interesting throughout, and the players were frequently applauded. Mr. Phelan, though he made no large runs, played with remarkable steadiness, as the score below shows, and at last won by 14 points:—

Phelan.—27, 18, 36, 33, 63, 51, 50, 18, 0, 0, 60, 45, 30, 0, 12, 18, 3, 3, 24, 21, 8; total, 500. Average, 25 17-21.

Deery.—9, 36, 0, 12, 15, 57, 6, 54, 3, 9, 21, 163, 3, 3, 9, 0, 21, 15, 12, 33; total, 458. Average, 24 3-10.

The exhibition was brought to a close by Deery making a number of fancy shots.

A BASE BALLIST AT BILLIARDS.—The "Red Stockings" happened to be in Omaha, en route to California, during the Nebraska billiard tournament, and the Republican, of that city, speaks as follows of Brainard's achievements with the cue:—"Last evening John W. Coon crossed cues in a friendly game of French caroms with Asa Brainard, the gentlemanly pitcher of the 'Red Stockings,' who is almost as familiar with ivory balls as the one he handles so skillfully in the field. The game was very close, Coon winning by about five points, in a game of 100. The playing of both parties was graceful, but Coon failed in his usual precision and accuracy."

BILLIARDS WITHOUT CUES.—IMPORTANT MATCH PROPOSED.—James Ward, the celebrated Canadian pigeon shot, has issued the following challenge:—

Having been informed by Mr. Alex. Beecher that when he was in Montreal last week, Mr. Joseph Dion stated to him that he would play me five games of billiards without the cue, each party to play with his hand, for one thousand dollars each game, and play on a carom table, push shot not barred, one hundred points up, and give me the break each game, if Mr. Dion will play me five games for $200 each game, and play in Toronto, one month from this date, a match can be made by calling on or writing to Mr. Jas. Carson, King street, Toronto. JAS. WARD.

TORONTO, Sept. 22d, 1869.

OPENING.—The billiard rooms of Courtlandt Cadmus, situated in the Ayres Block, Memphis, Tenn., were on the 16th ult. thrown open to the public. The proceeds were devoted to the Southern Historical and Relief Association, through the kindness of the proprietor, and some $200 was realized. The establishment is elegantly fitted up, and contains twelve tables, in addition to saloon, and club and reading rooms.

ILLNESS OF MELVIN FOSTER.—This expert had a narrow escape from being carried off by cholera morbus, on the 23d ult. He was attacked at his room in New London, on the night of the 22d, and it was feared would not recover. He still lives, however, and will challenge the winner of the next match for the cue.

TOURNAMENT FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF VERMONT.—There is to be a tournament for the championship of the Green Mountain State shortly. There will be three prizes.

HEWINS' ROOM IN HARTFORD.—The opening of Mattie Hewins' room has been deferred. It will take place on the 6th inst. The Connecticut champion will be assisted on the occasion by John Deery, Michael Phelan, Gershom B. Hubbell, Melvin Foster, M. Wallahan and Frank Dennison.

NEW ROOM IN BROOKLYN.—A room with ten Phelan and Collender tables has just been opened by Mr. G. Van Cleaf in Fulton avenue, near Navy street, Brooklyn.

76 AMITY STREET.—Handsomely furnished rooms to let, with board, to married or single persons. First-class house, and terms moderate. Apply to MRS. HYATT, 76 Amity street, corner Thompson. 26-1t*

AQUATICS.

FOUR-OARED MATCH RACE.

On Thursday, September 23d, the La Favorita Boat Club, of Hackensack, and the Dundee Boat Club, of Paterson, N. J., had a four-oared race in outrigger gigs, with coxswains, on Dundee lake, a beautiful sheet of water, which is formed by a dam across the Passaic river, of which placid stream the lake is a portion. It is located about two miles from Paterson, the horse cars conveying one to it every fifteen minutes, and is one of the most perfect courses for rowing in the vicinity of New York, especially for shell boats. Hills divides Passaic and Bergen counties, and upon either bank are tasty and comfortable homesteads. On the day of the race the ladies of these two counties, in beautiful and fashionable attire, escorted by spruce cavaliers, were out in their greatest array to witness the regatta. The respective colors of the clubs—crimson for La Favorita and white for the Dundees—resplendent the crimson and white bunting in the adjoindant New York City also contributed liberally toward the assemblage, her amateur pedestrian clubs being especially well represented among the throng. For half an hour previous to the start the lake and its surroundings presented a scene of beauty well calculated to rivet one's attention and challenge his admiration. Lines of vehicles stretched upon the banks, the bridge crossing the lake was filled with people, and, better than all, the character and respectability of the audience was a proud and handsome tribute to the popular cause of amateur oarsmanship.

The race originated in an invitation from the Dundee Club, for a prize of five gold badges, presented by Mr. E. T. Bell, Cashier of the First National Bank, of Paterson. The course was from Sherwood Island, near the bridge, to a stake-boat near the dam and return, making about two and one-half miles. It was nearly half-past 4 P. M. when the boats were called into line.

Dundee Boat Club entered the Winona, rowed by James A. Beckwith, stroke; John C. Paulison, George H. Low, Isaac Newton, Jr., bow; coxswain, Robert J. Hopper; blue handkerchiefs, white shirts; boat 38 feet long, 32 inches wide; weight 1,150 pounds. La Favorita Boat Club entered the Favorita, rowed by Garet M. Campbell, stroke; Henry B. Zabriskie, George Ricardo, Cornelius Myers, bow; coxswain, S. R. Cumming; white caps, crimson shirts; boat 38 feet long, 30 inches wide; weight 145 pounds. At the word "go" a good start was had, the Dundees a shade the best of the send-off. They, however, rowed well together, showing the good tuition of their trainer, James O'Neill, of Troy. The La Favoritas, who had the call in the wagers, started up poorly, not catching the water together, and one of them in the waist of the boat, whipping his oar soon after the start. After they settled down to their work they rowed in better form, but in the interim the Dundees had opened a gap of clear water, which, barring accident, already insured them the race. The Favoritas struggled on to the upper stake-boat, which they reached a little closer to their competitors than they were soon after the start; but when the Dundees were fairly headed for home they gradually dropped the La Favoritas more and more astern, until they finally crossed the score, a good distance ahead, in 18:38, thirty-five seconds in advance of the La Favorita. Just before the start in this race any spectator could note a fact which frequently occurs in boat racing. We allude to the difference in a crew's rowing alone, and in a race. The La Favoritas launched first, and in their preliminary pull, before going into line, rowed well together, and were apparently cool and self possessed. The moment they started, however, all was unnecessary excitement and confusion; the boat was not on an even keel for two hundred yards, and the stroke was not followed in time and unison. The boys in crimson also looked towards and watched the Dundees too much, instead of looking inboard and attending to "biz." If the La Favorita had been pulled as well at the start as in practice, while taking a "little turn" over the lake it would have been a tight race to the upper stake-boat, and a great deal closer one at the finish.

The Winona is the property of the Hudson Boat Club, of Jersey City, one of the best clubs attached to the Hudson Amateur Rowing Association, who, with that courtesy which exists at all times among the amateur boating fraternity, loaned her to the Dundee Club. She was well rowed, and the victory reflected great credit upon the Dundees, Dundee's true blue colors. They must now select two more good men and true from their ranks, and place a six-oared gig crew in the next annual regatta of the New Jersey Boating Association, on the Passaic. Both boats were built by George Roahr.

The La Favoritas were accompanied over the course by a four-oared crew of the Atalanta champion six, consisting of Dr. S. Trusdell Witherell, M. D., Edward Smith, Alden S. Swan; Coxswain, George Roahr. The excellent oarsmanship exhibited by these athletic gentlemen attracted general attention and praise. The Dundee's were escorted throughout the race by the olden time four-oared shell, Stranger, rowed by John J. Eckerson, William Burns, alias "Blinze," Richard D. Doyle, and John C. Bennett, of the Columbia Boat Club. The latter excellent amateur attended to the "traveler" in fine style, as she carried no coxswain, steering the "old veteran" as true as a die. "Black Jack," as he is familiarly termed by his friends, gave the shell that good old stroke which won so many victories in days agone, on the Charles River and other courses. The exercise made our old friend a "little tired," the same long stroke, the recovery, and quiet feather was "all there," as natural and perfect as ever. The sight of the Stranger revived the days of her pristine glories, when the famous "Poughkeepsie crew," composed of Bill Stevens, stroke, Homer Wooden, Le Roy, and Zeke Beneway, used to shake the "big boat" up as lively as if she was a water witch.

The Eclipse boat Club, of Paterson, N. J., was organized in September, 1868, and is consequently but one year old. Notwithstanding their youth they are one of the best clubs in the land, and a credit to the boating fraternity of the country. They have, at present, eight active members, with the following list of officers:—President, J. F. Bolce; Vice President, J. A. Beckwith; Secretary, Robert J. Hopper; Treasurer, George H. Lowe. They have a handsome boat house on Lake Dundee, fifty feet by fifteen, for the stowage of their boats, and a wing used as a meeting room, eighteen feet by twenty. Their boats consist of the eight oared gunwale barge Dundee, and four or five single and double scull oars.

The La Favorita Boat Club, of Hackensack, N. J., was organized in May, 1867, with John J. Berry, for President, and David Achenbach, as Secretary and Treasurer. Messrs. S. R. Cumming, Garret M. Campbell, John Bogart, and T. Achenbach, were also the prominent founders of the club. From the outset of their prosperous career they have occupied an influential position with the amateur boating fraternity, and few of the clubs who date only from 1867, fill to-day, as unenviable a position as the La Favorita Boat Club. They are now erecting, and have nearly completed, one of the best and most spacious boat houses in this vicinity. It is located on the landing of the Hackensack river, in that beautiful town, and is fifty-six feet long, by thirty wide, and will be fitted up and finished in the style. They have now quite a fleet of superior boats, consisting of a six oared gig, two four oared gigs, two single scull shells, three single scull working boats and five double scull boats.

With a full roll of members, whose social position is beyond cavil, and whose rowing enthusiasm cannot be dampened by one or a half dozen defeats, but whose motto is "Don't give up the ship!" the La Favoritas are bound to win a good place among our crack rowing clubs. We are pleased to record this fact, and are still more gratified to indite that they are of the right mettle, and have a little more ambition and healthy aspiration than to sink exclusively into the innovating custom of lady or barge rowing.

Judges for the Dundee—Commodore Casimer Tag and B. Wheeler Hoxsey. Judges for the La Favorita—Commodore David Banks, Jr., and John H. Lindsey. Referee—Thomas Fearon.

CHALLENGE FROM FEARON TO WITHERS.

That fine amateur sculler, Thos. Fearon, anxious to bring about the solution of an aquatic problem of much interest to the oarsmen of this vicinity, sends us the subjoined communication:—

DR. RUSSEL WITHERS, CHAMPION OF THE ATALANTA CLUB.—DEAR SIR.—Many of our mutual friends, who were disappointed in our not appearing as contestants, at the recent regatta of the H. R. A., are anxious to see a race between us. The present is the most favorable time of the year for rowing. From our recent training we are both in good condition. Our personal intercourse is and has always been of the pleasantest character, and affords a guarantee of honorable dealing. A fair and square race over the same course and in the same boats which we used on the 20th of May

WHY DO WE LIVE?

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.

Why do we live who wish to die?
Why do we care not life in woe?
Why do we in misery sigh?
When death were fain to undergo.

In sin we live, all mortals answer,
And living know that make our fall
If we of sin be free
Or in celestial regions dwell.

Yet, oh, to me, 'tis far better far,
With every dread of future life,
To cast aside this pining car
And end this heart's foreboding strife.

This sad, and heart, without relief,
Tossing on the waves of fate;
No tear responsive to its grief;
Still loving one, whom love is hate.

Annie, adieu! my dreams I'll give
The happy home adorned by thee
But mocks the blissful days of yore,
And lonely, speaks of gloom and me.

—A. LEONARD.

VALKING UB BROADWAY.—No. 2.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.

BY OOFTY GOOFT.

Sharley, you hafe peen so use to geh down dot you can'd look ub any more. Sid ub sh'wans in der vaggon, hold ub your head ub, keep a shdiff ubber lib und made der vorld pelief dot you are somepody. Don'd nefer say vife, efen of your leid eye is kicked out. Dot's der vay. Of you dink you are somepody yourself id von'd be long pefore der vorld vilt dink so doo. Gife yourself a shance. You don'd know vat you can do undil der dime comes. Many a lawyer in dis town cood make handy of money schoving claims inshtead of shdanding to death vaiting for a client. I dell you, Sharley, a man can be anyding he vants to of he vill oney make his mind ub. Look at some of der shmardest men of der dimes—see how dey god along. Some of our vealdiest men hafe seen der dime dot of shdeamboads vas selling for a shilin abiece dey could'd buy a gang blank. I hafe been dere myself, bud I oney shdaid a leetle vile. "I vood nod leef always" dot vay. Look shdraight ahead—dot's der vay. Peeble may crowl a leetle ad you ad first ed, bud dey vill pegin do like id after a vile, und dink dot id is nadural. I don'd vant you do holt ub your shnoot, Sharley—I oney vant you do hold ub your head. Don'd dink eferybody is any bedder than you are—don'd dink you are any bedder as eferypody else—oney dink dot you are chust so goot.

Now, here comes a man dot has made himself. He needn'd dank anypody. Dis is der Honorapie John Morrissey, Memper of Congress, und he is Honorapie, doo. Peebie may dalk so much as dey like bout his pein' a fighter; he has god more manly honor in his leedle toe dan half of der men in Washington has in der hole podies. In Vall und Proad shdreets his vord is chust so goot as a dwendy dollar gold piece, und id vill pass chusd so gwick und gwicker, cause gold eferybiece is so scarce now a days peebie vood be afrait of dem. Yes, sir, John Morrissey is a man dot has made himself, und he don'd owe der vorld a cend nor any von he'd. He's a shark, shrewd pisness man, und however much prayin' peebles may shgweal, he don'd do as some of dem do, bray und holler all day sunday und shdeal like der dem all der veek. Dot's relichion now a days, Sharley. Dot's early piety.

Here comes a nice young feller, bud he is gidding so shdoud dot of he keebs on he vill hafe to hafe his vaggon made vider. Dis is young George Law, son of old George Law. George is a gveed, easy-goin' young feller; likes a good horse, und alvays takes care do hafe von. I don'd know so much about him now as I use do ad von dime, cause I don'd see him so often as I use do. I bresume dot he has aldered any, and he is as good a feller now as he efer vas. George use do bay der banjo poody vell von dime, und he vas a leedle on der sing, doo. He cood sing a nice song; many und many dimes I heerd him und Billy Gaspor, mit der Secor boys, coming down Pifd Avnue of a giear, moonlide nide, sing "Come vere my loaf lies dreaming," und dey cood sing id, doo. Der peebles all knew who dey vas, und ven dey vood came along der vinders vood go ub und der young ladies vood shdick deir heads oud in der neglige und clab deir hands. Sharley, neglige, dot's a French vord, und id means nighd shird sans, nighd, und lige, shird. Ven you know French den you'll be easy to von—see? Gread head I hafe god, young feller; dere is more in id as a fine deeth comb vood dook oud. Goot day, George.

Here comes George McGrath—Alderman McGrath—I peg his pardon, I didn'd habben do dink of his didle. You hafe heerd dot ballad, "Ven I can read my didle glear," hafen'd you? Vell, George can read his didle glear to der Aldermanic shair of der Fourdeend Aldermanic Disdrict forefer, und a couble days longer, of he vants do. Sharley, dey say, "Of you vant to kill a man bolidically, make him der Alderman of der disdrict he leefs in," bud whoever dried do kill George McGrath dot vay vas looney, cause he is sdronger now as he efer vas, und der beeples likes him bedder und bedder efery day. He is von of dese kind of men dot of he can do anyding for a young feller or a old feller, he vill do id, und of he can't, he won't bromise, bud he vill say right away dot he can'd do id, dot id is impossible. Dot's de vay he makes his friends—you can peleef him ven he tolds you anyding, und ven he says "No," den you can go und shwore dot he can'd do id, neider. Bolidicians, as a cheneral ding, I romise more dan dey can fulfull, and dey gid in a hole der first ding dey know. "Come und see me nexd Dursday, und I vill hafe it fixed all righd," is blayed oud—der boys hafe drobbed on id. George nefer bromises, Sharley, mitoud makin goot.

Sharley, I must gid oud of der vaggon und take hands mit dis gendleman coming down der road. Dis is von of der men I god a good deal of dealins mit, he is von of my Filadelfia friends, Mister Livingston, der wool dealer, from der Cidy of Broderly Loaf, und ven I say he is a fine man und a berfecd gendleman der vords aind half sdrong enuff do mean vat I vant to say. He is of der firm of Taussig, Livingston und Co., of Soud Front shdreed, in Filadelfia. You rememper I vas avay to dot blace last April, und I vas dooking you how Livingston und dem used us. You may dalk as you blease, bud of anypody he vants to been used vell all he is got to do is to gife dem Filadelfia fellers a shance und dey vill all him chust so full as a dwendy dollar gold piece, und id vill bass chusd so gwick und gwicker, cause gold eferybiece is so scarce now a days peebie vood be afrait of dem. Yes, sir, John Morrissey is a man dot has made himself, und he don'd owe der vorld a cend nor any von he'd. He's a shark, shrewd pisness man, und however much prayin' peebles may shgweal, he don'd do as some of dem do, bray und holler all day sunday und shdeal like der dem all der veek. Dot's relichion now a days, Sharley. Dot's early biety.

Here comes a nice young feller, bud he is gidding so shdoud dot of he keebs on he vill hafe to hafe his vaggon made vider. Dis is young George Law, son of old George Law. George is a gveed, easy-goin' young feller; likes a good horse, und alvays takes care do hafe von. I don'd know so much about him now as I use do ad von dime, cause I don'd see him so often as I use do. I bresume dot he has aldered any, and he is as good a feller now as he efer vas. George use do bay der banjo poody vell von dime, und he vas a leedle on der sing, doo. He cood sing a nice song; many und many dimes I heerd him und Billy Gaspor, mit der Secor boys, coming down Pifd Avnue of a giear, moonlide nide, sing "Come vere my loaf lies dreaming," und dey cood sing id, doo. Der peebles all knew who dey vas, und ven dey vood came along der vinders vood go ub und der young ladies vood shdick deir heads oud in der neglige und clab deir hands. Sharley, neglige, dot's a French vord, und id means nighd shird sans, nighd, und lige, shird. Ven you know French den you'll be easy to von—see? Gread head I hafe god, young feller; dere is more in id as a fine deeth comb vood dook oud. Goot day, George.

Here comes George McGrath—Alderman McGrath—I peg his pardon, I didn'd habben do dink of his didle. You hafe heerd dot ballad, "Ven I can read my didle glear," hafen'd you? Vell, George can read his didle glear to der Aldermanic shair of der Fourdeend Aldermanic Disdrict forefer, und a couble days longer, of he vants do. Sharley, dey say, "Of you vant to kill a man bolidically, make him der Alderman of der disdrict he leefs in," bud whoever dried do kill George McGrath dot vay vas looney, cause he is sdronger now as he efer vas, und der beeples likes him bedder und bedder efery day. He is von of dese kind of men dot of he can do anyding for a young feller or a old feller, he vill do id, und of he can't, he won't bromise, bud he vill say right away dot he can'd do id, dot id is impossible. Dot's de vay he makes his friends—you can peleef him ven he tolds you anyding, und ven he says "No," den you can go und shwore dot he can'd do id, neider. Bolidicians, as a cheneral ding, I romise more dan dey can fulfull, und by C. V. Brook's b g J. Conelly, beating owner's roan gelding Saltpetre in four heats, the latter winning the second. Time, 2:59½; 2:47; 2:46; 2:45¼.

On the Union Course, on Monday, Sept. 20th, a match for $300, mile heats, best three in five, was trotted between Mr. Wilson's r g Roan Dick, in harness, and Hiram Howe's b m Eva, to wagon. The latter won the third heat, and Dick the first, second and fourth and the race. Time, 2:50; 2:51¼; 2:51½; 3:48.

The same day, and on the same course, a sweepstakes of $300, mile heats, best three in five, in harness, was trotted. The entries were L. C. Sammis' br m Hannah; J. Allen's b g Reilly; J. Page's b g Last Chance, and Mr. Pettit's b m, the two last being drawn. The first heat was dead, but Hannah won the next three in 2:48¾; 2:46; 2:47; 2:49.

THE NARRAGANSETT FALL TROTTING MEETING.—"ENSIBLE ACTION OF THE ASSOCIATION.—The entries for the eight purses, $15,000 in value, given by the Narragansett Park Association, to be trotted for at their fall meeting, which commences Oct. 5th and continues four days, have closed, and are unusually numerous. For the $500 purse, for three minute horses, eleven horses have entered, and for the $2,000 purse, for double teams, there are seven entries. The $1,000 purse, for 2:45 horses, has twelve, and the 2:30 purse of $2,000 has sixteen entries, among them the familiar names of Daniel Boone, Locust, Surprise, Belle of Brooklyn, Captain Gill, Old Put, Jessie Wales, White Fawn, etc. The $1,000 purse, for 2:40 horses, on the third day, has fourteen, and the $2,000 purse, for 2:23 horses, the same number. On the last day the $1,000 purse, for 2:50 trotters, has seventeen entries, while the great purse of $5,000, open for all horses, has the following six renowned fast trotters:—Lady Thorn, Lucy, American Girl, Goldsmith Maid, George Palmer and Rhode Island. It is with pleasure we observe that this association has come to the conclusion, for the future, not to receive any entry of a horse for any purse that is without a name. This sensible resolution will go far to remove the confusion and doubt that starting unnamed horses has occasioned, and we trust other associations will follow the example.

GOLDSMITH MAID AND AMERICAN GIRL.—These two fast mares are traveling around the country, and contending for the valuable purses that agricultural associations find it their interest to offer for the best horses at their annual fairs. At the Binghampton, N. Y. Fair, held on the Driving Park, these two mares, on Sept. 16th, contended for the $4,000 purse, open to all horses; Goldsmith Maid winning in three straight heats in 2:28¾; 2:25; 2:27¼. The track is a half mile only, and not a fast one. At Scranton, Pa., on Sept. 22d, Goldsmith Maid was again victorious over American Girl, for the $5,000 purse offered them by the association.

SWEEPSTAKES TROT.—On the 14th instant a trot for a sweepstakes of $150, mile heats, three in five, in harness, came off over the Mystic Park Course, Boston, between Wm. H. Woodruff's b g Centreville and S. E. Stowell's blk g Kangaroo. Fanchon had also been entered, but in consequence of an injury received the night previous had to be withdrawn. Centreville won with the utmost ease in three straight heats. Time, 2:36; 2:37; 2:36.

Forker, 2d b	3	2	5	3	M. King, c f	1	5	5	5
Coughlin, ss	6	0	0	0	Powers, s s	2	4	3	3
Shelley, 3d b	3	1	1	3	Fisher, p	4	2	3	6
Pelton, c f	4	1	1	3	Flynn, r f	5	1	0	0
Birdsall, c	3	2	2	2	Craver, c	4	1	4	1
Studley, 1 f	1	3	4	6	S. King, 1 f	3	2	2	2
Osborne, p	2	3	1	3	Behan, 3d b	3	2	4	6
Joyce, r f	3	2	2	3	Bearman, 3d b	4	2	1	1
Totals	27	17	18	31	Totals	27	24	24	40

Innings.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
National	2	2	0	2	3	5	4	4	1—17
Haymakers	3	3	0	4	2	2	5	1	2—21

Umpire—Mr. Gafney, of the Union Club, of Cohoes. Scorers—Messrs. Scofield and Potts

THE NATIONAL vs. MUTUAL.

The Nationals arrived in the metropolis from Troy on the morning of the 21st, and in the afternoon played the Mutuals at the Union ground. The weather was pleasant and there was a fair attendance of spectators. Somewhat tired out with the labors of their trip, and with one or two of their players disabled, the Nationals were in no condition to meet the Mutuals, and, as a consequence, were severely worsted. The game began at 3:05 p. m., the Nationals being first to the bat. Fox led off, and should have been out, but had a life given him by Carleton; Forker carried his ball to centre field; Coughlin fouled to E. Mills; Shelley made a low hit to centre field, which was apparently safe, but Eggler went for it, and made a surprising catch, the effort being received with applause; Pelton hit a foul near first base, and was caught out by E. Mills, the innings ending in a blank, with four men left. The Mutuals should have been similarly served, but through the loose playing of Shelley, Coughlin and Forker, five runs were made. Hatfield's ball was nicely stopped by Shelley, who threw wildly to first base; E. Mills fouled to Birdsall; Flanly was muffed by Coughlin; C. Mills was saved by Forker's careless handling of the ball; Swandel was quite lucky; Eggler was the first one to secure a base; Gedney also hit safely, sending Eggler home—making five runs, when neither of the first five strikers was entitled to his base. This was rather a poor send off, and seemed to have a depressing effect on the visitors. The second innings resulted in another "blinder" for the Nationals, while the Mutuals added two to their totals, loose play again marking the fielding of the visitors. In the third innings, Shelley, in trying to second base, wrenched his arm. The hurt did not seem severe at first, and Osborne pluckily stuck to his position. The effort was too great a tax, however, and he finally gave way to Birdsall, Forker going behind the bat. From this time out the Mutuals had an easy time of it, batting Birdsall freely, and scoring a total of 42 runs. The Nationals made their first run in the third innings, and secured 16 altogether. With the exception of two or three misplays, the Mutual's fielding was perfect, and in many respects brilliant. No less than three double plays were made—the work being done by Carleton, Flanly and E. Mills. But for the mishap to Osborne the game would have undoubtedly been more closely contested. Still, from the loose manner in which the Nationals fielded in the early part of the game, and which they kept up to some extent all through, the result was never in doubt. There seemed to be a want of unity among the National nine, which destroyed their effectiveness.

Reach, 2d b	3	3	3	4	Kerr, 2d b	1	2	2	2
McBride, s s	4	2	3	2	Hellings, 3d b	4	1	2	4
Cuthbert, 1 f	2	4	3	10	Rorke, s s	5	1	1	1
Meyerle, c	1	4	3	3	Lovett, p	4	0	0	0
Setsenderier, c f	2	3	3	1	Sevem, 1st b	5	0	0	0
McMullen, p	4	1	0	0	Oram, 1 f	4	0	0	0
Schafer, 1st b	5	0	1	1	Clinton, c f	2	1	1	1
Radcliff, 3d b	3	1	1	1	Miller, c	3	1	1	1
Berry, r f	3	1	1	1	Eckendorf, r f	3	1	1	1
Totals	27	18	18	31	Totals	27	7	8	10

Innings.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Athletic	4	2	4	0	0	1	0	2	—18
Olympic	0	0	0	2	0	2	3	0	0—7

Umpire—A. Halbach, of the Keystone. Time of game—Two hours.

UNIQUE vs. LONE STAR.

The home and home game of the match between these crack colored clubs, the former of Williamsburgh and the latter of Harlem, came off at Ridgewood Park on Sept. 23d. The Uniques, who have held the championship for a number of seasons, were vanquished, much to the surprise and disgust of their adherents. The Lone Stars talk of going to Philadelphia to contend with the Pithians. We append the score:—

Lone Star.	H.	L.	Unique.	H.	L.
J. Williams, s s	3	1	Bowman, 1st b	3	1
E. Williams, 3d b	5	0	Furman, 3d b	4	0
Nichols, c	3	2	E. Mobley, s s	3	1
Baker, c f	3	2	Banks, 1 f	1	0
Miller, 1st b	3	0	D. Mobley, c	1	1
C. Williams, 1 f	3	2	Skidmore, r f	3	2
Murray, r f	3	0	Ward, p	3	0
H. Williams, 2d b	4	0	Bingham, c f	4	0
Stephenson, p	1	1	Raymond, 2d b	4	0
Total	8		Total	5

Umpire—Mr. Jackson, of the Ocean Club. Time of game—One hour and thirty minutes.

ECKFORD vs. UNION.

At Fremont, on Sept. 21st, the Eckfords and Unions had a game, with the result as appended:—

Union.	H.	L.	R.	Eckford.	H.	L.	R.
Baines, p s	1		1	Allison, 1st b	4		1
Lyons, p	3		1	Simons n, s s	3		1
Austin, c	3		1	Martin, p	3		1
Baker, r f	2		2	Nelson, 3d b	4		1
Reynolds, 2d b	1		3	Hodes, 1 f	0		4
Weiburgh, c f	4		0	Eggler, c f	3		3
Smith, 1st b	4		0	Tracy, 2d b	2		3
Ten Eyck, 1 f	2		2	Pinkham, c	0		4
Whelan, 3d b	1		1	Emmet, r f	4		0
Total	11			Total	18

Innings.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Union	0	1	0	0	2	2	6	—11
Eckford	0	4	0	3	4	4	3	—18

Umpire—Mr. Valentine, of the Athlete Club.

ATHLETIC vs. OLYMPIC.

These well known Philadelphia Clubs played the first game of a new series on the 25th ult. The result was a handsome victory for the Athletics, as per subjoined score:—

Athletic.	H.	L.	R.	1st R.	Y.	Olympic.	H.	L.	R.	1st R.	Y.
Reach, 2d b	3	3	3	4		Kerr, 2d b	1	2	2	2
McBride, s s	4	2	3	2		Hellings, 3d b	4	1	2	4
Cuthbert, 1 f	2	4	3	10		Rorke, s s	5	1	1	1
Meyerle, c	1	4	3	3		Lovett, p	4	0	0	0
Setsenderier, c f	2	3	3	1		Sevem, 1st b	5	0	0	0
McMullen, p	4	1	0	0		Oram, 1 f	4	0	0	0
Schafer, 1st b	5	0	1	1		Clinton, c f	2	1	1	1
Radcliff, 3d b	3	1	1	1		Miller, c	3	1	1	1
Berry, r f	3	1	2	3		Eckendorf, r f	3	1	1	1
Totals	27	18	18	31		Totals	27	7	8	10

Innings.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Athletic	4	2	4	0	0	1	0	2	5—18
Olympic	0	0	0	2	0	2	3	0	0—7

Umpire—A. Halbach, of the Keystone. Time of game—Two hours.

PASTIME vs. PASTIME.

The Pastime Club, of Richmond, Va., visited Baltimore on Sept. 22d, and played a game with their namesakes in the afternoon, the result of which was as below given:

Pastime (b.)	H.	L.	R.	Pastime (R.)	H.	L.	R.
Kerle, c	0		9	Babcock, 1st b	2		3
Bailey, s s	3		6	Thomlinson, c	3		2
Smith, 3d b	3		5	Edwards, 3d b	3		3
Turnbull, p	0		3	Gentry, 2d b	1		1
Popplein, 2d b	1		7	Jarvis, s s	4		2
Doyle, 1 f	3		6	Hinchman, p	2		1
Chenowith, r f	5		4	Davidson, 1 f	3		0
Lucas, 1st b	1		7	Philrey, r f	2		0
Thomsen, c f	3		3	Kielholts, c f	1		2
Total	54			Total	13

Umpire—Ed. Mincher, of the Maryland. Scorers—Messrs Young and Riddick. Time of game—Two hours and thirty minutes.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.—The Olives and Pioneers played a return game at Camden, N. J., on the 16th of Sept., the former scoring 50 to 2.....The Excelsiors defeated the Sirrats at Buffalo, N. Y., on the 18th of Sept.; score, 30 to 20.....The Shooting Stick and Em Quad clubs, composed of typos, tried their skill at Reading, Pa., on the 18th of Sept., the former winning by a score of 35 to 12.....The Somersets defeated the Pastimes, of Boston, 24 to 12, on the 18th ult.....The first game of a series between the Seireaf and Scientific clubs, of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., was played on the grounds of that institution on the 18th ult., the former proving victorious by totals of 32 to 17.....The Red Caps "warped" the Manhattans, of the metropolis, on the 18th ult., by a score of 30 to 20.....The Empires and the Enterkas met each other at Hoboken, N. J., on the 19th ult., the former winning by a score of 14 to 6.....On the 17th ult. the Occidental, Jr., beat the Dexter club at Quincy, Ill., by a score of 61 to 33.....The Osceola and Social clubs, of Pittsburgh, met each other on the 18th ult., when the former won by a tally of 25 to 14.....The Amateur and Atlantic clubs played a game at Waverley, N. J., on the 24th ult., the latter, in fine style, as she carried no coxswain, steering the "old veteran" as true as a die. "Black Jack," as he is familiarly termed by his friends, gave the shell that good old stroke which won so many victories in days agone, on the Charles River and other courses. The exercise made our old friend a "little tired," but the same long sweep, rapid recovery, and quiet feather was "all there," as natural and perfect as ever. The old Stranger revived the days of their pristine glories, when the famous "Poughkeepsie crew," composed of Bill Stevens, stroke, Homer Wooden, Le Roy, and Zeke Beneway, used to shake the "big boat" up as lively as if she was a water witch.

The Dundee Boat Club, of Paterson, N. J., was organized in September, 1868, and is consequently but one year old. Notwithstanding their youth they are one of the best clubs in the land, and a credit to the boating fraternity of the country. They have, at present, eight active members, with the following list of officers:—President, J. F. Boice; Vice President, J. A. Beckwith; Secretary, Robert J. Hopper; Treasurer, George H. Lowe. They have a handsome boat house on Lake Dundee, fifty feet by fifteen, for the stowage of their boats, and a wing used as a dressing room, eighteen feet by twenty. Their boats consist of the eight oared gunwale barge Dundee, and four or five single and double scull boats.

The La Favorita Boat Club, of Hackensack, N. J., was organized in May, 1867, with John J. Berry, for President, and David Achenbach, as Secretary and Treasurer. Messrs. S. R. Cumming, Garret M. Campbell, John Bogar, and D. Achenbach, were also the prominent founders of the club. From the outset of their prosperous career they have occupied an influential position with the amateur boating fraternity, and few, if any clubs, who date only from 1867, fill to-day, as unenviable a position as the La Favorita Boat Club. They are now erecting, and have nearly completed, one of the best and most spacious boat houses on the banks of the Hackensack, a landing of the Hackensack river, in that beautiful town, and is fifty-six feet long, by thirty wide, and will be fitted up and finished in superb style. They have now quite a fleet of superior boats, consisting of a six oared gig, two four oared gigs, two single scull shells, three single scull working boats and five double scull boats.

With a full roll of members, whose social position is beyond cavil, and whose rowing enthusiasm cannot be dampened by one or a half dozen defeats, but whose motto is "Don't give up the ship!" the La Favoritas are bound to win a good place among our crack rowing clubs. We are pleased to record this fact, and are still more gratified to indite that they are of the right mettle, and have a little more ambition and healthy aspiration than to sink exclusively into the innovating custom of taking a barge rowing.

Judges for the Dundee—Commodore Casimer Tag and B. Weller Hoxsey. Judges for the La Favorita—Commodore David Banks, Jr., and John H. Lindsey. Referee—Thomas Fearon.

BILLIARDS.

CONTEST FOR $200.—HEWINS VS. BENJAMIN.—Ralph Benjamin, of Portchester, N. Y., and M. H. Hewins, of Hartford, who had played several matches at the American game, for the first time tried conclusions at the three-ball game on the 21st ult. The scene of the contest was Bixby's billiard hall, in Meriden, Conn. The number of points was 150, and the stake $100 dollars a side. For the first 125 the game was very close, appearing to be either man's; but thenceforward Benjamin almost stood still, and at the finish was 20 points behind. The average of the winner was about one and a half. Not satisfied with the result of this game, Mr. Benjamin proposed two others, each for $100 a side, one to take place in Portchester, and the other in Meriden. Hewins was nothing loth, and therefore the games will be played. They are to consist of the same number of points as that of the 21st.

THE CHAMPION IS WASHINGTON.—Miller's Hoin, Washington, was thronged, on the night of the 22d, to witness a friendly bout between Champion Deery and Michael Phelan. The game was unusually interesting throughout, and the players were frequently applauded. Mr. Phelan, though he made no large runs, played with remarkable steadiness, as the score below shows, and at last won by 14 points:—

Phelan.—27, 18, 26, 33, 63, 51, 30, 18, 0, 0, 60, 45, 30, 0, 12, 18, 3, 3, 24, 21, 8; total, 503. Average, 23 17-21.

Deery.—9, 36, 0, 13, 15, 57, 6, 54, 3, 9, 21, 163, 3, 3, 9, 0, 21, 15, 12, 33; total, 486. Average, 24 3-10.

The exhibition was brought to a close by Deery making a number of fancy shots.

A BASE BALLIST AT BILLIARDS.—The "Red Stockings" happened to be in Omaha, en route to California, during the Nebraska billiard tournament, and the Republican, of that city, speaks as follows of Brainard's achievements with the cue:—"Last evening John W. Coon crossed cues in a friendly game of French caroms with Asa Brainard, the gentlemanly pitcher of the 'Red Stockings,' who is almost as familiar with ivory balls as the one he handles so skillfully in the field. The game was very close, Coon winning by about five points, in a game of 100. The playing of both parties was graceful, but Coon failed in his usual precision and accuracy."

BILLIARDS WITHOUT CUES.—IMPORTANT MATCH PROPOSED.—James Ward, the celebrated Canadian pigeon shot, has issued the following challenge:—

Having been informed by Mr. Alex. Beecher that when he was in Montreal last week, Mr. Joseph Dion stated to him that he would play me five games of billiards without the cue, each party to play with his hand, for one thousand dollars each game, and play on a carom table, push shot not barred, one hundred points up, and give me the break each game, if Mr. Dion will play me five games for $200 each game, and play in Toronto, one month from this date, a match can be made by calling on or writing to Mr. Jas. Carson, King street, Toronto. JAS. WARD.

TORONTO, Sept. 22d, 1869.

OPENING.—The billiard rooms of Courtlandt Cadmus, situated in the Ayres Block, Memphis, Tenn., were on the 16th ult. thrown open to the public. The proceeds were devoted to the Southern Historical and Relief Association, through the kindness of the proprietor, and some $200 was realized. The establishment is elegantly fitted up, and contains twelve tables, in addition to saloon, and club and reading rooms.

ILLNESS OF MELVIN FOSTER.—This expert had a narrow escape from being carried off by cholera morbus, on the 23d ult. He was attacked at his room in New London, on the night of the 22d, and it was feared would not recover. He still lives, however, and will challenge the winner of the next match for the cue.

TOURNAMENT FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF VERMONT.—There is to be a tournament for the championship of the Green Mountain State shortly. There will be three prizes.

HEWINS' ROOM IN HARTFORD.—The opening of Mattie Hewins' room has been deferred. It will take place on the 6th inst. The Connecticut champion will be assisted on the occasion by John Deery, Michael Phelan, Gershom B. Hubbell, Melvin Foster, M. Wallahan and Frank Denison.

NEW ROOM IN BROOKLYN.—A room with ten Phelan and Collender tables has just been opened by Mr. G. Van Cleaf in Fulton avenue, near Navy street, Brooklyn.

76 AMITY STREET.—Handsomely furnished rooms to let, with board, to married or single persons. First-class house, and terms moderate. Apply to MRS. HYATT, 76 Amity street, corner Thompson. 26-11*

AQUATICS.

FOUR-OARED MATCH RACE.

On Thursday, September 23d, the La Favorita Boat Club, of Hackensack, and the Dundee Boat Club, of Paterson, N. J., had a four-oared race in outrigger gigs, with coxswains, on Dundee lake, a beautiful sheet of water, which is formed by a dam across the Passaic river, of which placid stream the lake is a portion. It is located about two miles from Paterson, the horse cars conveying one to it every fifteen minutes, and is one of the most perfect courses for rowing in the vicinity of New York, especially for shell boats. Its divides Passaic and Bergen counties, and upon either bank are tasty and comfortable homesteads. On the day of the race the ladies of these two counties, in beautiful and fashionable attire, escorted by spruce cavaliers, were out in their grandest array to witness the regatta. The respective colors of the clubs—crimson for La Favorita and blue for the Dundee—shone resplendent, the crimson being greatly in the ascendant. New York City also contributed liberally toward the assemblage, her amateur boat clubs being especially well represented among the throng. For half an hour previous to the start the lake and its surroundings presented a scene of beauty well calculated to rivet one's attention and challenge his admiration. Lines of carriages stretched upon the banks, the bridge crossing the lake was filled with people, and, better than all, the character and respectability of the audience was a proud and handsome tribute to the popular cause of amateur oarsmanship.

The race originated in an invitation from the Dundee Club, for a prize of five gold badges, presented by Mr. E. T. Bell, Cashier of the First National Bank, of Paterson. The course was from Sherwood Island, near the bridge, to a stake-boat near the dam and return, making about two and one-half miles. It was nearly half-past 4 P. M. when the boats were called into line.

Dundee Boat Club entered the Winona, rowed by James A. Beckwith, stroke; John C. Paulison, George H. Low, Isaac Newton, Jr., bow; coxswain, Robert J. Hopper; blue handkerchiefs, white shirts; boat 38 feet long, 32 inches wide; weight 185 pounds. La Favorita Boat Club entered the La Favorita, rowed by Garret M. Campbell, stroke; Henry B. Zabriskie, George Ricardo, Cornelius Myers, bow; coxswain, S. R. Cumming; white caps, crimson shirts; boat 38 feet long, 30 inches wide; weight 145 pounds. At the word "go" a good start was had, the Dundees a shade the best on the send off. They, however, rowed well together, showing the good tuition of their trainer, James O'Neill, of Troy. The La Favoritas, who had the call in the wagers, started up poorly, not catching the water together, and one of them in the waist of the boat, whipping his oar soon after the start. After they settled down to their work they rowed in better form, but in the interim the Dundees had opened a gap of clear water, which, barring accident, already insured them the race. The La Favoritas struggled on to the upper stake-boat, which they reached a little closer to their competitors than they were soon after the start; but when the Dundees were fairly headed for home they gradually dropped the La Favoritas more and more astern, until they finally crossed the score, a good distance ahead, in 18m. thirty-five seconds in advance of the La Favorita. Just before the start in this race any spectator could note a fact which frequently occurs in boat racing. We allude to the difference in a crew's rowing alone, and in a race. The La Favoritas launched first, and in their preliminary pull, before going into line, rowed well together, and were apparently cool and self possessed. The moment they started, however, all was unnecessary excitement and confusion; the boat was not on an even keel for two hundred yards, and the stroke was not followed in time and unison. The boys in crimson also looked towards and watched the Dundees too much, instead of looking inboard and attending to "biz." If the La Favorita had been pulled as well at the start as in practice, while taking a "little turn" over the lake it would have been a tight race to the upper stake-boat, and a great deal closer one at the finish.

The Winona is the property of the Hudson Boat Club, of Jersey City, one of the best clubs attached to the Hudson Amateur Rowing Association, who, with that courtesy which exists at all times among the amateur boating fraternity, loaned her to the Dundee Club. She was well worsted, and her victorious crew reflected great credit upon the gallant Dundee's true blue colors. They must now select two more good men and true from their ranks, and place a six-oared gig crew in the next annual regatta of the New Jersey Boating Association, on the Passaic. Both boats were built by George Roahr.

The La Favoritas were accompanied over the course by a four-oared crew of the Atalanta's champion six, consisting of Messrs. Truslow Russell Withers, Jr., Edward Smith, Alden S. Swan; Coxswain, George Roahr. The excellent oarsmanship exhibited by this crew attracted general attention and praise. The Dundee's were escorted throughout the race by the olden time four-oared shell, Stranger, rowed by John J. Eckerson, William Burns, alias "Glaze," Richard B. Deely, and John C. O'Neill, of the Columbia Boat Club. The latter excellent amateur attended to the "trade" in his style, as she carried no coxswain, steering the "old veteran" as true as a die. "Black Jack," as he is familiarly termed by his friends, gave the shell that good old stroke which won so many victories in days agone, on the Charles River and other courses. The exercise made our old friend a "little tired," but the same long sweep, rapid recovery, and quiet feather was "all there," as natural and perfect as ever. The old Stranger revived the days of their pristine glories, when the famous "Poughkeepsie crew," composed of Bill Stevens, stroke, Homer Wooden, Le Roy, and Zeke Beneway, used to shake the "big boat" up as lively as if she was a water witch.

The Dundee Boat Club, of Paterson, N. J., was organized in September, 1868, and is consequently but one year old. Notwithstanding their youth they are one of the best clubs in the land, and a credit to the boating fraternity of the country. They have, at present, eight active members, with the following list of officers:—President, J. F. Boice; Vice President, J. A. Beckwith; Secretary, Robert J. Hopper; Treasurer, George H. Lowe. They have a handsome boat house on Lake Dundee, fifty feet by fifteen, for the stowage of their boats, and a wing used as a dressing room, eighteen feet by twenty. Their boats consist of the eight oared gunwale barge Dundee, and four or five single and double scull boats.

The La Favorita Boat Club, of Hackensack, N. J., was organized in May, 1867, with John J. Berry, for President, and David Achenbach, as Secretary and Treasurer. Messrs. S. R. Cumming, Garret M. Campbell, John Bogar, and D. Achenbach, were also the prominent founders of the club. From the outset of their prosperous career they have occupied an influential position with the amateur boating fraternity, and few, if any clubs, who date only from 1867, fill to-day, as unenviable a position as the La Favorita Boat Club. They are now erecting, and have nearly completed, one of the best and most spacious boat houses on the banks of the Hackensack, a landing of the Hackensack river, in that beautiful town, and is fifty-six feet long, by thirty wide, and will be fitted up and finished in superb style. They have now quite a fleet of superior boats, consisting of a six oared gig, two four oared gigs, two single scull shells, three single scull working boats and five double scull boats.

With a full roll of members, whose social position is beyond cavil, and whose rowing enthusiasm cannot be dampened by one or a half dozen defeats, but whose motto is "Don't give up the ship!" the La Favoritas are bound to win a good place among our crack rowing clubs. We are pleased to record this fact, and are still more gratified to indite that they are of the right mettle, and have a little more ambition and healthy aspiration than to sink exclusively into the innovating custom of taking a barge rowing.

Judges for the Dundee—Commodore Casimer Tag and B. Weller Hoxsey. Judges for the La Favorita—Commodore David Banks, Jr., and John H. Lindsey. Referee—Thomas Fearon.

CHALLENGE FROM FEARON TO WITHERS.

That fine amateur sculler, Thos. Fearon, anxious to bring about the solution of an aquatic problem of much interest to the oarsmen of this vicinity, sends us the subjoined communication:—

DR. RUSSEL WITHERS, CHAMPION OF THE ATALANTA CLUB.—DEAR SIR.—Many of our mutual friends, who were disappointed in not appearing as contestants, at the recent regatta of the H. R. A. R. A, are anxious to see a race between us. The present is the most favorable time of the year for rowing. From our recent training we are both in good condition. Our personal intercourse is and has always been of the pleasantest character, and affords a guarantee of honorable dealing. A fair and square race over the same course and in the same boats which we used on the 25th of May, when you were the winner, would settle the question, now much debated, of which of us is the better oarsman. I challenge you to such a race, to be rowed in smooth water, and for a suitable prize, to cost not more than $50. The race to be rowed under the rules of the H. R. A. R. A., and within 3 weeks from the date of your acceptance. If you prefer it, I will agree to row in shells instead of working boats. Asking the favor of a prompt reply, I am Yours, with much respect, THOMAS FEARON.

YONKERS, Sept. 25th, 1869.

MUTUAL BOAT CLUB.—This well known Albany club held their annual single scull shell race for the champion cup of the organization, on Tuesday, Sept. 21st. The following started:—Perry Ewing, Jr., Augustus Schwartz, C. H. Armitage, James H. Shatuck, J. R. Kirby and Jesse Parker. Alonzo Adsit was entered but did not start. The course was three miles. They competed over the lower course, and the ferry boats and a tow boat called the Niagara, marred the contest considerably by creating such rough water, that the men were compelled to cease rowing two or three times. Perry Ewing, Jr., came in first, in 27:05. Schwartz was second in 27:20. Parker third, seventeen seconds later.

SCULLING AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.—N. R. Knight, the present champion single sculler of the Narragansett Club, and J. C. Butterworth pulled a friendly race on the Providence river, on Saturday, 18th ult., two miles, with one turn. Boats—Gipsey Boy, cedar shell, Knight; Toothpick, paper, Butterworth. The Toothpick won the race in 18m4, three lengths ahead. Knight won the badge (champion) on the 11th ult., in a two mile race, pulling the same boat (Gipsey Boy), in 16:22, and has pulled over this same course in a heavy lapstreak single scull, in 18:30, and wanted to wager that he could better it. People don't say Knight sold the race, but they "keep up a divil of a thinkin'."

ATLANTIC BOAT CLUB.—The Atlantic Club, of Hoboken, held their annual single scull regatta for the championship of the club, on Saturday, Sept. 25th, on the mile course of the Hudson Amateur Rowing Association, off the Elysian Fields. The competitors rowed in seventeen feet working boats, and consisted of J. W. Benson, C. Spielman, Jr., and Joseph Struthers, Jr. Benson took the lead soon after the start, maintained it to the upper stake, and for nearly half of the home-stretch, when he was passed by Spielman, whose boat was covered. The latter came in ahead in 26:57. Benson was 7 or 8 seconds behind. Struthers was a poor third. Referee, C. J. Thoms.

THE MILLER AND THE FOOL.—A miller, who attempted to be witty at the expense of a youth of weak intellect, accosted him with, "John, people say that you are a fool." On this John replied, "I don't know what I am, sir. I know some things, sir, and some things I don't know, sir." "Well, John, what do you know?" "I know that millers always have fat hogs, sir." "And what don't you know?" "I don't know whose corn they eat, sir."

AT AN ANNUAL ELECTION of the Atlantic Yacht Club, of Rochester, N. Y., the following officers were elected, their term of office to begin October 1st, 1869:—Captain, Chas. J. Koch; First Lieutenant, Geo. P. Granger; Second Lieutenant, Ed. F. Parsons; Ensign, Joe Sheridan; First Master's Mate, Fred Cobb; Second Master's Mate, Mose Everett. The club, though only organized a few weeks, numbers now over sixty members.

ATLANTIC YACHT CLUB.—The pennant regatta of this club takes place on Wednesday, Sept. 29th. The club have chartered the steamer Thomas Riley for the accommodation of the committee, judges, members and their friends, and she will leave the foot of Montague street, Brooklyn, at 8.30 A. M. The entries are numerous, and they include some celebrated fast sailing yachts. A fine affair is promised.

THAMES VS. TYNE.—In reply to the challenge issued by a four from the Thames, the Tyne-siders state that they are willing to make a home and home match, for £300 a side, each event—the first to be rowed from Putney to Mortlake, on the Thames, and the second from the High Level Bridge to Scotswood Suspension Bridge, on the Tyne—a fair proposal.

ARRIVAL OF THE REST OF THE HARVARDS.—Messrs. Rass, Rice and Burnham, of the Harvard international crew, arrived per the steamer City of Paris, on the evening of Sept. 26th, and took up their quarters at the Astor House, where they were visited by a large number of the curious, as well as personal friends.

CHALLENGE.—Mr. H. F. Rush, owner of the Yacht Comet, has challenged any craft in this country, under 20 feet, to sail her for the sum of $500—ten miles to windward and return, with jib and mainsail.

THE NELLIE G. AND ADDIE TAYLOR are to race from a stake-boat off the Idle Hour, Greenville, N. J., on the 29th ult.

WALTER BROWN swung clubs at an exhibition recently given by Abe Hicken in the English metropolis.

THE CHEBEGS AND MAGOGS pulled a two mile race on the Charles river, Boston, on the 24th ult., the former winning by over three minutes.

THE RING.

RING FIGHT AT LINE ISLAND

BETWEEN

HARRY HURLEY AND EDWARD MALONEY,

FOR $250 A SIDE.

IT BREAKS UP IN A ROW AND A DRAW IS DECLARED.

The match for five hundred dollars between Harry Hurley, a brother-in-law of Bob Brettle, and a young fellow named Maloney, which was made at Pittsburgh a few weeks ago, was brought to a conclusion at Line Island, in the Ohio river, about forty miles or so below the Smoky City, on the evening of Tuesday, Sept 21st. Neither man had ever before put up his hands in the orthodox circle. Hurley is about 26 years of age, four years the senior of his antagonist, who is an Irishman by birth, as his name indicates. Maloney trained at the house of his backer, Mike English, in Birmingham, across the Monongahela, while Hurley had for mentors Jimmy Elliott and Johnny Newell. Both were pronounced in good fix. The ferry boat "Allegheny No. 3," from Manchester, was chartered to convey the belligerents and others to the scene, and she left the foot of Liberty street shortly before the hour of eight A. M., on the day mentioned. The boat was chartered at an expense of fifty dollars, but only twenty dollars was collected by the Captain, and another round was ordered. With tight squeezing, five more dollars were added to the deposit in the captain's vest pocket, and that gentleman, deeming it unwise to call on the circle again, inasmuch as in the previous round he was repeatedly reminded that he had better make his visits like those of celestial spirits, he concluded to run the ferry ashore at Cork Run. This was attempted, but as the pilot at this time was about two-thirds under the weather and as jolly as any waterman ever seen, the nose of the boat was run on a bar, and here she was held fast. In consideration of helping to get her out of, and a promise of more passengers with pockets full of money at Manchester, the captain finally consented to continue on, and Line Island was finally reached. A green level spot was chosen on the island, and a dozen willing hands assisted in arranging the ring, driving in the stakes and fastening the ropes. When this was done the referee, John Robinson, took his place on a high stool, drew from his pocket a shining tin horn, and called for the heroes of the day. Maloney was the first to appear. He wore knee breeches, white stockings and canvas shoes, with spikes, and had for his seconds Bob McDonald and Mike English. Hurley was attended by Jimmy Elliott and Johnny Newell, and was attired somewhat after the fashion of his opponent.

THE FIGHT.

Round 1. This was the best round of the battle. Both men dashed away at each other, Hurley catching it on the eye and nose, while Maloney was thumped sorely in the ribs. Time, three minutes.

2. Hurley was bleeding from the nose when he came to the scratch, and exhibited plainly in other respects the handiwork of his opponent. They sparred for some time, when Maloney grasped Hurley about the neck, twisted him around, and finally threw him on the ropes, which fell in consequence.

3. The ring being repaired, the men went at it again, Hurley getting punched wickedly, while a son of Erin cries out, "What the devil did you let him do that for!"

After this round it appeared plain to every one that Hurley was

WHY DO WE LIVE?

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.

Why do we live who wish to die?
Why do we cling to life in woe?
Why do we in misery sigh?
When death were less to undergo.

In sin we live, all mortals know,
And living know that sin is ill;
If souls of men to darkness go,
Or in celestial regions dwell.

Yet, oh, to me 'twere happy day
With every friend of mine to go
To cast aside this pining clay,
And end this heart's unending strife.

This sad, sad heart, without relief,
Tossing on the waves of fate;
No tear responsive to its grief,
Still loving one, whose love is hate.

Annie, adieu! my dream is o'er,
The happy home adorned by thee
But mocks the blissful days of yore,
And lonely, speaks of gloom and me.

J. A. LEONARD.

VALKING UB BROADWAY.—No. 2.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.

BY OOFTY GOOFT.

Sharley, you hafe peen so use to geen down dot you can'd look up any more. Sid ub singwise in der vaggon, hold ub your head ub, keeb a sbiff sbober ub und made der vorld peliefe dot you are somepody. Don'd nefer say die, eben of your leib eye is kicked out. Dot's der vay. Of you dink you are somepody yourself id von'd be long pefore der vorld vill dink so doo. Gif yourself a chance. You don'd know vat you can do undil der dime comes. Many a lawyer in dis town cood make bandy of money obening clams instead of sbarking by desbly vaiting for a ghent. I tell you, Sharley, a man pan be sbyding he vants to of he vill oney make his mind ub. Look at some of der simarded men of der dimes—see how dey god along. Some of our vealdiest men hafe seen der dime dot of sbdeamboads vas sellin for a sbillin abiece dey coodn'd buy a gang blank. I hafe been dere myself, bud I oney sbdaid a leetle vile. "I vood nod leef always" dot vay. Look sbdraight ahead—dot's der vay. Peebie may crowl a leetle ad you ad first, bud dey vill pegin do like id after a vile, und dink dot id is nadural. I don'd vant you do bolt ub your sbnoot, Sharley—I oney vant you do hold ub your head. Don'd dink eferypody is any bedder dan you are—don'd dink you are any bedder as eferypody else—oney dink dot you are chust so goot.

Now, here comes a man dot has made himself. He needn'd dank anypody. Dis is der Honorapie John Morrissey, Memper of Congress, und he is Honorapie, doo. Peebie may dalk so much as dey like bound his bein' a bgdger; he has got more to say in one hour in his leedle doe dan half of der men in Washington has in der hole podies. In Vall und Proad sbdreets his vord is chust so goot as a dwendy dollar gold biece, und id vill bass chusd so gwick und gwicker, cause gold dollar dises is so sgarce now a days peeble vood be afraid of dem. Yes, sir, John Morrissey is a man dot has made himself. He don'd owe der vorld a cend nor any von bid. Well, Sharb, shrews pisness man, und however much prayin' peebles may alsgweal, he don'd do as some of dem do, bray und holler all day bung-day und sbdeal like der dem all der veek. Dot's relichion now a days, Sharley. Dot's early piety.

Here comes a nice young feller, bud he is gidding so sadoud dot of he keebs on he vill hafe to hafe his vaggon made vider. Dis is young George Law, son of old George Law. George is a gwiek, easy-goin' young feller; likes a good horse, und after a dake a care of he von. I don'd know so much about him now as I use do ad yon dime, cause I don'd see him so often as I use do. I presume dot he hasn't aldered any, und he is as good a feller now as he ever vas. George use do blay der banjo poody vell ub dime, und he vas a leedle on der sing, doo. He cood sing a nice song; many und many dimes I heerd him und Billy Gassner, mit der beeor boys, coming down Fid Afenue of a glear, moonlide nide, sing, "Come vere my loaf lies dreaming," und dey cood sing id, doo. Der peebles all knew who dey vas, und ven dey vood came along der vinders vood go ub und der young ladies vood sbdick deir heads out in der neglige und clab deir hands. Sharley, neglige, dot's a French vord, und id means night shird —nay, nighd, und lige, shird. Ven you know French den id's easy to yon—see? Gread head I hafe god, young feller; dere is more in id as a fine deeth comb vood dook oud. Good day, George.

Here comes George McGrath—Alderman McGrath—I peg his bardon, I didn'd habben do dink of his didle. You hafe heerd dot ballad, "Ven I can read my didle glear," hafen'd you? Vell, George can read his didle glear to der Aldermanic shair of der Fourdeend Aldermanic Disdrict forever, und a couble days longer, of he vants do. Sharley, dey say, "Of you vant to kill a man bolidically, make him der Alderman of der disdrict he leefs in," bud whoever dried do kill George McGrath dot vay vas looney, cause he is sdronger now as he efer vas, und der beeples likes him bedder und bedder efery day. He is von of dese kind of men dot of he can do anyding for a young feller or a old feller, he vill do id, und of he can'd, he won't bromise, bud he vill say righd avay dot he can'd do id, dot id is imbossible. Dot's de vay he makes his friends—you can peleef him ven he tolds you anyding, und ven he says "No," den you can go und shwore dot he can'd do id, neider. Bolidicians, as a gheneral ding, I roomise more dan dey can fulfull, und dey gid in a hole der firsd ding dey know. "Come und see me nexd Dursday, und I vill hafe id fixed all righd," is blayed oud—der boys hafe drobbed on id. George nefer bromises, Sharley, mitoud makin goot.

Sharley, I musd gid one of dan vaggon und jake hands mit dis gendleman coming down der road. Dis is von of der men I dink a goot deal of. Dis is von of my Filadelfia friends, Misder Livingston, und dey vill begin do like id after a vile, und dink dot id is nadural. I don'd vant you do bolt ub your shnoot, Sharley—I oney vant you do hold ub your head. Don'd dink eferyb

BASE BALL.

TOUR OF THE NATIONAL CLUB.

NATIONALS vs. "HAYMAKERS."

The National Club, of Washington, D. C., arrived in town on the evening of Sept. 18th, and on the 19th left for Troy, to play their return game with the "Haymakers." Since their last visit to this vicinity, in October, 1867, the status of the Nationals has changed somewhat. During 1867, it will be recollected, the Nationals made their famous western and southern tour, which, up to that time, had been the most extended and successful of any similar affair ever attempted. At that time they were the champions of the south, and had such players as Wright and Brainard, now of the "Red Stockings;" Frank Norton, late of the Mutuals; and Berthrong, Parker, Gebney and Fletcher in their nine. The only ones now left of that famous team are Fox and Studley. Last season the Nationals remained comparatively idle, taking part in very few games. Their crack nine became scattered, and in their crippled condition the Marylands, of Baltimore, found no great difficulty in wresting the proud title of championship from them. At the commencement of the present season the affairs of the club took a turn for the better, and an endeavor was made to get together a nine worthy of the reputation of the club. Birdsall and Shelley, of the Unions, of Morrisania; Forker, of the Mohawks, of Brooklyn; Coughlin, of the Excelsiors, of Rochester, and other first class players joined their ranks, and the prospects were that a nine second to none south of Philadelphia would be got together. Efforts were made to secure Charley Pabor, the famous left hand pitcher of the Unions; but, for some reason unknown to us, they were not successful. Without a pitcher of any account, the club went through the greater portion of the present season, and was beaten on every hand. Finally Osborne, their present pitcher, was secured, and since his accession the club has met with greater success. On the occasion of the Mutual's trip to Washington, a few weeks ago, the Nationals defeated them by a score of 18 to 16.

As detailed in last week's CLIPPER, the Nationals left home on the 15th. Their first game was with the Maryland Club, of Baltimore, the score standing 23 to 12 in favor of the latter. On the 17th rain prevented them from keeping their engagement with the Keystone Club, of Philadelphia. On the following day they met the Athletics, and were again defeated, this time by 26 to 16.

The Nationals arrived in Troy early on the morning of the 20th, and during the day received every attention from the "Haymakers." The visitors were taken to the ball field about 2 P. M. in carriages, and at 2 the game commenced in the presence of a large crowd. The "Haymakers" assumed a slight lead in the first innings, and this they increased good-naturedly till the fifth innings, playing very steadily all the while. When the fifth innings was commenced, the score stood 12 to 4 in their favor, and it began to look as though the National would be badly beaten. In the balance of the game, however, the visitors improved in their batting, and in the last four innings scored 13, the "Haymakers" making 12 in the same time. The final score was 24 to 17. The score is given below:—

NATIONAL.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.	HAYMAKERS.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.
Brown, 1st b	..2	5	4	6	McAtee, 1st b	..4	2	2	6
Forker, 2d b	..2	3	3	5	M. King, c. f	..3	2	2	6
Coughlin, s s	..6	0	0	0	Powers, s s	..2	4	3	3
Shelley, 3d b	..3	1	1	3	Fisher, p	..4	2	3	6
Pelton, c f	..4	1	1	3	Flynn, r f	..5	2	1	0
Birdsall, c	..1	2	2	2	Carver, c	..1	4	4	10
Crane, 3d b	..6	0	1	1	Birdsall, c	..1	1	4	4
Zettlein, p	..3	2	3	3	Snyder, l f	..3	1	3	3
Pike, c f	..1	3	3	4	Osborne, p	..5	0	0	0
McDonald, r f	..2	3	1	1	Joyce, r f	..3	0	1	1
Totals	..27	17	18	31	Totals	..27	24	24	40

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
National	0	0	3	1	4	5	0	0	3—16
Haymakers	3	5	2	0	2	3	4	4	1—24

Umpire—Mr. Gaffney, of the Union Club, of Conoes. Scorers—Messrs. Scofield and Potts.

NATIONAL vs. MUTUAL.

The Nationals arrived in the metropolis from Troy on the morning of the 21st, and in the afternoon played the Mutuals at the Union ground. The weather was pleasant and there was a fair attendance of spectators. Somewhat tired out with the labors of their trip, and with one or two of their players disabled, the Nationals were in no condition to meet the Mutuals, and, as a consequence, were severely worsted. The game began at 3 o'clock, the Nationals being first at the bat. Fox led off, and should have been out, but had a life given him by Carleton; Forker carried his ball to centre field; Coughlin fouled to E. Mills; Shelley made a low hit to centre field, which was apparently safe, but Eggler went for it, and made a surprising catch, the effort being received with applause; Pelton hit a foul near first base, and was caught out by E. Mills, the innings ending for a blank, with Fox and Forker left. The Mutuals should have been similarly served, but through the loose playing of Shelley, Coughlin and Forker, five runs were made. Hatfield's ball was nicely stopped by Shelley, who threw wildly to first base; E. Mills fouled to Birdsall; Flanly was muffed by Coughlin; C. Mills was saved by Forker's careless handling of the ball; Swandel was alike lucky; Eggler was the first one to secure a base; Gedney also hit safely, sending Eggler home—making five runs, when neither of the first five strikers was entitled to his base. This was rather a poor send off, and seemed to have a depressing effect on the visitors. The second innings resulted in another "blinder" for the Nationals, while the Mutuals added two to their totals, loose play again marking the fielding of the visitors. In the third innings, Osborne, in throwing to second base, wrenched his arm. The ball did not seem severe to him, and Osborne pluckily stuck to his position. The effort was too great a tax, however, and he finally gave way to Birdsall, Forker going behind the bat. From this time out the Mutuals had an easy time of it, batting Birdsall freely, and scoring a total of 42 runs. The Nationals made their first run in the third innings, and secured 16 altogether. With the exception of two or three misplays, the Mutual's fielding was perfect, and in many respects brilliant. No less than three double plays were made—the work being done by Carleton, Flanly and E. Mills. But for the mishap to Osborne the game would have undoubtedly been more closely contested. Still, from the loose manner in which the Nationals fielded in the early part of the game, and which they kept up to some extent all through, the result was never in doubt. There seemed to be a want of unity among the National nine, which destroyed their efficiency. Each player seemed to act on his own hook, and in consequence everything went wrong. There is fair material among the players, and if they could bring themselves to work together, they would accomplish something. If they cannot better their exhibition in this game, they will return to their southern home with a list of defeats such as they never received before. The score in detail is given below:—

NATIONAL.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.	MUTUAL.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.
Fox, 2d b	..4	1	1	1	Hatfield, r f	..1	8	5	5
Forker, 1st b	..3	2	3	3	E. Mills, 1st b	..1	7	5	6
Coughlin, s s	..2	1	0	1	Flanly, 2d b	..1	4	5	7
Shelley, 3d b	..3	1	1	1	C. Mills, c	..4	4	3	7
Pelton, c f	..2	3	2	2	Swandel, 3d b	..5	2	3	7
Birdsall, c	..1	2	2	2	Eggler, c f	..3	4	5	8
Pike, r f	..2	2	1	1	Gedney, l f	..3	4	4	6
Osborne, p	..4	0	1	1	Carleton, s s	..4	4	3	5
Joyce, r f	..3	1	2	2	Wolters, p	..3	5	2	4
Totals	..27	17	13	21	Totals	..27	42	35	48

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
National	0	0	3	1	4	5	0	0	3—16
Mutuals	5	2	7	8	0	12	7	2	1—48

Home runs—Birdsall, 1; Studley, 1; Swandel, 1. Left on bases—Fox, 1; Forker, 1; Pelton, 1; Birdsall, 2; Studley, 2; Osborne, 2; Joyce, 1—10. E. Mills, 1; Flanly, 3; Swandel, 1; Eggler, 1—6. First base on errors and wild throws—Fox, 2; Forker, 1; Shelley, 2; Osborne, 2; Joyce, 1—8. Hatfield, 3; E. Mills, 3; Flanly, 1; C. Mills, 1; Carleton, 1; Wolters, 3—12. Fly catches—Coughlin, 1; Pelton, 1; Birdsall, 5; Studley, 3—10. Hatfield, 1; E. Mills, 4; Flanly, 1; C. Mills, 1; Swandel, 1; Eggler, 1; Carleton, 2; Wolters, 1—12. Foul bound catches—Forker, 1; Coughlin, 1; C. Mills, 1; Swandel, 1; Wolters, 1. Base play—Put out by Fox, 4; Forker, 11—15. Assisted by Fox, 3; Forker, 2; Coughlin, 5; Shelly, 4. Put out by E Mills, 9; Flanly, 5—12; assisted by Flanley, 5; Carleton, 4; E. Mills, 1; Hatfield, 1; Wolters, 1. Double plays—Carleton, Flanly and E. Mills, 3 times. Out on fouls—National, 8; Mutual, 6. Umpire—Mr. Elmendorf, of the Excelsior Club. Scorers—Messrs. Potts and Wildey. Time of game—Two hours and thirty minutes.

NATIONAL vs. ATLANTIC.

The rain storm which occurred on the 22d kept the Nationals from trying the strength of the champion Eckfords. On the 23d they met the Atlantics at the Capitoline, and, although they were defeated, their play exhibited a decided improvement over that shown in the Mutual game. The attendance was meagre, but the fortunate ones who were on hand were treated to a display that will take rank as one of the most brilliant of the many witnessed in this vicinity this season. For the first time since they left home the nationals won the toss, and the Atlantics took the bat. Pearce opened with a pretty hit to centre field; Smith was handsomely disposed off by Fox and Forker; Start hit safely, and, with Pearce, scored on a wild throw of Coughlin's; Chapman and Ferguson followed each other out in succession—the former on a foul fly to Shelley and the latter on a tip bound to Birdsall—the innings closing for two runs, when there should have been a cipher. Fox had a life given him by Smith, who, after stopping the ball nicely, threw wildly to Start; Crane and Start attended to Forker, and Coughlin and Shelley were tied by Pike and Chapman, the latter batting the Atlantics were blanked, and the Nationals scored two runs on good hits. Fox and Forker cooked Crane's goose; Zettlein, after making his base on a safe hit, was put out at the second by Birdsall's throw to Fox—a close decision; Pike was muffed by Coughlin, but was left, as McDonald fouled out to Forker; Lusk was no sooner up than he was out, Crane and Start doing the work; Birdsall, Studley and Joyce earned their bases, and the former scored, when Osborne and Fox were nipped in the bud—the former by Crane and Start, who were playing very prettily, and the latter on a foul to Ferguson.

The score was now even, with every indication that the game would be closely contested. Pearce opened the third inning, and was prettily fielded out by Coughlin and Forker; Smith was next out, Birdsall nipping him on a foul; Start, again in luck, made the only run, by stealing in from third when he should have been left on second, Chapman having a life given to him on an easy catch by Shelley; after the damage had been done, Chapman was thrown out by Coughlin sending to Forker. The Nationals were not so lucky, for although four men went to the bat, no runs were made—Coughlin, who made his base on a hit, being left. The outs were Forker by Crane and Start, Shelley on a foul fly to Smith, and Lusk on a handsome catch by Crane. The fourth innings was short and decisive. Neither side scored, and the score still remained three each. Ferguson was muffed by Forker; Crane hit to Fox, who attempted to touch Fergy and make a double, but Fergy wouldn't have it, so Crane was put out at first. Rob. found himself between the bases, where he was finally captured by the wily Pearce and Forker—pretty work. "The Charmer" hit safely to centre field, but was left, as Pike was flied by Studley. Birdsall led off for the Nationals, and secured his second base safely; Studley carried his ball well beyond the bases, and it looked safe enough, but Crane got under it and made another handsome catch. Osborne made a weak hit to Zettlein and sat down; Joyce also fell a victim to the insatiable Crane, and Birdsall was left.

The score was still three each, and the game was decidedly interesting. The Atlantics seemed unable to hit Osborne effectively, and were beginning to feel a little anxious, apparently. McDonald opened the fifth innings by popping one up for Osborne, who took it into camp; Pearce disturbed the timothy near first base, and went to second; Smith carried his ball too near third, and was thrown out by Birdsall; Start failed to get a good poke at the ball, and Coughlin caught Pearce left. Fox was first up, and made his base safely; Forker followed suit, sending Fox home, and finally scoring himself, on a passed ball; Coughlin was flied by Crane—a handsome catch; Shelley made a safe strike to centre field, and also scored on a passed ball; Lusk fouled out; Birdsall and Shelley both secured their bases, but were left, as Osborne struck out. This left the score 6 to 3 on the even five innings, and for the first time the Nationals began to realize the fact that they had a chance to win. They failed to avail themselves of it, however, as they gave the Atlantics four runs in the sixth innings, when one was the most they were entitled to. Chapman made his base on a hit, and was entitled to his run; Ferguson flew out to Coughlin, and Crane fouled to Birdsall; Zettlein should have been third out, but Coughlin muffed him. Afterward Pike and McDonald made runs, Smith being third out from Fox to Forker, with Pearce left again. The Nationals were disposed of in one, two, three order, Joyce and Forker at first, and Fox on a fly to Chapman.

The result of this innings gave the Atlantics the advantage for the first time, and virtually settled the contest. In the remaining three innings the Atlantics improved in their batting while the Nationals fell off—the former scoring 14 and the latter 4. The final score was 21 to 10. The brilliant fielding of Crane was the feature of the game. He made three remarkable catches, while his stopping and throwing to first base was noteworthy. Fox, Shelley and Coughlin played good and bad by turns. Some of the former's fielding to first base was very handsome, but was frequently marred by his wild throwing. The score in detail is appended:—

ATLANTIC.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.	NATIONAL.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.
Pierce, s s	..4	2	5	6	Fox, 2d b	..3	2	1	1
Smith, 2d b	..4	3	1	1	Forker, 1st b	..3	3	2	2
Start, 1st b	..3	4	2	3	Coughlin, s s	..3	2	2	2
Chapman, l f	..3	3	3	3	Shelley, 3d b	..3	2	2	2
Ferguson, c	..4	2	2	2	Lusk c f	..5	0	0	0
Crane, 3d b	..6	0	1	1	Birdsall, c	..1	1	4	4
Zettlein, p	..3	2	3	3	Snyder, l f	..3	1	3	3
Pike, c f	..1	3	3	4	Osborne, p	..5	0	0	0
McDonald, r f	..3	3	1	1	Joyce, r f	..3	0	1	1
Totals	..27	21	20	23	Totals	..27	10	16	18

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Atlantics	2	0	1	0	0	4	2	5	7—21
Nationals	1	2	0	0	3	0	1	0	3—10

Umpire—Mr Macdiarmid, of the Star Club. Scorers—Messrs. Gill and Potts. Time of game—2 hours.

Fly-catches—Pearce, 1; Smith, 2; Chapman, 2; Ferguson, 2; Crane, 4; Zettlein, 1; Pike, 3—total 15 Forker, 1; Coughlin, 2; Shelley, 2; Birdsall, 1; Studley, 2; Osborne, 1; Joyce, 1—total 10. Foul bound catches—Ferguson, 2; Coughlin, 1; Birdsall, 5. Base play—Put out by Start, 9. Assisted by Pearce, 1; Crane, 6; Zettlein, 1. Put out by Fox, 2; Forker, 7; Coughlin, 1. Assisted by Fox, 2; Coughlin, 2; Shelley, 3. Catches on strike-s—1. Run out—Ferguson, by Fox and Forker. Out on fouls—Atlantic, 7; National, 6.

NATIONAL vs. ORIENTAL.

The Nationals played their third and last game in this vicinity on Sept. 24th. On that occasion they had for their opponents the amateur Orientals. The meeting seemed to excite very little interest, and the attendance was confined to a few hundred spectators. The game opened sharply, and promised to be a close contest. For the first six innings the Nationals made very little headway; the pitching of Fitzsimmons, of the Orientals, seemed to bother the visitors not a little, backed up as he was by sharp fielding. The Orientals, on the contrary, found no difficulty in hitting Osborne, although it is but justice to say that he was not properly supported in the field. At the end of the sixth innings the score stood 16 to 9 in favor of the Orientals, and it began to look as though the Nationals would be badly beaten. In the seventh innings, however, the game took one of those sudden changes that often turn an assured victory into a disastrous defeat. Osborne led off, and took his base on called balls; Joyce, Fox and Forker followed with safe hits, and all scored; Coughlin hit at a ball over his head, and fouled out; Shelley was napped by Coffee; Lusk made his base on a good stroke to left field; Brown gave Birdsall a life, and Coffee was equally magnanimous toward Studley; Osborne again to the bat, hit rapidly, and Joyce and Fox followed suit, and the play became very lively. Ten runs had now been made, and the Orientals were becoming somewhat demoralized. The Nationals had gained confidence from the wild throwing and loose play in general of their antagonists, and were hitting Fitzsimmons freely. Before the last hand was put out 18 runs had been scored, and as the Orientals were neatly disposed of without a run, the score stood 22 to 16 on the even innings. This settled the contest beyond a peradventure. In the last two innings the Nationals punished Fitzsimmons and McGee, who was substituted, for 14 runs, while the Orientals were only allowed to score 5. The final score was 36 to 21—a plucky up-hill fight—and a right good victory for the worn out Nationals.

The game calls for no detailed description. With the exception of the splendid rally made by the visitors, it was wholly without interest. The Orientals had the game well in hand, and should have won it, but through their wild playing let it slip through their hands. They have a fine amateur nine, and with a little discipline, will prove tough customers to most of our clubs. The outfielding of Hartly and Hinneman, was without fault. The catching of Bunting behind the bat was the feature of the meeting, no less than nine fouls being taken by Griers; Birdsall, of the Nationals, who had to decline catching on account of the bad condition of his hands, did well in the field. Fox was unfortunate at first base, but managed to capture twelve of the Oriental chaps. Studley fielded well, taking three flies in style, and Lusk played second base like a veteran. The score, in full, is given below:—

NATIONAL.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.	ORIENTAL.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.
Fox, 1st b	..6	2	3	3	McGee, 3d b	..3	3	0	0
Forker, c	..3	4	3	3	Hartley, c f	..3	3	3	3
Coughlin, s s	..3	5	6	10	Delmadge, 1st b	..5	1	1	1
Shelley, 2d b	..3	3	6	7	Hinneman, c. l f	..4	2	2	2
Lusk, 2d b	..3	4	5	5	Bunting, c	..3	3	4	6
Birdsall, c f	..3	3	3	6	Fitzsimmons, p	..3	1	1	1
Studley, l f	..3	1	2	2	Coffee, s s	..3	2	2	2
Osborne, p	..3	4	2	2	Gallaher, 2d b	..3	2	2	4
Joyce, r f	..2	4	5	6	Mason, r f	..4	2	1	1
Totals	..27	35	34	44	Totals	..27	21	16	20

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
National	3	4	2	0	0	2	13	9	5—36
Oriental	3	4	2	1	5	1	0	0	1—21

Home runs—Coughlin, 1; Birdsall, 1. Fly catches—Fox, 1; Shelley, 1; Lusk, 1; Birdsall, 5; Studley, 3—9. Hartley, 2; Hinneman, 3; Fitzsimmons, 1; Coffee, 2; Bunting, 5; Mason, 1—14. Foul bound catches—Put out by Fox, 1); Lusk, 2; assisted by Forker, 1; Coughlin, 4; Shelley, 4; Lusk, 4. Put out by Bunting, 1; Gallaher, 2; assisted by Fitzsimmons, 2; Coffee, 3; Mason, 1. Run out—McGee by Osborne and Lusk. Out on fouls—National, 11; Oriental, 2. Umpire—Mr. Hatfield, of the Mutual Club. Scorers—Messrs. Potts and Miller. Time of game—Two hours and forty-five minutes.

WHITE vs. BLACK.

The Alert club (colored) of Washington, D. C., backed by some of the public men of the city, challenged the Olympic club to a series of games. The challenge was accepted, and the first game played on the National grounds, Sept. 20th, in the presence of a large assembly of both sexes and colors, and quite a number of prominent government officials. The game was a success in all respects. From the manner of handling the ball, before the game, it was thought that the Alerts would give the Olympics close work, but in a game of seven innings the colored gentlemen were beaten by a heavy score. They could not bat Leech, five of them striking out. The four runs were given by errors in the fielding of the Olympics. The fielding and base play of the Alerts was good. Hurley made a fine one hand catch, sharp from the bat, and played well at the bat, making no bases on errors. Below is the score:—

OLYMPIC.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.	ALERT.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.
Force, 3d b	..1	7	7	11	Bouldin, l f	..3	1	1	1
Beach, s s	..3	3	4	4	Snowden, s s	..3	0	2	1
Malone, c	..1	8	7	7	Thompson, 3d b	..1	1	1	1
Young, r f	..2	7	7	10	Richardson, r f	..2	1	0	0
Hurley, 2d b	..1	8	5	8	J. Nelson, p	..2	0	1	1
Bennett, 1st b	..0	5	4	5	Brown, c f	..3	0	0	0
Barrett, c f	..3	5	4	7	P. Nelson, c	..3	0	0	0
Robinson, l f	..3	5	5	7	Dent, 2d b	..3	0	0	0
Leech, p	..2	5	5	6	Bland, 1st b	..1	1	1	1
Totals	..21	55	45	65	Totals	..21	4	6	6

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th
Olympic	8	9	7	13	8	9	5—59
Alerts	0	0	2	0	0	2	0—4

Fly catches—Hurley, 3; Force, 2; Reach, 1; Leech, 1; Malone, 2; Robinson, 1—10. Thompson, 1; Snowden, 2; J. Nelson, 1; P. Nelson, 1; Bouldin, 1; Bowne, 1; Richardson, 1. Foul bound catches—Force, 1; Malone, 2—3. P. Nelson, 2; Bouldin, 1—3. Base play—Put out by Emmett, 3; assisted by Hurley, 3; Leech, 1—3. Put out by Bland, 7; Dent, 2—9; assisted by Dent, 2; Thompson, 1; Snowden, 2; J. Nelson, 2; Richardson, 1—8. Struck out—Reach, 1. Richardson, 1; J. Nelson, 1; Dent, 2; Bland, 1—5. Out on fouls—Olympic, 3; Alert, 6. Double play—Richardson and Dent. Errors of play—Olympic, 10; Alert, 41. Passed balls—Olympic, 4; Alert, 12. Umpire—Dr. L. Hart, Union B. B. C. Scorers—Messrs. Miller and Johnson. Time of game—2 hours and 10 minutes.

PUTNAM vs. WARREN.

The Putnam Club, of Troy, a crack junior organization, arrived in town on the 21st, to engage a number of our leading juniors. On the 21st they met the Keystones, the champions, at Hoboken, and defeated them by a score of 40 to 16. On the 23d they engaged the Warrens, and in six innings vanquished them. The score:—

PUTNAM.	H.L.	R.	WARREN.	H.L.	R.
L. Van Alstyne, r f	..1	3	Keech, 2d b	..0	2
Bunting, 1st b	..2	3	Hafter, s s	..2	2
Stoughton, c f	..3	2	Jolly, l f	..3	2
R. Van Alstyne, 3d b	..2	3	Talley, p	..3	2
Hartnett, c	..3	2	Burtis, c f	..3	2
Dakin, s s	..2	3	Emery, c	..3	1
Bullis, 2d b	..1	4	McCardin, 3d b	..0	2
Kelley, l f	..2	2	Loyd, r f	..3	1
"Norris," p	..3	3	Marks, 1st b	..2	0
Total	..27		Total	..12

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th
Putnam	6	11	13	9	0	4—27
Warren	6	0	4	0	0	2—12

Umpire—Mr. Stevens, of the Knickerbocker Club. Scorers—Messrs. Pearson and McCullough.

MARYLAND vs. JEFFERSON.

The Maryland Club, of Baltimore, and the Jeffersons, of Washington, were opposed to each other, at the former place, on the 20th ult., the champions of the south winning by the score below given:—

MARYLAND.	H.L.	R.	JEFFERSON.	H.L.	R.
Hooper, r f	..3	5	McClellan, 2d b	..2	2
Goldsmith, 2d b	..2	4	Doyle, s s	..5	1
Buch, 3d b	..2	4	Lake, 3d b	..3	3
Sellmann, s s	..1	3	Anderson, p	..3	3
Mathews, p	..1	5	McCauley, l f	..4	2
Mincher, l f	..4	3	Finney, 1st b	..3	4
Reese, 1st b	..5	2	"Nivac," r f	..3	1
Glenn, c	..3	2	Morgan, c	..3	2
Armstrong, c f	..3	3	Wilson, c	..4	1
Total	..29		Total	..19

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Maryland	3	1	2	6	3	12	3	1	1—29
Jefferson	4	3	0	6	0	0	0	0	0—19

Umpire—Mr. Chenowith, Pastime B. B. C.

KEYSTONE vs. OLYMPIC.

On Tuesday, Sept. 21st, an interesting game of base ball was played between the Keystone and Olympic Clubs, on the grounds of the Athletic Club, Philadelphia, resulting in favor of the Keystone. We subjoin the score:—

OLYMPIC.	H.L.	R.	KEYSTONE.	H.L.	R.
Kern, 2d b	..4	1	Dick, c	..2	3
Dorsey, 3d b	..2	1	Flowers, s s	..4	2
Rorke, s s	..3	1	Weaver, l f	..4	2
Lovett, p	..3	1	Fulmer, p	..4	2
Oram, r f	..3	1	Woods, c f	..3	1
Severn, 1st b	..3	1	Bechtel, 3d b	..4	1
Miller, c	..3	1	McKenna, 1st b	..4	0
Clinton, c f	..3	0	Gwynn, r f	..3	3
Roh, l f	..4	1	Ewell, 3d b	..3	1
Total	..29	10	Total	..37	17

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Olympic	0	0	1	0	0	0	2	5	2—10
Keystone	3	1	0	1	1	0	6	3	1—17

LOWELL vs. EXCELSIOR.

These clubs played a friendly game on Boston Common, on the 18th of Sept., the score standing as follows:—

LOWELL.	H.L.	R.	EXCELSIOR.	H.L.	R.
Lovett, p	..3	4	W. Coe, s s	..4	0
Joslin, 3d b	..2	3	Bunting, 2d b	..3	1
W. Burlen, l f	..3	4	R. Coe, r f	..5	0
Bettely, 1st b	..5	1	Dillon, l f	..3	0
Conant, s s	..3	4	Wilmot, c	..5	1
Lowell, l f	..3	3	Zabala, 3d b	..3	0
Bradbury, c	..3	3	Haynes, 1st b	..3	1
Mason, 2d b	..3	3	Clark, p	..4	4
R. Burlen, r f	..2	3	Beecher, c f	..4	0
Totals	..27	30	Totals	..37	8

Umpire—Andrew Geyer, of the Eon Club, of Portland. Scorers—E. C. Nickels and W. H. Dillon.

FOREST CITY vs. RED JACKET.—A game was played at Cleveland, O., on the 18th of Sept., for the benefit of the Forest City, which had returned from their tour on the 15th prior. The attendance of spectators was rather light-waisted. The innings tell the result:—

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Forest City	5	1	8	2	5	13	0	10	0—44
Red Jacket	2	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—4

HARVARD vs. FAIRMOUNT.—The first nines of the Harvard Club, of Cambridge, and the Fairmount, of Marlborough, Mass., met on Jarvis' field, on Sept. 18th, with the following result:—

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Harvard	0	4	3	6	0	0	7	1	6	7—40
Fairmount	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	3	0—6

TOURNEY.—A ball tournament is to be held at the Lowell, Mass., Riding Park, commencing on the 4th inst. It will continue until the prizes—a silver ball, valued at $100, for the best club in the state, and another, of the value of $50, to the best club in Lowell—are disposed of. It is expected that the competition will introduce all the leading clubs of the Bay State, and the project prove a success. We hope so.

TESTIMONIAL GAME.—Messrs. Meagher and Crooks, of the Kentucky Club, of Louisville, Ky., formerly respectively of the Buckeye and Cincinnati clubs, were tendered a complimentary benefit on Sept. 16th, at Cedar Hill Park, by the different Louisville clubs, picked nines being formed from them and the Cincinnati Buckeyes.

SOUTHERN BASE BALL CLUB FESTIVAL.

The long looked for festival of this club took place on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12th, at the Fair Grounds, New Orleans, La. The day was cool and pleasant, and quite a large attendance participated in the sports and play provided for the occasion, which commenced early in the morning by a game of ball between the Southern, Jrs., and Lone Star, Jrs., which resulted in the success of the former, the score standing 41 to 8. After this there was a second nine match between the R. E. Lee and Washington B. B. clubs, the score being 55 to 13 in favor of the Lees. The prizes for both these matches were handsome blue silk flags, with the word "champion" inscribed thereon. Next was the throwing match for a silver medal, which was won by A. B. Johnston, of the R. E. Lee club, who also won the 100 yards foot race for a similar prize in 11¾ seconds, Mr. Wm. Stevenson winning the 200 yards race, for a silver medal, in 0:34½, and Mr. H. C. Johnston the 500 yard race in 1:03¾. After this there were several fine races between various fire companies for prizes, including a service race by the horse Morgan and ten men, belonging to Irad Ferry, No. 12, who ran half a mile with hand engine, took suction and threw water through fifty feet of hose against time. The run was made on 1:47½, and water thrown in 1:58, beating time six seconds, which was fixed at 2:04. The great race of the day was the quarter of a mile race, with the usual conditions, between Mechanics' No. 6 and Irad Ferry No. 12, for a beautiful silver water cooler and three goblets. The race was won by No. 6, who did the run in 1:02, and threw water in 1:11¼, No. 12 doing the run in 1:07, water in 1:21¼; but it must be taken into consideration that the men of No. 12 had already run a mile, a half mile of the track being heavy, and ten of them had participated in the half mile service race.

During these contests on the race track a fine game of ball was played by the recent traveling nine of the Southern club against a picked nine from the Louisiana Association, the prizes to be nine gold medals to the nine best players, irrespective of the side they may play on, as decided by the following judges:—J. Howard, G. Scott, W. J. Gilthorpe, W. F. Tracy, and our correspondent, "Crescent." The following is the score of the game:—

SOUTHERN.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.	PICKED NINE.	H.L.	R.	1st.	T.
Holtzman, 2d b	..3	4	3	9	Bond, c	..4	1	3	3
Larkin, 2d b	..2	4	4	6	Donovan, p	..3	3	3	3
Hemingway, l f	..3	5	5	8	Chenneville, 1st b	..4	0	2	2
Patterson, 1st b	..3	3	2	5	Brown, 2d b	..3	2	4	7
Martin, p	..2	4	2	3	Lewis, p	..3	2	3	3
Nelson, l f	..3	3	6	8	Crosby, 1st b	..3	3	2	2
Kearns, c	..3	3	5	5	Hicks, c	..3	3	2	2
Devyr, s s	..3	4	4	5	Larkin, c f	..3	3	5	5
Tracy, 2d b	..2	5	5	11	Parker, r f	..5	0	0	0
Brownell, r f	..4	2	3	4	C. Hatch, l f	..4	2	3	4
Finkham, c f	..5	2	2	2	J. Hatch, s s	..2	4	4	4
Totals	..27	30	30	53	Total	..27	23	24	31

INNINGS.	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th
Eckford	11	0	4	3	4	7	0	0	3—33
Harmonie	0	4	1	0	4	7	4	5	1—23

Umpire—Mr. Swandel, of Mutual

THEATRICAL RECORD.

Movements, Business, and Incidents of the Theatrical, Circus, Musical and Minstrel Profession.

City Amusements.

DIRECTORY, PRICES CURRENT, AND TIME TABLE.

This department is intended to supply a want long felt not only among strangers visiting the city, but among many of our resident population. In the advertisements in the daily papers, prices of admission to our places of amusement, as well as the time the doors open, and performances commence, are in many instances omitted, and much inconvenience and dissatisfaction is created thereby. The annexed directory will obviate all that.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—14th street corner of Irving place.—Admission $1, without extra charge for reserved seats; Family Circle, 50c.; Private Boxes, from $12 to $6. Doors open at 7, commences at 8.

BOOTH'S THEATRE—23d street and 6th avenue.—Orchestra and Parquet Circle, $1.50; Balcony and Circle, $1; Gallery, 50c. Doors open at 7½, commences at 8.

BRYANTS' MINSTRELS—14th street, between 3d and 4th avenues.—Orchestra, 75c.; Dress Circle and Parquet, 50c.; Gallery, 25c. Doors open at 7, commences at 8.

BOWERY THEATRE—Bowery, between Canal and Bayard streets.—Balcony and Orchestra, 75c; Parquet, 50c; Second Circle, 50c, Gallery, 20c. Doors open at 7, commences at 8.

CENTRAL PARK GARDEN—7th avenue, between 58th and 59th streets.—Admission, 35c. Commences at 8.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE—24th street, near 5th avenue.—Orchestra and Dress Circle, $1; Family Circle, 50c. Doors open at 7, commence at 8.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—8th avenue and 23d street.—General Admission, 50c.; Orchestra Chairs, Balcony and Parquet Circle, $1; Admission, 50c.; Orchestra Chairs (4 persons), $6; Proscenium Family Circle, 50c.; Private Boxes (4 persons), $6; Proscenium Boxes (6 persons), $10. Matinee Prices—General Admission, 50c.; Reserved Seats, 75c; Family Circle, 25c. Doors open at 1 and 7, commences at 1½ and 8.

NIBLO'S GARDEN—Broadway, above Prince street. Orchestra, $1.50; Parquet Circle and Balcony, $1; Gallery, 50c. Doors open at 1.30 and 7.30 commences at 2 and 8.

OLYMPIC THEATRE—Broadway, between Houston and Bleecker streets.—Orchestra and Balcony, $1.50, Reserved, in Dress Circle, $1; Dress Circle and Parquet, 75c; Family Circle, 50c; Children (for matinee only) 50c; Balcony Seats, for matinee, $1. Doors open at 12½ and 7, commences at 1½ and 8.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS—Broadway, between Prince and Houston streets.—Orchestra Chairs, $1; Parquet, 75c.; Gallery, 50c.; Private Boxes, $6. Doors open at 7, commence at 8.

STADT THEATRE—45 and 47 Bowery, below Canal street.—

STEINWAY HALL—Fourteenth street, near 4th avenue.

THEATRE COMIQUE—Broadway, opposite St. Nicholas Hotel.—Parquet and Dress Circle, 50c.; Gallery, 25c.; Orchestra and Balcony Chairs, $1; Private Boxes, $6 and $5. Doors open at 1½ and 6½, commences at 2 and 8.

TONY PASTOR'S OPERA HOUSE—Bowery, opposite Spring street.—Reserved Seats, 75c.; Parquet, 35c.; Family Circle, 25c.; Orchestra Chairs, 50 cents; Private Boxes, $5 and $3. Doors open at 2 and 7, commences at 2½ and 8.

TAMMANY—14th street, between 3d and 4th avenues.—General admission, 50c; Reserved Seats, 25c. extra; Orchestra Chairs, 50c. extra. Doors open at 1 and 7, commences at 2 and 8.

THEATRE FRANCAIS—14th street near 6th avenue.—Private Boxes, $10 and $8; Reserved Seats in Parquet and Dress Circle, $1 50; Admission, $1; Proscenium Boxes, $15; Gallery, 50c. Doors open at 7, commences at 8.

WALLACK'S THEATRE—Broadway corner of 13th street.—Orchestra, $1.50; Parquet, 75c.; Dress Circle, $1; Gallery, 50c. Doors open at 7½, commence at 8.

WOOD'S MUSEUM—Broadway and 30th street.—Matinee—Museum and Family Circle, 30c.; Museum and Dress Circle or Parquet 50c.; Museum and Reserved Seats, 75c. Evening—Museum and Family Circle, 50c.; Museum and Dress Circle or Parquet, 75c.; Museum and Reserved Seats in Dress Circle or Parquet, 75c.; Museum and Orchestra or Balcony Chairs, $1. Open from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M. Performance commences at 2 and 8.

Clipper Post Office.

☞ A STAMPED ENVELOPE, plainly addressed, must be enclosed for each and every letter sent for. Where there are two or more persons or like name in the profession, the line of business followed by the party addressed should be given in order to prevent mistakes.

Abbott, Chas.	Fish, J. S.	Neville, C.
Antonio, W.	Fortescue, G. K.	Noyes, C.
Aiken, A.	Forepaugh, A.	Newhall, F. (2)
Ames, C. L.	Foote, Com.	Nickle, R.
Adams, Charles F.	Forbes, Charles	Oliver, R. R.
Arlington, Wm. (2)	Glie , Edwd.	O'Connor, A.
Bideaux, Gustave	Gurr, Harry	Percy, Duane,
Blum, J.	Georgia Minstrels,	Pollit, C.
Bishop, Gonsalvo	Gleason,	Price, A.
Bernardo, Tommy	Grady, G. G.	Prescott, D. K.
Bristol, C. B.	Hicks, Chas. B.	Pettengill, C.
Black, Dick,	Harrison, W. B.	Park, D.
Bly, F. C.	Hodges, D. B.	Pirhon, M. R.
Bergeron, Alphonse	Hurley, Henry	Quick, F. H.
Bishop, G.	Hicks, L. E.	Rogers, S.
Barber, W.	Hall, E. G.	Richards, W.
Benedict, Lew	Hoch, H.	Robinson, J. T.
Baldwin, D. S.	Hudson, P. O.	Robinson, J. D.
Bulslay, T.	Holtum, Herr (2)	Rogers, Neil,
Bray, Walter	Harman, Richard	Roberts, D. (2)
Bergan, E. B.	Hard, J. Z.	Reese, Johnny
Baker, T. B.	Hart, H.	Richards, Warren A.
Booker, Harry (2)	Huntley, J.	Straight, Nell
Brandisl, J.	Heath, D. M.	Sowes, John (3)
Booker, H.	Henry, H. F.	Stevens, J. A. (4)
Butler, R. W.	Howard, V.	Surridge, F. H.
Batchelor, George	Hunter, D. O.	Sergeant, H. J.
Charles, J. M.	Hamilton, Dan	Scott, A.
Clark, K.	Kendell, E. P.	Showles, J. J.
Carroll, J. W., (or Cassady, A.)	Keegan, Johnny	Stevens, L. S.
	Kelly, E.	Stewart, G. W.
Cobb,	Kent, Frank	Saylor, J. W.
Campbell, F.	Kent, J. H.	Stone, Eaton
Carroll, W. B.	Langdon, T. F.	Spaulding, W. P.
Cook,	Leslie, Harry	Sacket, J.
Conrad, C.	Lent, E. B.	Talbot, H. J.
Canham, T. G., Prof.	Lee, J. W.	Troworidge, L. F.
Collier, Sam	Langley, G.	Tournaire, L.
Collins, J. B.	Lesudie, Clarance	Tannenbaum, Jacob
Castello, Dan	Lopez, Sig.	Thompson, W. J.
Campbell, J. C.	La Forest, C.	Taylor, C. W.
Coleman, D. W.	Mayne, W. W.	Way, R.
Coles, E.	Mesarsmith, Augt.	Whitman, J. B. (2)
Clark, William	Mudge, H. T.	Wallace & Wood,
Collins, James	Myers, J. C.	Wallace, H. S. (2)
Cummings, Frank	McHugh, S.	West, Silas
Cornish, J.	Mortimer, J. M.	Warner, C.
Chambers, W. H.	Melville, C.	Wolohon, Z. T.
Doud, O. B.	Myers, O. P.	Willie, Richard
Devere, S.	Marshall, B. W.	Wambold, J.
De Sante, P.	Marshall, H. A.	Williams, Gus
Edwards, J.	McAuliffe, T.	Warner, J. E.
Edwards, T. A.	Moore, Chester	Wiseman, Prof.
French, H.	McCullum,	Washburn, Leon
Fish, C. W.	Mora, H. E.	Weaver, Dick
Franklin, W.	Moore, C. C.	Weightman, Chas.

Songs for the People.

In this department we intend to give, either weekly or from time to time, as space will permit, original songs, composed expressly for the CLIPPER, comprising sentimental, comic, Ethiopian, etc., which our friends are at liberty to make use of, as we do not intend to copyright them. Of the series, below will be found

JUST SAY THAT YOU LOVE ME, ANITA.

Respectfully dedicated to Miss Anna Berger, of the Berger Family Swiss Bell Ringers.

Just say that you love me, Anita,
It will soothe a sore spot in my breast;
The days I'll enjoy with more pleasure,
The nights will be undisturbed rest;
Your heart it is brimful of kindness,
I know by the smile that you wear—
But you never have said that you love me—
Anita, why do you forbear?
Chorus—Just say that you love me, Anita,
And that will be all I shall ask;
Anita, just whisper it softly,
I am sure it is not a hard task.

Just say that you love me, Anita,
Why are you so silent and tame?
Where'er I attempt to caress you
You scarce drop me just the same.
If your cheek with a kiss I embellish,
You look with a dignified air,
And stare in my face with a vengeance;
Anita, why do you forbear?
Chorus—Just say that you love me, Anita, etc.

Just say that you love me, Anita—
'Tis all that I ask you to do;
And perhaps through this world, as we tarry,
I may in some way favor you.
How easy it is to say "Darling,
I love you, I do, I declare";
But that sentence you never have uttered;
Anita, why do you forbear?
Chorus—Just say that you love me, Anita, etc.

Just say that you love me, Anita,
And I vow to be yours throughout life;
'Twill encourage my heart, dearest jewel,
To hear you perhaps, say "my wife";
What is that I now hear? You have said it—
Then, Anita, you love me, you swear;
If so, you will never again hear me say,
Anita, why do you forbear?
Chorus—Just say that you love me, Anita,
You have said it again, do I ask,
Although you have whispered it softly
I am sure it was not a hard task.

Providence, R. I. SAMUEL N. MITCHELL.

Introductory Overture.

MONDAY, Sept. 27, '69.

The most exciting event of the week was the play of the "Gold Gamblers," on the Wall street stage, which electrified the whole country, and put barrels of money in the coffers of the managers and leading characters. Persons disposed to try their luck, or to have a shy at the belligerent tiger need no longer seek out the private faro banks with which our city abounds, but have merely to step down to the Coast of Algeria, where they can gamble in Wall and adjacent streets with as much publicity as when they take a lunch at mid-day. "Stocks up, stocks down"—gold running all the way from 133 to 164 in a few hours—fastest time on record, and the slow and easy going calculators beaten to a stand still by the members of the "Gold Ring," who are becoming almost as great adepts in trickery and fraud, as the disciples of our "Base Ball Ring," some of the latter having just added forgery to their other accomplishments. But this is light and easy business to some people, and we will get out of the Gold Ring and the Base Ball Ring, and turn our attention to some other subject. "Jimmy, what can you do for us on the machine to-day?" "Well, if a ton is not too heavy I might jerk it out." "Don't astonish us too much this time. Take it easy, and let her go."

A TONIC.

GROUND OUT BY "OUR JIM."

You may talk of locomotives,
And of steamers make a boast on;
But of all the moving powers,
It is ton the world goes most on.

Take the horny handed toiler,
Or the gent that sports a phaeton,
And high or low are all alike—
They'd be light without their weight ton.

Now, first, to take the dandy—
His existence is a swelling ton;
And the family physician
Has a trade that's but a Welling-ton.

The lawyers "sink" their little fees,
With Lisle-ton and Lee-ing-ton;
And the preachers, when they've preacht on,
Are from Middle-ton to Meddle-ton.

Then the solemn undertaker—
His work's of course a Mort-ton;
While the fireman, standing hose in hand,
Is an emblem of a pour ton.

Our actors, with play-tonic ways,
Are jovial in their act-ons;
While the beggar at the crossing walk
Very clearly shows a lack ton.

Opticians and the sailor boys
Alike possess a see ton;
And the butcher who supplies our "hash,"
Has a meat-ton in his meat-ton.

The ladies—('tis their sex-ton)—
Dispense their smiles d'ect-ton;
And the politician (who has gained)
Beams down in bland ale't-ton.

And our country has its queer ions,
Such as smashing-ton or rushing-ton;
But our greatest ion and truest ton,
Is the one we style our WASHING-TON.

APPENDIX, BY "OUR JIM."

Jentil reeder lemme tell ter ye,
Wot shan't not be a lost ton;
The KLIPPER, artho printed here,
Is allers run by Boss-ton!

.....There is no lack of variety in our amusements at the present time, there being a little of all sorts, and no taste need go away dissatisfied with the provender provided. At Wallack's, although dalling in "Scandal" for the past few nights, they will show better "Progress" for the current week, and drop the Scandal mongers.—At the Waverley, they are filled with "Carons," but if you are not satisfied with this kind of fare, you will find a "Keen" "Bancker," to ease you of your stamps, a "Carter" who will relieve you of the weight of woe you may be staggering under, and if that will not satisfy you, the manager will treat you to a "Horn."—The Olympic has been taking in its patrons to "Uncle Tom's Cabin," but next week the "Cabin" and all in it will be turned into the "Streets of New York."—The French Theatre has been giving us "Castle in the Air" of "You'll Remember Me," etc., while Rose Hersee has let Madame Parepa Rosa see that in Castle or Hall the entire force does not abide.—When Forrest last appeared in this city everybody had an opportunity to see the famous King Lear, but now, at Booth's Theatre, may be found the great Queen Leah, over whom our journals Crouse so lustily.—New York and Philadelphia are crying out about a scarcity of water, but if you want to see the great Western water works in full flow, visit the Grand Opera House to-morrow night, when Lucille Western will open the public fountains by her grand action in "East Lynne."—The San Francisco Minstrels have gone into the pedestrian business—leastwise, they have a dancer there who can "Leggett" with the best of 'em, and another who helps to get "All in" that the house will hold by his clever movements on the heel and toe. The dancing feat of these new comers will run for some time.—Although Bryants have a Griffin in their house, he is perfectly harmless, and will roar you as gently as a—Griffin. Daniel Bryant, as a lover of the arts, will show you representations of the classical colored statuary "all of the olden time," exhibiting the first black rascal, Cain, in the murderous attack upon his dis-able-d brother, from which dark deed emanated the late rebellion, and the slavery question. "Good mornin', nayger."—At Niblo's, we have a treat in the way of sport, and from the patronage and applause bestowed upon "Formosa," the public call upon the manager "for more, sir," of the same sort. A Thorne Burroughs at this house, but C. Thorne, and you will find him no "stick." And, as our poetic machine has given us some verses on the ion subject, we might say that we have a New-ton here, and a Hols-ton, who gives more than a whole stone weight to the value of the play.—Mary Priscilla came to us the other evening, and said she was going to the Academy of Music. "What are you going there for?" we innocently inquired, and what do you think was her shameful reply? She was "going to see her man," she had the audacity to tell us. Had we been of a jealous persuasion, the consequences might have been terrible for Herr-man.—They are awful wicked at the Bowery, for the managers have dealings with the worst sort of characters, and "play the devil" with things, if we may judge from their programme; "Satan" may be seen there every night.—A broken Dutch friend of ours says they have "so tam many" attractions at Tammany that he can't keep the run of them all. The Lauris make many a grimmace in their comicalities, while the applause bestowed upon the ex-champion's statuary does not make a grim Mace of him.—And now our favorite Butler is to open his budget of good things at the Theatre Comique, introducing to our notice the "quinquesque" figure of Rita Percy; whose figure, by the way, is no figure of speech, but an animated idealism of those works of art out of which the sculptors of Greece and Rome chiseled their living.—At Daly's Fifth Avenue Theatre, you have your choice of seeing "Old Heads and Young Hearts" on the stage, or among the audience, for the play on the stage is but a reflex of the reality in the auditorium.—And, speaking of the Fifth Avenue Daly, it might be mentioned that the Polly Daly, recently seen at Tony Pastor's, is not related to the other man except in a professional sense; nor must it be supposed that the Pastor alluded to is a strictly pious Pastor; and what songs he sings must not be confounded with Watt's psalms, although both are equally good in their way.—Wood's Museum is doing an all-day business, but it does not follow that it is all day with that establishment. Chang, the Giant, is to remain there for some time longer. Next Monday, the company of this house will be in "Peril," and as "Peril" ous performances are always sure to draw, this should prove no exception.—"I want to be an angel" has been the fond desire of many a gay and festive youth in his infantile years, but now many of those lively parties have given up that idea, and wish to become "Benevolent Elks," as you may judge by looking in at the Academy of Music to-morrow, Tuesday afternoon, when the Benevolent ones will assemble in their strength, and bask in the smiles of their benevolent patrons.—And while on the subject of home manufactures, let us remind you that the exhibition of the National Institute should induce you to institute inquiries into the ways and means by which our mechanical greatness has been brought about..... The latest, and, as he thinks, the most brilliant "spet off" of the youthful scion of his ancestors, who is the present ornament of our sanctum, is to the effect that boys in the gallery of the old Bowery remind him of a dairy, "cause there is always so much low noise among 'em." We remind him that such is not the case, as the low noise must be in the parquet.....But, speaking of shows, one must travel far and wide to see all the big things. We'll tell you

WHAT WE'D LIKE TO SEE.

We'd like to walk where once the Pharoahs did,
Upon the plains of Egypt's ancient land—
Where we could see the lofty pyramid
Appear amid the mighty waste of sand.

.....And that reminds us that as our waste of sand has about run out, we had better bring our introductory to a close.

City Summary.

WOOD'S MUSEUM is one of the institutions of this city, and is well worth a visit, for there are more curiosities living and dead—within its walls than in any other similar institution in this country. Setting aside the attraction to be seen afternoon and evening in the theatre proper, a stroll through the corridors and the different saloons—and there are a large number—will well repay any one. Nearly an entire day may be pleasantly passed in reviewing the thousands of attractions there presented. As you enter the museum building a cosmorama is seen. Ascending one flight of stairs brings you to the first corridor, from which entrance is made to the parquet of the theatre. On this corridor are large glass cases reaching from the floor to the ceiling, on both sides, and filled with rare stuffed birds and wild animals, while around and about hang Japanese curiosities of oil paintings and embroidery. Ascending a few steps to the saloons fronting Broadway, may be seen a great variety of Japanese curiosities, such as ancient arms and armor, ancient and modern coins, portraits of Japanese celebrities, worked by the needle, large collection of curious made fans, boxes and inlaw goods, shell pictures, idols and works of art ingeniously made, and well worthy of a close examination. They are all in glass cases arranged around the room. In one saloon is to be found the ornithological display. On the second corridor are large cases of some of the rarest shells known, while on the same floor is a case of stuffed wild animals. In the saloons off this corridor is the statuary department, the Happy Family cage, the Lord's Supper, illustrated by twelve mechanical figures; also other mechanical figures. In this large saloon the giant, Chang, and the dwarf, Admiral Fiske, are exhibited within a small enclosure throughout the day. On the upper corridor is the Aquaria, while around are hung autograph letters of celebrated personages and rare and curious bills, etc. From these corridors can be seen the mechanical goat and trumpeter, and suspended from the louve over the corridors is the mechanical Leotard, who does his trapeze performance so well that many believe it to be a living man. To enumerate all the curiosities would take more space than we can spare. Suffice it to say that Wood's Museum is well worth visiting to see the curiosities alone. In the theatre proper the performances presented the past week consisted of the drama of "The King's Musketeers" every afternoon, while in the evening the Zavistowski Sisters appeared in a burlesque written by James Pearce, a member of Mr. Wood's company, called "Wip Van Winkle." It is a poor affair. Emmeline appeared as Wip, Alice as Willie, and Christine as Zephyr. The burlesque was well put on the stage by Mr. Wood, and was handsomely costumed so far as the Zavistowskis are concerned. Emmeline did a banjo solo, and sang to the air of "Stop dat Knocking at the Door," with full chorus, and was heartily encored. She accompanied herself very well on the banjo. Alice did the song and dance of "Love Among the Roses" exceedingly well, and received an encore. If Alice would not speak quite so fast what she says could be better understood by the audience. Emmeline did the Dutch song of "Dat Gal Wot Winked at Me" capitally, excepting the dialect, which was more Irish than Dutch. Miss Emmeline and Alice are both young and pretty girls, and as talented as any sisters on the stage that make burlesque a specialty. Christine dressed handsomely, and danced very artistically. The burlesque on the Clodoche troupe is one of the best and most laughable affairs we have witnessed in a long time, and was received with shouts of laughter. Lizette Bernard, John Morton, George C. Charles and Alice Logan, all valuable members of the company, did as well in their respective roles as their characters would permit.

AN ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT was presented by Tony Pastor, at his Opera House, all the past week. Jennie Benson re-appeared after a brief absence in her clog dance, and Irish songs and dances. In her specialties she has no superior in the business, and there are few of the male clog dancers that can compare with her in that business. Walter Bray made his bow on the east side in his song and dance of "Sugar Bob." We have already spoken of this gentleman in this act, and have not since seen anything to alter our opinion. The Hibernian Boys gave an excellent take off of Delehanty and Hengler in the song and dance of "Walking in the Starlight." They must have watched them very closely during their late engagement at this house, for they have copied their every move, step, and twisting of the body, so that they do their entire business exceedingly well. These two boys are very clever song and dance performers, and if they continue practising together they will, no doubt, become as good as any in the business. Marie Gorendo is a good dansease, her toe movements being very fine. Pony Moore sang a number of new songs, and was encored five times. The house was crowded every night the past week.

PRESENTATION.—A gold finger ring, with an emblematic Masonic engraving, and a diamond breastpin, were presented to John C. Denham, machinist of the Tammany, during the past week, by Prof. Sylvester and the Lauri Family.

LOTTA commences her engagement at Niblo's Garden the first week in November.

LEGGET AND ALLEN, the two dancers brought to this country for the San Francisco Minstrels from London, made their debut in this city on Sept. 23d. They appear in closely fitting merino suits of blue, considerably covered with silver lace, and they wear high black gaiters, from which hang silver tassels, the whole being of the Polish costume. Two pedestals, about two feet high, standing upon four legs each, are brought upon the stage, when the dancers appear, and at once jump upon the pedestals and execute their double dance. From the novelty of their style they are pleasing, and as dancers they are clever. They will take well and become favorites, for their style is entirely different from any that we have here at present. The hall was crowded every night the past week, and this company are doing nearly as great a business as during their first season.

TAMMANY was in a blaze of glory on Saturday evening last, when various colored brilliant lights illuminated Fourteenth street, and fireworks and music gave a sort of 4th of July aspect to the surroundings. Whether the display was owing to the last appearance of the "velwet voiced Markham," or given as a free show for the outside public, we cannot say. Certain it is that it, combined with other attractions, had the effect to crowd the wigwam.

IS IT JUST THE THING for the manager of the Carlotta Patti's concerts to put Carlotta in small letters on his posters and Patti in very large types? Isn't it taking advantage of our own little Patti's great popularity to bring forward Carlotta?

JAMES MACE made his American debut on Sept. 20th in the Tammany, in the representation of Roman and Grecian statues, illustrating Hercules struggling with the lion, in five positions; the Roman fastening his sandal; Hercules throwing the quoit; the African alarmed at thunder; Ajax defying the lightning; Achille, the slave, sharpening his knife while overhearing the conspirators; Samson bearing away the gates of Gaza; the fighting gladiator, in three positions, and the dying gladiator. The scene was drawn back, and Mr. Mace was discovered standing erect and motionless on a pedestal. He was dressed in white merino, closely fitting the body, while his face was whitened, and he wore a white wig. Behind and on each side of him were arranged curtains of red cloth, hemming him in, while from the fys were thrown rays of different colored lime lights. He was formally introduced to the audience by his manager, Mr. Abrahams, with a few pertinent remarks, and the reception that was accorded him was very enthusiastic. Mr. Mace is a splendid figure, well proportioned in every particular, while his muscle works well, and could be seen to advantage through his sight fleshings. Mr. Mace learned his statue business from Harry Boleno, the celebrated English clown, and has been exhibiting through England for some time. So far he has been quite successful, as his performances have been witnessed each evening by large audiences, and he has been secured for two weeks longer, making his engagement for four weeks altogether.

PAULINE MARKHAM took a benefit at the Tammany on Sept. 24th, when one of the most crowded audiences yet seen in that building was in attendance. The entire pantomime of "The Queen of Hearts" was presented, also scenes from the burlesque of "Ixion," besides Sheridan and Mack in songs and dances, Goodrich and Moe, the skaters, and James Mace in his statues. In the burlesque Pauline Markham appeared as Venus, and Nellie Mortimer made her first appearance there as Mercury. The reception that was awarded Miss Markham was so great that we doubt if its equal has ever before been witnessed in this city. She was completely pelted with floral tributes in the shape of bouquets of every imaginable shape and size, from a small nosegay to a mammoth one standing about five feet high, in the shape of a pyramid, made of basket work, the bottom being an immense basket, a trifle larger than the top of a flour barrel, from which ran a little basket frame work, and then another basket a trifle smaller than the lower one, and at the top was another basket, filled with the choicest flowers, which was a little smaller than the second. From each basket were suspended smaller bouquets. The whole affair was very handsome, and cost, we should say, not over $175, although it was given out that $500 had been paid for it. The beneficiaire probably received about one hundred bouquets, for the stage appeared to be covered with them. It must have been very gratifying to those who had to pay the florists bills to have seen nearly every one of the ballet ladies, as well as some of the male hands of the house, carrying home the bouquets after the theatre was out.

THE WAVERLEY was run last week under the management of G. T. Reeder, with Sam Ryan as his stage manager. The company consisted of Polly Daly, Billy Devere, Gus Williams, Ada Boshell, Eph Horn, Ed. Banker, Rollin Howard, Billy Conker, Mlle. Devere, T. Waddleton, Master Sniffen and Mr. and Mrs. Brennan. This week the Zanfretta Family put in an appearance.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" is in the last week of its production at the Olympic. The revival of this drama has not been attended with success, as the day has passed for this kind of a play. Years ago it was a drama that suited the times, but not so now.

CLIFTON W. TAYLEURE opens the French Theatre, for a season of four weeks, on Oct. 4th, presenting F. S. Chanfrau, who will revive his play of "Sam," with Charles Parsloe and Georgie Langley in the cast. H. B. Phillips will be stage manager.

"THE STREETS OF NEW YORK" will be revived at the Olympic Theatre on Oct. 4th, with J. K. Mortimer as Badger, and Eliza Newton as Alida. Miss Newton will once more appear on the boards of a theatre where she was a great favorite during Mrs. John Wood's management.

"FORMOSA" continues to attract excellent audiences to Niblo's Garden, and deservedly so, for it is a good piece, is well placed upon the stage and judiously enacted. It will keep the boards until the last week in October, when it must be withdrawn to make way for the sprightly Lotta.

TONY PASTOR presents to the notice of his patrons this week what he calls a "leviathan company." His new people consist of Polly Daly, Gus Williams, Ada Johnson, Mons. Lee and Johnny Fortes.

"SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL," after being presented for ten nights at Wallack's Theatre to a succession of good houses, is withdrawn this evening, and Robertson's last comedy of "Progress" given, when Louisa Moore will make her re-appearance in this country. Manager Wallack announces that he will shortly revive Tom Taylor's comedy of "An Unequal Match," and will produce "Caste," both of which are in active preparation.

LUCILLE WESTERN has revived "Pauline" in a manner that has given it new life, for it has been attracting large and appreciative audiences to the Grand Opera House. She announces that her benefit will take place Sept. 28th, which is the one hundredth night of her engagement, when she will appear in "East Lynne," in which she first won her reputation. The "Tempest" will be revived before this lady closes her present engagement.

MRS. SCOTT SIDDONS makes her re-appearance in this city, on October 4th, as Viola, in "Twelfth Night," at the Fifth Avenue Theatre.

H. SMITH, from the Alhambra, San Francisco, arrived here on Sept. 24th. He comes with the delegation known as the California pioneers of 1849. During his stay here he will secure whatever may offer in the way of novelty for the California market.

MR. DALY is now in the seventh week of his management of the Fifth Avenue Theatre, during which time he has presented the dramas of "Divorce" and "Dreams," both of which have been placed on the stage in a manner never surpassed in this country. When this gentleman made his first announcements as to his intentions, he stated that nothing should be left undone to present his pieces in an unexceptionable manner, and make his theatre a fashionable one, and how well he has kept faith with the public has been seen. He has carried out the old proverb of "what is worth doing at all is worth doing well," for such magnificent stage settings and appointments, have seldom, if ever before, been equalled in this country. This week he announces that good old English comedy of "Old Heads and Young Hearts," for the 27th and 28th, and "London Assurance" for the 29th and 30th. Marie Longmore and Marie Wilkins make their first appearance there this season.

JAMES MACE, besides appearing in his statues at the Tammany, this week, shows himself in citizens dress, and with the aid of his manager, Mr. Abrahams, exhibits his belts and cups to the audience, and relates how he won them.

THE GROSS RECEIPTS of our theatres for the month of August, as sworn to before the Revenue Collectors, were as follows:—

Booth's	$41,834	Grand Opera House	$11,816
Niblo's	23,851	Tony Pastor's	5,153
New York Circus	21,264	Geo. Thomas' Concerts	2,139
Wallack's	21,736	Bowery Theatre	6,973
Wood's Museum	18,253	Fifth Avenue	5,517
Tammany	17,737	Waverley	2,496
Olympic	16,466	Theatre Comique	2,000

MRS. SCOTT SIDDONS returned to this city from Europe, accompanied by her husband, on Sept. 22d.

LEGGETT AND ALLEN, the clog dancers engaged for the San Francisco Minstrels, arrived here from England on Sept. 21st.

MR. HERRMANN continues his performances in magic, at the Academy of Music, on the off nights of the French Opera. We are told that Mr. Herrmann was not in good health during his first week, and could not do justice to himself. His entertainments the past week attracted large and appreciative audiences, and he did several feats never before attempted in this city. He is ably assisted by his brother, Alexander, who intends to continue in the business on the retirement of Mr. Herrmann. Next week is his last in this city, when he starts for an extended traveling tour, accompanied by E. W. Woolcott, who is now arranging his business for him.

THE THEATRE COMIQUE re-opens this evening as a variety theatre, under the management of Robert Butler, with the following company:—Mlle. Venturoli, Mlle. Augusta, D. L. Morris, Annie Hindle, Sheridan and Mack, Morris Pike, Annie Cornforth, Dick Ralph, J. Gainor, Lew Brimmer, Bob Smith, J. H. Carton, Master Jerry, George F. McDonald, stage manager, and Mons. Grossi, ballet master. Rita Percy, the statuesque performer, has been secured for a few weeks' star engagement, and will appear on the opening night in her classical draped statuary.

KATE BATEMAN CROWE made her first appearance in this city since her European tour on Sept. 20th, at Booth's Theatre, in John Oxenford's alteration of "Leah," differing very little if at all from Augustin Daly's original adaptation of the drama. Miss Bateman first presented this drama in Boston, and after playing it throughout the country produced it here at Niblo's Garden in Jan., 1863, with James W. Wallack, Jr., as Nathan, and Edwin Adams as Rudolf. During that same year she appeared in it in London, after it had been tampered with by John Oxenford. She played it with considerable success all over England, and re-appeared in London in 1865. Returning to New York in January, 1866, she repeated the same character at Niblo's Garden on the 15th. She paid another visit to Europe after her marriage, in October, 1867, and re-appeared in England as Leah. After an extended provincial tour she has returned to America to play another engagement with Edwin Booth, previous to her new piece of "Mary Warner." On her opening night at Booth's she was received by quite an enthusiastic, but not over crowded house, and throughout the week business was good, but not so great as during the Jefferson engagement. Miss Bateman appeared to much advantage as the abused Leah; in fact, we do not recollect ever seeing her play better. In the fourth act, where she delivers the curse, she was grand, and the applause that was bestowed upon her was prolonged and well deserved. She was called before the curtain at the close of each act, and received a large number of boquets. She was supported in an excellent manner by Theo. Hamilton as Nathan, who played better than we have ever before seen him play. George Jordan appeared as Rudolf, but did not appear to as great advantage as was expected, from the reputation he enjoyed here. He has grown more robust than when he was last here, and does not appear to take general interest in his acting. He was very mechanical in his movements until the fourth act, when he warmed up considerably. Probably he was laboring under the nervousness of a first night.

MESSRS. GENESE & CO., having established a new theatrical and musical agency at 23 Irving Place, announce that they are prepared to attend to the arrangement of all business connected with the profession, for manager and artist.

"ENOCH ARDEN," which was revived at Booth's Theatre on the evening of September 25th, will be repeated on Oct. 2d.

THE BOWERY THEATRE presents a French sensational drama this evening, called "Satan, or the Blind Girl of Paris."

THE PAREPA ROSA OPERA TROUPE are in the last week of their present engagement at the French Theatre. They open the current week with "Fra Diavolo," with Rose Hersee, Mrs. E. Seguin, Castle, and Campbell in the cast. "Maritana" is to be given on Sept. 28th, with Parepa Rosa in the title role, and "Martha" on Sept. 29th. This company perform in Brooklyn on Sept. 30.

DAN BRYANT has been creating considerable amusement at his minstrel hall the past week, doing the Grecian Statues in black, taking off Jem Mace, in a laughable manner. He creates much laughter by his striking poses. He repeats them this week. Eugene gives imitations of Parepa Rosa, and the entire company appear in a good minstrel entertainment. Business has been very good.

CARLOTTA PATTI, after an absence of six years, re-appeared in this city on Sept. 25th, at Steinway Hall, in Concert.

CHARLES FURBISH, advance agent for C. E. Bidwell's dramatic company, is at present in this city.

THE BENEVOLENT ORDER OF ELKS give their second annual benefit on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 28th, at the Academy of Music, when all the available talent to be found in the Ethiopian and variety profession will volunteer and appear. The benefit is a most deserving one, and will no doubt be largely attended.

THE FRENCH OPERA TROUPE commenced their season in this city on September 22d, at the Academy of Music, with the opera of "La Juive."

Dramatic.

ABOUT NEWS THEATRICAL ON THE PACIFIC COAST, we are advised by our correspondent, "C. de L.," under date of San Francisco, September 15th, as follows:—"Lotta closed her engagement at the California Theatre, on Sept. 11th, with a nineteen hundred dollar house. Her average receipts, I should judge, must have reached $1,300 per night. James Stark took a benefit on the 13th, when 'The Wonder' and 'All that Glitters is Not Gold,' were produced; the house, I am glad to state, was well filled. 'Rosedale' was produced on Sept. 14th, and will be repeated this evening. 'Formosa' is promised on Sept. 16th.....As I predicted, Cotton and Murphy's Minstrels have revived the business at Maguire's Opera House. Joe Murphy, in his negro and German eccentricities, is a card. Mack has been laid up with rheumatism for the last week. Armes Beaumont, the tenor of the troupe, will take a benefit on Sept. 17th. A new farce, 'The Working Girls of San Francisco,' has kept the boards since Sept. 13th, with considerable success.....At the Alhambra, Manager W. H. Smith, who leaves to-day for the east, in search of talent for the theatre, took a benefit on Sept. 13th, and had a good house. Elise Holt appeared in 'Lucretia Borgia,' and a host of volunteers helped to make up a rather attractive bill. Business at this theatre, during the past week or two, has been rather dull; Holt is no longer a drawing card. A new burlesque, written by a gentleman in this city, is announced for an early production.....Grace Egerton is playing for one week at the Metropolitan Theatre, to very poor houses .....Anna Dickinson left for the East on Sept. 13th..... During the performance on Sept. 11th, Lotta was made the recipient of several complimentary attentions in the shape of an elegant wreath, sparkling with several golden ornaments, and a suspicious looking package, apparently filled with double eagles. So you see we appreciate Lotta's talent out here....Brignoli will commence his concert season here in November, at the California Theatre..... Miss Viola Crocker having withdrawn from the California Theatre, leaves for the east to-day....Manager Carter, of the Portland Theatre, is in town, in quest of talent for the fall and winter.....John T. Caine, one of the lessees of the Salt Lake Theatre, is also in town....Lotta leaves to-morrow (September 16th) for Cincinnati, where she will fill an engagement of six weeks. Interior News.—Ryland's Circus has been quite successful in Pescadero and vicinity, and performed at Mayfield last night..... Wilson's Great World Circus will perform at Cervallis, Oregon, on the 16th. Thence to Albany, Salem and Portland, where they will appear on the 21st.....The Daniels troupe performed at Weaverville on September 14th..... A Chinese juggler has been astonishing the natives of Colusa..... Castello's Circus has left Sacramento and gone to Marysville; thence to Colusa, and semi-circularly through the mountain towns back to Auburn."

OF THEATRICAL MATTERS IN NEW ORLEANS, LA., our correspondent, "Crescent," under date of Sept. 16th, says:—"Gradually are the different managers of our city theatres unmasking their batteries for the winter's campaign. The first in the field will be the Academy of Music, David Bidwell, manager, who announces that he will re-open his place of with "Il Trovatore." The night being excessively warm operated somewhat to their disadvantage, in the fact that the house was not, as usual, crowded. There was, however, a goodly number of seats sold during the day. Our correspondent, "Don Juan," says:—"Henry Haigh and Henry Drayton appeared in the roles of Manrico and Count de Luna; and their reception was warmly enthusiastic. On the 21st the 'Bohemian Girl,' with Henry Drayton as Count Arnheim, Henry Haigh as Thaddeus, H. G. Peake as Devilshoof, and Mrs. C. Richings Bernard as Arline was given. The chef d'œuvre opera of the repertoire up to the time of writing, and which drew a large and select assemblage, was 'Fra Diavolo.' Brookhouse Bowler appeared as Fra Diavolo, Drayton as Beppo, James Arnold as Lord Allcash, Annie Kemp Bowler as Lady Allcash, and Bianche Ellerman as Zerlina. The many musical gems with which this delightful opera abounds were artistically rendered and enthusiastically received. On the 24th, Gounod's opera of 'Faust' was produced. On Saturday 'Norma.' The following is the repertoire for next (this) week, and the concluding one of the troupe:—'Martha,' 'Bohemian Girl,' 'Maritana,' 'Il Trovatore,' and debut of Dora Harris in the role of Leonora, 'La Traviata,' for the benefit of Mrs. C. Richings Bernard: Saturday matinee and 'Norma,' and at night 'Crown Diamonds.' The troupe as reorganized has been sustained and highly appreciated by good audiences each evening, and if not for the excessive warmth of the weather would no doubt have drawn better houses."

SUSAN GALTON'S OPERATIC TROUPE appear in Akron, Ohio, all this week.

SPAULDING'S BELL RINGERS performed in Willimantic, Conn., on September 22d. Mr. Spaulding informs us that the agent of French's Circus came into town the day after his agent had billed the place, and covered his (Spaulding's) bills after he had hired and paid for the boards.

MAD. ANNA BISHOP gives her first concert, since her return from Australia, some evening during the current week, at Reed Hook, up the Hudson River.

A CONCERTINA PLAYER, who can play the piano and sing, is wanted to travel with a stereopticon exhibition. Address W. J. Hill as per advertisement.

AGNES SUTHERLAND, assisted by R. V. Ferguson and Frank L. Martyn, gave a concert in Kingston, N. Y., on Sept. 23d.

THE PEAK FAMILY were to open in Peoria, Ill., on September 23d. The party, as now organized, consists of Wm. H. Peak, Mrs. W. H. Peak, Louis M. Peak, Miss Annie Peak, Chas. R. Peak, Mrs. Julia Peak Blaisdell, Master Frank Peak, Wm. B. Blaisdell (first appearance in eight years), Master Willie Peak, Miss Fannie Peak, and Mr. H. D. Harris. H. B. Hapgood is business agent. Their route from thence is Keokuk, 27th; Ottumwa, 28th; Mount Pleasant, 29th; Muscatine, 30th; Rock Island, October 1; Davenport, 2d; Iowa City, 4th; Des Moines, 5th and 6th; Council Bluffs, 7th; Omaha, 8th and 9th; thence to St. Joseph, Atchison, Weston, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Topeka, Lawrence, Independence, Jefferson City, thence back to the Mississippi, striking Alton, Jacksonville, Springfield, Atlanta, Bloomington, Dixon, Mendota, Clinton, Freeport, and Dubuque, and through Wisconsin and Michigan.

THE BERGER FAMILY BELL RINGERS are at Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 27th and 28th, Battle Creek, 29th and 30th, and Marshall, October 1st and 2d.

THE BREBAN BELL RINGERS are traveling through Pennsylvania. They were in Easton on September 14th, and remained five nights. Kate Brevoort, Harry Eades, Thos. Prosho, Signor Gerard, Ella Davish, and Julian Breban comprise the party. They were to be in Bethlehem on Sept. 22d and 23d, and Allentown 24th and 25th.

PRINTED COPIES of Locke's music for Macbeth can be obtained of John J. Dyer, whose address find in another column.

THE BERGER FAMILY BELL RINGERS are said to have met with success in the "Saginaw region," having appeared at East Saginaw, Bay City, and Saginaw City. They were at Ionia, Mich., on Sept. 23d, Grand Rapids 24th and 25th, and billed for Kalamazoo for Sept. 27th and 28th. Prof. J. H. Gardner, leader of the Flint, Mich., cornet band, assumes the leadership of the Berger's brass band on October 5th. The Bergers will be at Battle Creek, Mich., on Sept. 29th and 30th, and at Marshall, October 1st and 2d.

CHARLES KARPLES, pianist and musical conductor, can be addressed as per advertisement.

Variety Halls.

BUSINESS AT THE FRONT STREET THEATRE, Baltimore, Md., is reported as having been quite large the past week. Our correspondent, "Don Juan," says:—"The Saturday matinees are very popular, taxing the theatre to its utmost capacity, and are largely attended by our first class merchants, who thus find a relaxation from business cares and a lively enjoyment in the varied attractions presented. Numbers of ladies and pretty little juveniles take advantage of these special entertainments. Joe Emmett, the Dutch comedian, has won many friends and his burlesques and songs are the talk of the town. He takes a farewell benefit this evening (Sept. 24th). Carleton and Dillon, in their songs, caricatures and dances, are favorites. The spade and ladder, and clog dancing of Mathews, nightly elicit a recall in each. A recent acquisition to the troupe in the appearance of Eva Brent, vocalist, has proved a lucky stroke for the management. Her singing is excellent and is enthusiastically received by the audience. Larry Tooley, J. L. Edwards and James Pilgrim, in their negro sketches and other comic impersonations, nightly evoke roars of laughter. They are good performers and great favorites. Blandowski's new ballet, 'Arabs of the Desert,' and 'El Dorado,' with the dashing premier danseuses, Mlle. E. Diana and the Remmelsberg Sisters, is a spectacle of beauty nightly greeted with plaudits. The evening's entertainment concludes with the farce of the 'Irish Lion;'" Wm. Carleton appearing as Tom Moore, with songs. James Taylor, the comic vocalist, has been engaged for twelve nights, and makes his debut on Sept. 27th. A variety of other artists are engaged, and will appear at an early date."

THE THEATRE COMIQUE, Omaha, during the week ending Sept. 18th, is reported to have had a succession of good houses. A correspondent writes us that the programme offered was a good one, and the several acts in the olio, as well as the singing in the first part, highly relished by the audience. He adds:—"In the first part Robert Walters sang a feeling manner, 'Take Back the Ring, Jimmy,' which received a double encore. Mr. Walters possesses a pleasing voice, and has, during his brief sojourn in this city, made a favorable impression upon his audiences. The olio was replete with good things. Harry Brown's burlesque continues popular, and Tommy Sully's performance of 'Thy Parent's Occupation' is so very funny—his walk particularly—that he is called out and obliged to repeat it each evening. His singing of 'Sitting in the Garden' also elicits considerable laughter, finishing the act with a straight jig. Charlie Sullivan, the Dutch comedian, has met with much favor during his half a dozen appearances. His comicalisms are quite a feature of the evening's amusement. The burlesque of 'Omaha A Hundred Years Hence,' which contains a number of funny incidents, has made a hit."

THE BALTIMORE VARIETIES, Baltimore, Md., will be opened on the 27th of Sept. as a burlesque and variety theatre. Talent, both male and female, is advertised for.

THE HAYMARKET MUSIC HALL, late Davies' Music Hall, Baltimore, Md., has been opened under the management of G. Nachman, with the following in the company:—Miss Sallie Benner, Miss Julia Barton, Miss Mary Fitzsimmons, Lizzy Le Grange, Irma Sisters, Harry Jefferson, George Thatcher, Harry Richmond, Billy Diamond, and Frank Clayton.

CONCHITA RONZATI, premier danseuse and tight rope dancer, can be secured for brief engagements, as will be seen by her card in another column.

THE BRENNANS continue to appear each evening this week at the Olympic Theatre, Brooklyn, and the Waverley, this city. Managers desiring their services will find their address elsewhere.

MLLE. IRMA announces that she can be engaged to do the statues. Her address will be seen in another column.

AN ATTRACTIVE COMBINATION TROUPE is wanted for ten nights by John A. Elsler, Jr., who advertises to that effect elsewhere.

THE VARIETIES, Norfolk, Va., has been doing well since Sam Collyer opened, with his boys. Collyer appears each evening in an act, besides swinging the clubs. John Reynolds and P. H. Rice, comedians and comic vocalists, appeared on Sept. 20th. Alf. Miles, Sallie Bruce and Charley Kane remain in the company. Millie Smith, song and dance lady, appears on Sept. 27th. Addie Stewart and Naomi Porter are underlined to appear shortly.

AT TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES, Pittsburgh, Pa., Carrie Gardner, vocalist, Charlie Howard, Heivil Ryan, G. W. Herman, D. Gooding, Lillie Beckett, Bessie Star and Celia Berry are in the company.

ADA FRANKLIN, protean actress and vocalist, and Chas. L. Howard, comedian, escamoteur and pantomimist, are performing at Trimble's Varieties, Pittsburgh. Managers wishing to engage them are requested to address as per advertisement.

THE NEW FACES at the Pittsburgh Theatre this week will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blanchard, W. H. Maffin, Frank Dillon, Viola Clifton and Ada Boshell. James Taylor took a benefit on Sept. 24th, and had a very fair audience. Business at this place shows no falling off, the audiences being large every night. The matinee, given by Manager Williams for the benefit of the Avondale sufferers, was not as largely attended as it should have been.

SAM DEVINE, banjoist, song and dance man, and general performer, advertises that he can be engaged after the Sept. 20th.

OUR CINCINNATI CORRESPONDENT writes as follows, up to Sept. 24th:—"Biz continues good at all the halls. At the Fourth Street Theatre the old Can-can was substituted for the 'White Fawn.' Mollie St. Martin gave her Frailty until Thursday, when she retired, having been engaged for Nashville, and Bonnie Emerson replaced her in the character. G. M. Hill, a fine tenor, was added to the company, whose male element is unusually strong. Ned Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Weaver, and Kitty La Grange have been engaged for the Bay City (Mich.) Varieties, to open the first week in October. Their absence will require replacing.....The Race Street Can-can still doeth its accustomed jig well. Tim Woodruff, one of the olden kind, who dropped in from California last week, was immediately given a place on the ends, Harry Alberts resuming his old position as interlocutor, where he feels most at home. The company has been thinned down by the loss of Minnie Clark, Celia Ifert, and Anna Florence. Frank Carleton's end biz. has improved some what of late.....The only new appearance at Yale's was Mlle. Lopez, who claims to be a danseuse. The Can-can still continues. Jim Wood, the new comedian, has taken well. Nellie Whitney's return is looked for next (this) week, when the long announced 'Black Crook' will pobably be produced.....The statement last week that Mr. Jarvis, theatrical agent, was associated with H. W. Collins, in the proposed new variety hall, was an error. The former was merely agent, and a suit relating to his fees is now pending between them.....The variety halls have received the attention of the city council, there being a strong attempt to suppress them. The matter has been deferred for legal advice.....Minnie Clark has gone to Saginaw, Mich. Lizzie Mayling is touring among the fairs, and this week has been at Ripley, Ohio. Celia Ifert is to wend her way to Nashville. Bowman and Harris came to town this week. They have received offers from the Oates' Combination and Newcomb's Minstrels, and would, probably, play with the former.....The Olympic Concert Hall is in full blast 'over the Rhine.' The artists and audiences are both Teutonic."

MADAME FIELDING, vocalist, is the latest card at the Metropolitan Hall, Washington, D.C., where she made her first appearance on Sept. 20th and was warmly greeted. Our correspondent, "Novice," says:—"This lady is one of the most interesting vocalists that has appeared here in months. Her selections are fresh and pleasing, and her manner of singing them decadedly interesting. Miss Fielding does not appear in the opening minstrel scene. Charley Correll continues to give satisfaction in that position of interrogator, and Dick Parker and Tom McIntyre are at home on the ends. Both are favorites. Eugene Gorman's flutina solo is kept on the bill, as is also the song and dance of Naomi Porter. Susie Starr trips the 'light fantastic' in a pleasing way, and Belle Williams is nightly encored in her ballads."

MLLE. RITA PERCY, who is at present playing a two weeks star engagement at the Theatre Comique, in this city, can be secured by managers of first class variety halls only, for brief engagements for the representation of classical and mythological draped statuary. Her costumes are all new and very handsome, also her appointments. For particulars as to her business agent's address, see card in another column.

TALENT is wanted for the Race Street Varieties, Cincinnati, O. See the proprietor's card in another column.

THE INTERNATIONAL, at Toledo, O., says our correspondent, "Local," "did a big business during the State Fair."

A NEW VARIETY THEATRE is now in course of erection on Munroe street, Chicago. It will be opened under the management of Fred Aims about the 15th of November. Sensation stars and artists are advertised for.

THE NICHOLLI BROTHERS will shortly return from California. Managers desiring to secure them can do so through their agents, Lowell & Simmonds, from November 8th.

Negro Minstrelsy.

THE GEORGIA MINSTRELS, under the direction of Charles Hicks, gave two entertainments at the Opera House, Newark, N. J., Sept. 20th and 21st, to crowded houses.

MASTER SNIFFIN appears with Hooley's Minstrels, in Brooklyn, this week, in his songs and dances. A burlesque on "Rip Van Winkle" will be presented, besides several other burlesques and sketches.

ALLEN, PETTENGILL, DELEHANTY AND HENGLER'S MINSTRELS made their first stand in Williamsburg, L. I., on Sept. 22d, and remained two nights. They went thence to Newark, N. J., for the 24th and 25th. Our correspondent "Rover," writing from Newark, says:—"The company met with a most enthusiastic reception, and their performance gave great satisfaction. Pettingill and Allen are on the ends with C. M. Bassett, as interlocutor. Pettengill did 'Johnny, I hardly know ye,' and received four encores. Allen sang 'Mrs. Jinks, of Madison Square,' and, for an encore, gave some of his Dutch songs. Delehanty and Hengler gave 'Walking in the Starlight,' and 'Chidhood's Happy Day,' and received a most hearty recall. The company is a strong one, and with such artists as Allen, Pettencill, Delehanty and Hengler at its head, ought to succeed."

MR. HOOLEY, of Brooklyn, gives his receipts for the month of August as $3,272.

SAM SHARPLEY'S "IRON CLADS" are raking in the mopusses through New England, attracting good houses and giving satisfaction, as we are informed, wherever they appear. This band of black birds were to skirmish into Quincy, Mass., on sept. 27th, and go thence to Hingham, 28th; Lynn, 29th; Salem, 30th; Lawrence, Oct. 1st; Lowell, 2d; Worcester, 4th, and thence down east to Portland, St. John and Halifax.

DICK SANDS, the clog dancer, left San Francisco, Cal., for New York, on Sept. 14th, by steamer.

A NUMBER OF PERFORMERS are wanted for Sam Sharpley's Minstrels, as will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere.

THE GEORGIA MINSTRELS perform in Troy, N. Y., on Sept. 27th and 28th.

ALLEN, PETTENGILL AND CO.'S MINSTRELS are billed in Troy, N. Y., for Sept. 29th and 30th., and Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 1st and 2d.

CAL. WAGNER'S MINSTRELS, newly organized, will shortly take the road. A good banjo player and an end man are wanted. For list of company see advertisement.

BUCKLEY'S SERENADERS were in Rochester, N. Y., on Sept. 25th and 26th.

BAYLIES AND O'BRIEN, double song and dance men and general performers, advertise that they are in want of an engagement.

NED TURNER advertises that he can beengaged for end business, or double and single acts.

H. MCKENNEY has joined S. S. Sanford's Minstrels, as advance agent. This company is now in Plainfield, N. J., on Sept. 28th and 29th, Orange, Oct. 30th; Mount Holly, 5th and 6th, Elizabeth 7th, and Newark 8th and 9th.

MORRIS BROTHERS' MINSTRELS publish their route in an advertisement in another column; also, a full list of their company.

THE ASSOCIATED ARTISTS of Kelly & Leon's Minstrels will be in Buffalo, N. Y., on October 1st and 2d; Rochester, 3d; and Syracuse, 4th.

A NEW BURLESQUE on "Norma" is among the fresh attractions offered this week by Carncross and Dixey's Minstrels, in Philadelphia.

S. S. SANFORD'S MINSTRELS are coming through New Jersey on their way to New England. Parties wishing to secure this troupe for one or more nights can do so.

Circuses.

BRYAN'S MENAGERIE AND CIRCUS will exhibit as follows: New Castle, Pa., sept. 27th; Zillinople, 28th; Saxonburgh, 29th; Kittanning, 30th; Smithburg, Oct. 1st; Punxutawney, 2d; Brookville, 4th; Brockwayville, 5th; St. Mary's, 6th; Emporium, 7th; Condenport, 8th; Vermilias, 9th; Wellsborough, 11th; Blossburg, 12th; Troy, 13th; Towanda, 14th, and so on through Pennsylvania to Philadelphia, where it will close the campaign on Nov. 13th. The business through Ohio, says a correspondent, "has been tiptop, with prospects of its being good to the close of the season. So far the show is pronounced the best many of the show. The company are all in good condition and ready for anything that may turn up, from a forty mile route to a poor hotel. We camp out the stock when necessary, and at times the performers also."

THE EUROPEAN CIRCUS showed in Williamsburgh, L. I., on Sept. 20th and 21st, and the crowds were so great each evening that many persons were unable to obtain even standing room. In Brooklyn and Williamsburgh the business greatly excelled that of last year in the same cities. On Oct. 4th this concern opens in Philadelphia, on the Eighth Street Lot, which is now being fenced in and gas fixtures put up.

MLLE. ROSETTA, female gymnast, is performing with Chiarini's Circus at Lima, South America.

HIRAM MARKS, clown, and his daughter, "Little Minnie Marks," a child equestrienne, can be engaged. Address as per advertisement.

LEVI J. NORTH'S CIRCUS will close its tenting season in Joliet, Ill., shortly. This concern was in Jackson, Mich., at the fair on Sept. 21st, 22d, 23d and 24th.

CIRCUS NEWS FROM LIMA, PERU.—A correspondent, writing from the above city on August 26th, says:—"First on the list is the circus company of Jack Hudson, which arrived here more than a month since, after a long and successful tour through Chili, and up to date have been playing to crowded houses. They have also played in the Bull Ring twice, each time netting, as I am informed, something like five thousand dollars. They also perform there on the 29th inst., and have secured it for the month of September. The company has been winning for itself golden opinions, more especially the proprietor, Jack Hudson, who shortly takes his departure for Guayaquil and Panama.....About two weeks ago P. Picard, exagent for Chiarini, arrived here from New York with a general variety company, and has already given three performances in the theatre to poor houses, the last one being almost a total failure, owing, I presume, to the attractions offered by Mr. Hudson, his 'nigger business' taking very bad owing to the jokes being given in English, and, of course, not understood by the people here. This company, I understand, go from here to Chili soon. I regret to inform you of the death, in this city on the 27th of last July, of John E. Fisher, of a lung complaint, contracted some time ago in Russia; he had been left here by Chiarini without money, and had it not been for a kind hearted American, Chas. F. Davis, a friend to all showmen, he would have died houseless; sufficient funds were raised amongst a few of us to give him a good burial, and Jack Hudson has ordered a monument with Fisher's name, place of birth, age, time of decease, &c., upon it. [A notice of Mr. Fisher's death appeared in the CLIPPER of August 28th.—ED. CLIPPER.]

STONE AND MURRAY'S CIRCUS is wending its way towards New York, and will be in Mott Haven on Oct. 7th.

GEO. W. DE HAVEN'S CIRCUS exhibited at Newark, Ohio, on Sept. 24th.

JOHN SPOWR & CO.'S CIRCUS is in Wisconsin.

CHARLEY NOYES' CIRCUS is going down the Ohio river, and reaches Paducah, Ky., about Oct. 10th.

A TIGER HUNT.—During the stay of Campbell's Circus in Glen's Falls, N. Y., Sept. 19th, one of the elephants upset the cage containing the Bengal tiger, during the night, after the performance was over. With his powerful trunk he broke open the door of the cage, and the tiger escaped. The tiger was not long in making known his whereabouts, for the bleating of a calf indicated that his royal highness was satiating his gluttonous appetite on live veal. A plan for his capture was soon devised, and Mr. Clem King, the keeper of the tiger, at once set about putting it in practice. He procured a rope, and, making a noose in the form of a lariat, he ascended by a ladder from the outside of the shed to a window, from whence he passed to the rafters immediately over the tiger. After much exertion, and several ludicrous stampedes from the bystanders, the tiger was dragged back to his cage, which had, in the meantime, been repaired.

LEVI J. NORTH'S CIRCUS was at Adrian, Mich., on Sept. 21st. We learn from our correspondent, "Local," that "the attendance at the afternoon and evening performance was the largest thus far given to any circus in this section. The show is a good one. Little Minnie Marks is a card. The show goes to Jackson for three days (during the State Fair), thence to Concord, Sept. 25th; Janesville, 27th; Coldwater, 28th, and then to White Pigeon and down through Indiana and Illinois."

LAZELLE AND FRANKLIN, gymnasts and acrobats, desire engagements to travel south during the winter season. See advertisement.

NOYES' CIRCUS and Robinson's Circus and Menagerie exhibited in Evansville, Ind., on Sept. 22d. The receipts of the former were $573; of the latter, $835.

A HANDSOME GOLD MEDAL, about the size of a silver half dollar, was presented to Master Alexander Melville, at Hudson City, on Saturday evening, Sept. 25th, during the exhibition there of Lent's New York Circus. The medal bears on one side the following inscription:—"Presented to Alex. Melville, the infant equestrian, by a few admirers, in appreciation of his infantile skill and daring, September, 1869." On the reverse are two horses, upon whom stands erect Master Melville. The medal is of 18 karat gold.

VAN AMBURGH'S MENAGERIE was announced to commence a three days' stand in Montreal, Canada, on Sept. 27th.

LEVI J. NORTH'S CIRCUS was in Hillsdale, Mich., on Sept. 23d.

C. M. SHERMAN advertises that he desires to purchase a variety of circus property. For further particulars read his card.

JAMES MARTIN AND SON, of Boston, Mass., manufacturers of canvas for circuses and showmen, announce through an advertisement in another column that they are prepared to furnish canvases of all sizes, poles, bunting, etc.

W. H. NICHOLS, principal and scene rider, advertises that he can be engaged.

CAMPBELL'S CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE exhibited in Troy, N. Y., Sept. 23d and 24th, and succeeded in taking away some $2,800 from the city.

Miscellaneous.

THE CITY HALL, Providence, R. I., which is now being renovated and remodeled at considerable expense, will be ready to re-open about the 30th of October, when it will be named the Harrington Opera House. For further particulars read the proprietor's card in another column.

THE HARTINE AND PELL COMBINATION exhibited at Rushville, Ind., Sept. 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, to a good business, it being Fair week. They gave six performances a day, under a canvas 60 by 80 feet. They were to play in Greensburg, Ind., Sept. 21st and 22d. Frank Pell has been unable to do anything for two weeks. On Sept. 12th he took to bleeding at the nose, and came very near bleeding to death, as he bled for about 18 hours.

THAT "COMICAL BROWN," assisted by A. Howard Buxton, balladist, is now on his sixteenth annual tour, showing through Massachusetts. His route ahead is North Reading, Mass., Sept. 24th; Swampscott, 29th; Woburn, 30th; Arlington, Oct. 1st; and Chelsea, 2d.

THE HEYWOOD AND CHIRIKI COMBINATION is billed for the following places:—East Hampton, Conn., Sept. 28th; Brooklyn, 29th; Central Village, 30th; Hampton, Oct. 1st; Willimantic, 2d. The troupe will then go through Massachusetts. The exhibition embraces Martini Chiriki's feats on the slack wire, his "Punch and Judy" show, ventriloquism, jugging, recitations, etc. Frank S. Finn is connected with the exhibition as lecturer. The tent has been given up on account of the cold, and the troupe show only in halls."

PROF. KING made his balloon ascension in Rochester, N. Y., on Sept. 22d.

MCEVOY'S HIBERNICON is to be unrolled in Akron, Ohio, on Oct. 4th, for four nights.

THE NEW HALL in Altoona, Pa., was expected to be finished on Sept 25th, and was announced to be opened, under the direction of Frank Rivers, on the 27th. It is capable of seating about 900 on the main floor, while the gallery will accommodate about 300.

INSTRUCTIONS in clog dancing can be obtained from J. T. Gale, whose address see elsewhere.

WM. F. LESTER can be engaged for his act, "novelty dress change," through his agent, W. A. Marston, whose address find in another column.

MOSS. SANYRAH, gymnast, advertises that he sails for Europe in the early part of Oct., and is prepared to execute commissions there.

MCEVOY'S HIBERNICON has been drawing good houses at Library Hall, Chicago, during the past week.

OLIER'S DISSOLVING VIEWS exhibited in Newport, Ky., on the 23d of Sept.

PROF. O. H. FETHERS gave a poetic and dramatic reading, in Covington, Ky., on Sept. 23d.

LOUIS ZANFRETTA died of yellow fever in St. Thomas, West Indies, on Aug. 15th. He was taken there by Lorenzo Maya with a company, and we are informed that Maya left him without a dollar, and he was obliged to stay there for two months before he could send home and get assistance; but he was attacked with the fever and died there. He was born in Vires, Normandy, France, in 1845, and leaves behind a young wife.

THE LATE NELSON KNEASS.—Under the head of "The Hen Bolt Business," the Cincinnati Sunday Union has the following relative to the claim of Kneass to its authorship:—"Twenty-two years ago Kneass was one of the members of the 'Sable Harmonists.' The company was playing a very successful engagement at the old Pittsburgh Theatre, then under the management of Mr. Charles Foster. One morning, as was his wont, Kneass strolled into a music store where he found the original words of 'Ben Bolt,' set to very poor music. He purchased the piece, took it home, and at once adapted the words to the music which has since made it so popular. At that period the battle of Buena Vista was fought, and Fred Hunt, the manager of the troupe, wrote a sketch in which 'Ben Bolt' was introduced as a character, and Kneass, as young Henry Clay, sang the song for the first time, to his own music, an additional verse having, by his own request, been added by Mr. Hunt, which was as follows:—

There is a change in the things I love, Ben Bolt,
They have changed from the old to the new,
But I find in the core of my spirit the truth,
That there never was a change in you.
Twelve months twice have passed, Ben Bolt,
Since first we were friends, yet I hail
The presence a blessing, thy friendship a truth,
Ben Bolt of the salt sea sale.

The words of the original song have been claimed by Thomas Dunn English, and then, again, they are credited to the poet Campbell, but whoever was the author, the exquisite melody of Nel. Kneass preserved them from oblivion.

THE CINCINNATI HORTICULTURAL FAIR occupied Pike's Music Hall all last week.

THE DAVENPORT BROTHERS give a series of seances at Pike's Music Hall, Cincinnati, from Oct. 1st to 13th inclusive.

SIG. FRANCIS, juggler, advertises that he can be engaged after the 1st of November.

WYMAN, the wizard and ventriloquist, commences a series of gift exhibitions in Washington, D. C., on Sept. 27th.

ALF BURNETT was to be in Erie, Pa., on Sept. 27th, and go thence to Cleveland, Ohio; Warren, Youngstown, Newcastle, Sharon, Mercer, Akron and Cincinnati. He expects to winter in the south and Texas.

WHISTON, the humorist, and the Fakir of Ava, were in Troy, N. Y., the past week.

THE LEWIS BROTHERS, Magicians, were in Two Rivers, Wis., on Sept. 23d and 24th; and were to go to Kewaunee for the 25th and 27th; Annabjee, 28th and 29th; thence to Marquette and Lake Superior.

A NOVEL GOOSE RACE took place in Chicago, Ill., on Sept. 23d, between Bob Hart, the well known minstrel performer, George Morris and James Maas, of the Winter Garden, in that city. The terms of the match required each person to ride in an ordinary two-horse hack and be drawn by three pairs of geese. Billy Emerson had been selected as Morris' umpire, Mr. Boyd for Hart, Mr. McHale for Maas, and Mr. Dratt, manager of the Winter Garden, acted as referee. Each of the drivers was in light costume—hat, shirt, pants and stockings—ready to swim, if necessary. George Morris came in first, reaching the end of the 300 yards about four feet ahead of Bob Hart, Maas being about two lengths in the rear. Time, seven minutes and thirty seconds.

SCENERY, suitable for a traveling company, is advertised to let by A. L. Cooke.

RUBINI, conjuror, is doing his diabolical feats at Assembly Buildings, Philadelphia.

SAUL SMITH now writes songs, burlesques and every description of literary work to order. Find his address in another column.

THE SHADOW PANTOMIME, a miniature theatre for parlor amusement, is advertised for sale by Thos. Yates.

H. R. HOBART advertises that he can be secured as advance agent.

JOHN BOGAN, whose address find in another column, sends written lessons on the banjo and dancing—also, musical instruments—on receipt of price or C. O. D.

CHARLEY SHAY'S QUINCUPLEXAL TROUPE has done well, we are informed, since it started from this city for an eastern tour. The party were in Bridgeport, Conn., on Sept. 23d; Waterbury, 24th; and was to open in New Haven on the 25th for two nights. Mr. John Denier does the stilt act, horizontal bar, and plays in the pantomime. The route ahead is Meriden, Conn., Sept. 28th; Middletown, 29th; Hartford, 30th and Oct. 1st; Norwich, 2d and 4th.

Amateur.

THE SHAKESPEARE CLUB, of Cincinnati, holds a meeting, to reorganize for the season, on Tuesday, Oct. 5th.... The Woodward Circle, of the same city, recommences its season on the 25th.....Mr. Warren Kennedy, a member of the Cincinnati Shakespeare Club, and a well-known periodical dealer, committed suicide by leaping from the third story of his building, on Sept. 14th, while suffering a temporary derangement. In his fall he alighted on a passer by, crushing the latter badly. Mr. Kennedy was the most versatile, and, perhaps, the best amateur dramatic personator in the Queen City. There was scarcely anything in the range of the drama of which he was incapable. He was excellent in "old men" roles, in Irish, in Dutch, and was a good reader in heroic parts. He also belonged to the Davenport Club of the same place, and his loss to both clubs will be severely felt.

THE DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION of Susquehanna, Pa., gave a performance there, on Sept. 7th, of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with the following cast:—Uncle Tom, Jos. Hope; Deacon Perry and George Harris, Jas. Smith; Simon Legree, John Graham; St. Clair, J. G. Brewer; Lawyer Marks, Frank Ames; Phineas Fletcher, Wm. Alpaugh; George Shelby, Wm. Langford; Haley, Daniel Malpass; Tom Loker, R. Shipley; Topsy, Miss F. Gunias; Eliza, Miss N. Hopkins; Aunt Chloe, Emma Gray; Marie, Miss Adeline Perry, and Eva, Minnie Munson. The series of entertainments closed Sept. 15th with the drama of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," and a complimentary benefit to Miss Minnie Munson, who assumed the role of Mary Morgan; Messrs. Day and Graham appeared as Joe Morgan and Willie Hammond, and Miss L. Brown as Mrs. Morgan.

THE DRAMATIC UNION, of Hannibal, Mo., gave their twenty-first entertainment on Sept. 21st in that city. The bill consisted of "Hidden Hand," with Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Irwin as Wool and Capitola, and the rest of the cast by the amateurs.

Foreign Show News.

LONDON AMUSEMENTS.—The week ending Sept. 11th was rather an uneventful one in the way of novelty, and scarcely any change from the previous week was made in the different programmes presented to the metropolitan managers. From the announcements made by the gentlemen who "do" the theatrical world of London, we are led to believe that considerable, in the way of novelty, will shortly be served up for amusement goers. After closing for a fortnight, the Prince of Wales theatre was to re-open on the 13th, with the comedy of "School." Some alteration and redecorations have been made in the house during the period of closure. "Formosa" runs at Drury Lane, and is announced to run until Christmas.....No alteration worth reporting at the other western houses. Such slight changes as have taken place are wholly in the east of London.....At Sadler's Wells the Adelphi company continues to appear, and the Christy Minstrels are popular at the Standard.....'The Headless Horseman" and "Never Despair" have been performed at the Victoria.....No change has taken place at the Grecian or Britannia.....'Jesse Ashton" has been revived at the New East London. The concluding piece has been "Catherine Howard."....A new comic ballet has been the principal attraction at the Pavilion, in which the D'Aubans and Wardes appear....The Holborn is to re-open on Sept. 25th, with Barry Sullivan as the manager, who produces a new comedy by Thomas Morton, called "Plain Engl.ish," in which Barry Sullivan, George Honey, J. C. Cowper, W. H. Stephens, D. Evans, Chas. Horsman, Lin Rayne, E. Cotte, E. Dyas, G. Nelson, Valentine, W. Arthur, Mrs. Hermann Vezin, Jane Rignold, Blanche Marlborough, and Maude Howard will appear.....Ben Webster opens his season at the Adelphi on the 29th of Sept., with Boucicault and Byron's drama, "Used Up." A new operatic burlesque entitled, "Linda di Chamouni," was announced for production at the Gaiety on the 13th of Sept..... The largest concert ever known in England took place at the Crystal Palace, on Sept. 8th. The orchestra numbered 8,000 performers, and the audience amounted to 39,468 persons. The combined choirs of the Tonic Sol-fa Association mustered in force for the occasion, and to these were added the orchestral band of the company and the band of the Royal Artillery. The jubilee was carried out somewhat upon the plan of the recent peace jubilee held at Boston. The jubilee combined the ringing of bells, the clanking of anvils in the "Trovatore Chorus," and the firing of cannon. The proceedings were the hour fixed for the beginning of the concert, and long before that time the palace seemed almost alive with people. The Handel Festival orchestra was enlarged considerably for the occasion, a space of 48 feet in depth being added to the front. The programme included the National Anthem; the "Hymn of Peace," written for the National Peace Festival at Boston; the "Hallelujah Chorus;" "Luther's Hymn;" "Auld Lang Syne;" "The March of the Men of Harlech;" "The Anvil Chorus" from "Il Trovatore;" "The Star Spangled Banner;" "Hail Columbia;" "Partant pour la Syrie," as sung by the prize choir of the Tonic Sol-fa Association, at Paris, in July, 1867; "The Harp that Once Through Tara's Halls;" "The Soldier's Chorus" in "Faust;" and "Long Live England's Future Queen." In "Auld Lang Syne" the action was suited to the word at "Here's a hand my trusty frien'," and hand shaking on so great a scale, and with much seeming good will, was a touch of nature which "brought down the house." The "jubilee" was to be repeated on the 22d. .....Miss Hughes secedes from Charing Cross Theatre, and has been secured for Robertson's comedy of "The Breach of Promise" at the Globe Theatre.....Byron has received from Mr. Toole £650 for a three act domestic drama, written expressly for him.....Mr. and Mrs. Howard Paul have returned to London from their extended tour.....Giovannelli's Summer Gardens at the Alexandra have been very successful. On the 6th of September the drama of "The Assassins of the Roadside Inn" was revived, with G. Taylor as Robert Macaire..... Shepherd and Creswick commenced a series of twenty farewell performances at the Surrey Theatre, on Sept. 11th, with the performance of "The Idiot of the Mountain," with Mr. Creswick as Claude. Mr. Shepherd appeared as Edward Murray in "Deeds Not Words."..... Moore and Crocker's Christy Minstrels commenced their fifth annual season in London, at St. James' Hall, on the 6th of September. Up to that time one thousand eight hundred and twelve consecutive performances have been given by them in the metropolis. To commemorate the inauguration many alterations and improvements have been made. The hall has been tastefully decorated, the lighting on the stage improved by sunken lights, roomy seats placed for the accommodation of the visitor, and ventilation on the most scientific principles introduced. A well-designed proscenium and some effective scenes have been added. Neise Seymour occupied the end formerly filled by Crocker, and Moore re-appeared as bones. In the olio was given, for the first time, Dan Bryant's old act of "Old Times Rocks," impersonated by Neise Seymour, Tempieton and G. W. Moore, the latter as Hungry Jake.....J. H. Monteague has severed his connection with the Christy Minstrel party known as "Wilson and Montague's," the former continuing as sole manager. .....The Moore and Crocker Christy Minstrels had reached their sixth week at the Standard Theatre. Neise Seymour was underlined for a farewell benefit on Sept. 25th.....Julia Mathews has been engaged by A. Harris for the forthcoming pantomime season at Covent Garden. .....Circumstances have prevented themselves which will prevent Miss Glynn (Mrs. E. Dallas) from accomplishing her projected American tour.....The Olympic Theatre will re-open in October, under the management of Mr. Liston, late of the Queen's, with a version of "David Copperfield," by Andrew Halliday. Miss Fanny Addison will appear in this piece.....Annetta Galletti and Sig. Cardella were announced to open an engagement at Canterbury Hall, on Sept. 13th.....Alfred Wigan has so far recovered from his indisposition as to be able to resume his engagement at the Galety, where he will shortly appear in Mr. Thompson's "On the Carda."..... Report says that Mr. Russell's "Grand Duchess" Company, with Miss Julia Mathews in the character of the Duchess, will, in a short time, appear at the Surrey Theatre, under Mrs. Pitt's management.

THE DISPUTE between M. Moreau-Sainti and the Societe des Auteurs Dramatiques, Paris, has ended in the defeat of the manager, who has been condemned to pay a sum of 5,000 francs and all expenses.

"DIANE DE LYS," by the younger Dumas, has been revived at the Gymnase, Paris. Sixteen years have elapsed since this piece was last performed in that city.

FRANK DREW, the Irish comedian, arrived in Melbourne, Australia, on July 16th, and was to make his debut at the Theatre Royal, on July 25th.

ARTHUR CLINTON, vocalist and prompter of the Clarence Theatre, Dover, Eng., met with his death on Sept. 3d. An inquest was held on the body, and from the evidence it appears that Mr. Clinton left the theatre as usual on the previous evening, and called at a neighboring tavern, where he was last seen alive. In the morning his dog was found howling beside the Pent. Drags were at once set to work, and shortly his body

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

FOR THEATRICAL, or other Advertisements coming under the head of AMUSEMENTS, fifteen cents per line for each and every insertion.
FOR MISCELLANEOUS AND SPORTING Advertisements, twenty cents per line for each and every insertion.
FOR NOTICES to be incorporated in our News Departments—such as extracts from other papers, etc., thirty cents per line—the same notice not to be inserted more than once.
IN OUR LEADER OR EDITORIAL COLUMNS nothing of a paid character can appear, as we reserve that space for free and independent expression of our own opinions.
OUR TERMS ARE CASH. Advertisements to be paid for at the time of insertion.
A LIBERAL DEDUCTION from these rates will be made for Advertisements when paid for three months or longer in advance.
ADVERTISEMENTS should be sent in by noon on Mondays, at latest, to ensure their appearance in that week's issue.
ALL BUSINESS LETTERS or communications must be addressed to the undersigned:
FRANK QUEEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR NEW YORK CLIPPER,
Nos. 88 and 90 Centre street,
Cor. Leonard, New York.

AMUSEMENTS.

BROADWAY VARIETY AGENCY,
712 BROADWAY.

Engagements made for the following establishments: Waverley Theatre, Tony Pastor's Opera House, Howard Athenæum, Boston; (Hart, Rich & Trowbride) Trowbridge's Opera House, Boston; Theatre Comique, Front street, Baltimore; Hooley's, Brooklyn; Olympic Theatre, Brooklyn; Pittsburgh Theatre. H. W. Williams, First-class Variety Performers wishing engagements will address S. T. SIMONS, 712 Broadway. No booking fees. 25-3t

JOSEPH SOMERS

Respectfully announces to his numerous patrons and customers that he has, from this date, Sept. 6th, 1869, admitted

HERMAN NESTROCK

as a partner in his business, established and carried on by him for the past twelve years, and that the name and style of the firm hereafter will be

SOMERS & NESTROCK,
Theatrical and Fancy Boot and Shoe Makers,
270 BOWERY, N. Y.
Joseph Somers, [24-5t] Herman Nestrock.

SINK'S OPERA HOUSE,
ROME, N. Y.

This Opera House will be completed on the 27th day of Sept., and is ONE OF THE FINEST BUILT IN THE STATE. Its dimensions are 130 feet by 55 feet, with 30 feet ceiling; built by A. J. SINK, OF ROME.

The stage is fitted up with 30 changes of scenery; scenery, by Chas. Harrison, of New York. Stage Carpenter, Chas. Brown, from Park Theatre, Brooklyn. Its whole arrangement is in the most approved modern style; cushioned seats all through the house. The stage is fitted up with Border Lights, Foot Lights, Traps, etc. Scenery suitable for any First Class Plays. Will be rented on reasonable terms to Managers of Dramatic or Operatic Companies, Lectures, &c., upon application to the Proprietor,
A. J. SINK,
Rome, N. Y.
25-2t*

WANTED—A SITUATION

AS AGENT FOR SOME TRAVELING SHOW OR PHYSICIAN, by a young man who has had thorough experience in the business. For Particulars address
L. W. MILLER,
Care of N. Y. CLIPPER.
P. S.—Terms Reasonable. 25-2t*

WM. KNIGHT,
DRAMATIC LEADER,

is open for a first class engagement for the winter season. Address 229 East Tenth st., N. Y. 25-2t*

TO MANAGERS
AND AGENTS.
DUNDON AND DWYER,
NEW CITY BILL POSTERS, TROY, N. Y.,

have the best boards and stands.
All orders and business letters may be addressed
DUNDON & DWYER,
25-4t* 18 Congress street, Troy, N. Y.

NOTICE TO THEATRES.
MR. E. WARDEN,

Having recovered from his late severe illness, offers his services (with many new features). Novelties of all descriptions adapted to the popular taste produced. Will direct, prompt, act or write up for any legitimate theatre. Address
E. WARDEN,
25-2t Care of Clipper Office.

MANAGERS' NOTICE.
THE GREAT NOVELTY.

Warden's New Mechanical Rowing, Ground or Water Sets, moving at any required rate, by which all styles of Land or Water Races can be illustrated with thrilling effect. (No back Panoramas required). This wonderful scene can be done in any place with little expense. Managers wanting a great novelty address E. WARDEN, Clipper Office. Patent secured. 25-2t

FRANK'S HALL,
WELLINGTON, OHIO.

30 by 46; furnished with a good set of scenery; population, 2 500; on Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati R. R, to rent for entertainments. Address
H. B. FRANKS, Proprietor,
25-3m* Wellington, Ohio.

EUREKA!—New Theatrical

Agency, 636 Broadway, N. Y. John Huntley, known in the profession for 30 years, begs to inform managers of dramatic and minstrel companies and artists generally, that, after many years of experience with first class managers of the past and present day, including James Caldwell, Sol. Smith and Ludlow, Joe Field, W. E. Burton, W. Niblo, T. Hamblin, Rowbotham, Pratt and Maywood, F. Wemyss, Barney Williams and H. Bateman, he has opened the above institution and solicits the patronage of the profession. Communications punctually attended to. Letters requiring an answer enclose stamp. Ladies apply by letter, gentlemen in person.
25-2t* JOHN HUNTLEY.

FOX'S AMERICAN THEATRE,
WALNUT STREET, ABOVE 8TH, PHILADELPHIA

R. FOX.....Proprietor and Manager.
GEORGE K. EDESON.....Acting and Stage Manager.
THE GREAT INSTITUTION OF THE COUNTRY.
OPEN "ALL THE YEAR ROUND"
WITH THE MOST COMPLETE VARIETY ORGANIZATION EVER BROUGHT TOGETHER.
FIVE DISTINCT COMPANIES COMBINED
DRAMATIC, PANTOMIMIC, ACROBATIC, TERPSICHOREAN AND ETHIOPIAN,
COMPOSED OF THE VERY BEST ARTISTS IN THE WORLD.
THE LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE BALLET TROUPE IN AMERICA
IN AMERICA
ALL THE GREATEST SENSATIONS OF THE DAY PRESENTED IN RAPID SUCCESSION.
Artists in all branches desirous of negotiating apply to
R. FOX,
25-4t American Theatre, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE GREAT MARTINI CHIRISKI,

the Wonderful Wire Performer and Juggler, together with the Beautiful CHIRISKI SISTERS, the Accomplished Vocalists and Danseuses, can be engaged after October 15th. Address
MARTINI CHIRISKI, care of James Heywood,
25-2t* P. O. Box 89 Northbridge, Mass.

FRONT STREET THEATRE
COMIQUE, BALTIMORE.
(Late Manager of the Chestnut) .....Manager
WM. E. SINN ..... (Street Theatre, Philadelphia.

THIS ESTABLISHMENT NOW OPEN
AND MEETING WITH IMMENSE SUCCESS!
HOUSES CROWDED NIGHTLY!
WANTED AT ALL TIMES,
FIRST CLASS TALENT.
DANSEUSES, PRINCIPALS AND SECONDS,
BALLET GIRLS (GOOD DRESSERS),
ETHIOPIAN PERFORMERS,
VOCALISTS, GYMNASTS,
AND ALL KIND OF NOVELTIES.
NONE BUT FIRST CLASS ARTISTS EMPLOYED.
NO RAILROAD FARES PAID. SALARIES SURE.
NO WINE ROOM ATTACHED TO THE THEATRE.
MATINEES GIVEN SATURDAY FOR LADIES.
Address WILLIAM E. SINN,
Front Street Theatre, Baltimore, or his Agents.
LOWELL & SIMMONDS,
25-4t* 609 Broadway, New York.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC,
MOBILE, ALA.,

WILL OPEN ON OR ABOUT 15TH OF OCTOBER NEXT.
SENSATION STARS AND TALENT OF ALL KINDS treated with at all times. Address
J. R. WELSH,
25-5t* Manager and Proprietor, Mobile, Ala.

BRADY'S CURRICULUM,
JERSEY CITY, NEAR THE FERRY.

FIRST CLASS ATHLETES, SINGING AND INSTRUMENTAL SOCIETIES, GLEE CLUBS OR MINSTRELS, or novelties suitable for a large rink and first class audience, desiring short engagements, please communicate. None others need apply to 25-2t* ABNER S. BRADY.

NOTICE.—An Arrangement for an engagement can be entered into with F. WATSON, for the coming winter, as General Equestrian. Address N. Y. CLIPPER office. FREDERICK WATSON, now connected with the great European Circus. 25-2t*

JOSEPH SOMERS,
THEATRICAL BOOT AND SHOE MAKER,
270 BOWERY, New York City.

Work made in the best of style and expressed C. C. D., to every part of this continent. N. B. No Cloqs. 19-3m*

SEASON OF 1869 AND 1870.
MARSH MINSTRELS,
BRASS BAND
And
BURLESQUE OPERA TROUPE, Comprising
TWENTY-SIX PERFORMERS,
ALL FIRST CLASS ARTISTS,
COMEDIANS AND MUSICIANS,

Start on their annual tour on or about OCTOBER 1st, performing in the principal cities in the United States. This company produces at every entertainment the very LATEST NOVELTIES,
And each entertainment is presented with due attention to the requirements of refinement and good taste.
F. A. TANNEHILL, Agent WM. MARSH, Manager. 25-3t*

EMERSON AND MANNINGS
MINSTRELS,

Now permanently located at the DEARBORN THEATRE,
CHICAGO, are desirous of negotiating with ARTISTS OF ACKNOWLEDGED ABILITY
AT ALL TIMES.
ADDRESS LETTERS AS ABOVE.
EMERSON & MANNING,
JNO. R. KEMBLE, Proprietors and Managers.
Director of Amusements.
W. BEAUMONT DUHRING, Agent. 25-3m

GIRARDEY'S OPERA HOUSE,

AUGUSTA, GA., will be completed by next November. Applications for same addressed to MAJOR GIRARDEY, at Augusta, Ga., will receive prompt attention. 25-4t dashing, fearless, and accomplished star in the equestrian drama, is prepared to negotiate with managers for the production of all the leading horse pieces with her trained horse. She has a portion of the late Adah Isaacs Menken's wardrobe.

FLORENCE TEMPLE, THE

25-1t* Address FLORENCE TEMPLE, Clipper office.

GEORGE ROSCOE,

CONNECTED WITH THE PROFESSION FOR THE PAST TWELVE YEARS AS BUSINESS MANAGER, DIRECTOR OF PUBLICATIONS, AND ADVANCE AGENT,

Is at liberty for the season of '69 and '70. Unexceptionable testimonials. Address Box 297, Chicago, Ill. 25-2t

TO RENT,
CONCORDIA OPERA HOUSE, BALTIMORE MD.

Early application will secure the above beautiful opera house for Operas, Concerts, Theatrical Performances, Lectures, &c., AT MODERATE PRICES.
For further particulars address
S. BONDERSHOP, Superintendent,
25-3m Concordia, Baltimore, Md.

HOWARD ATHENÆUM,
HOWARD STREET,
TROWBRIDGE'S OPERA HOUSE,
171 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

ISAAC B. RICH, } Managers. JOSH. HART, Business Manager.
JOSH. HART. }
J. C. TROWBRIDGE } W. R. CAVANAGH, Stage Manager
FIRST CLASS ARTISTS
in all branches of the business can always get engagements.
Address JOSH. HART,
Business Manager, Howard Athenæum,
25-4t Boston, Mass.

INDIANAPOLIS METROPOLITAN HALL,

THE ONLY HALL IN THE CITY WITH SCENERY,
TO RENT, BY THE NIGHT, WEEK OR MONTH.
ALL LICENSE PAID.
25-6m Address W. H. LEAKE.

TO MANAGERS OF FIRST-

CLASS CONCERT HALLS.—SIG. LOPEZ and her four pupils will be at liberty to engage for two or four weeks, on or about October 6th. Address CLIPPER Office. 24-3t*

SOMETHING NEW!

NOW READY,

THE FOLLOWING

POSTERS AND PROGRAMME CUTS

FOR THE LATEST SUCCESSFUL DRAMAS:

FORMOSA,

A Two-Sheet Poster Cut, in two colors, representing THE BOAT RACE.

FORMOSA,

A One-Sheet Poster Cut, in two colors, representing the VILLA OF FORMOSA, BY MOONLIGHT.

ALSO TWO PROGRAMME CUTS for the SAME.

DREAMS,

A One-Sheet Poster Cut, in two colors, representing the TABLEAU AT END OF ACT FIRST.

DREAMS,

A One-Sheet Poster Cut, in two colors, representing RUDOLFF, HIS MOTHER AND LINA BEFORE THE CONVENT GATE.

Also Two Programme Cuts for the Same.

THE RED LIGHT,

JOHN BROUGHAM'S LATEST SUCCESSFUL SENSATION,
A One-Sheet Announcement Bill, in two colors.

THE RED LIGHT,

A Two-Sheet Poster Cut, in two colors—Scene from the Play.

WILL BE READY

by the end of September, our New Specimen Book of Theatrical and Variety Cuts, printed in colors, containing FACSIMILES, in miniature, of all our 4-sheet Cuts, Lithographs, Dodgers, Fancy Cards, etc., with prices attached. Address

J. E. JACKSON,
Business Manager,
LEDGER JOB PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT,
25-1t Philadelphia.

JAMES TAYLOR,
CHAMPION COMIQUE,

Has terminated his successful Canadian tour and opened at the Front Street Theatre, Baltimore, Md., on the 27th of September. He is now ready to negotiate with managers for the FALL AND WINTER SEASON
IN THE UNITED STATES,
SHARING TERMS PREFERRED.
NEW BURLESQUES, NEW FEATURE,
INIMITABLE MIMICRIES, &c.

N. B.—J. T. guarantees to draw more money in the treasury than any other comic artist in America. Address CLIPPER office. 17-tf

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.—

For one year, a Clarionette, Second Violin, and Double Bass, all to play Brass. Address, for two weeks, N. C. FORRESTER, Newburgh, N. Y. 21-2t*

ADVANCE AGENTS, ATTENTION!

SHAW'S NEW HALL, BIDDEFORD, ME.
Best in the state. Biddeford an Saco 20,000 inhabitants. Only $20 a night. No license. CAPT. IVORY GOODWIN, Lessee. 24-3m*

DISTIN'S
CELEBRATED ENGLISH CORNETS,

used by the most eminent solo players in the world, from $23 to $80. Mr. Arbuckle, of Boston, says:—"I cannot possibly say too much in favor of your Cornets." Mr. J. Levy, the great soloist, says:—"In my opinion they quite surpass every instrument of the same character that I have previously tried." These instruments are manufactured with the latest modern improvements, and possess an evenness and equality of tone that cannot be produced upon instruments with ordinary pistons or rotary valves. Discount to Profession. List of prices and drawings mailed free. BOOSEY & CO., 644 Broadway, N. Y., Agents for Distin's Military Musical Instruments. Boosey's Complete Cornet Tutor, 50 cents. 21-3m*

STRING, BRASS AND MILItary Band Music for any number of pieces. Catalogues free.

21-3m* BOOSEY & CO., 644 Broadway, New York.

COMIC SONGS.—SECOND SElection of the newest Comic Songs, with Pianoforte Accompaniment, including "Up in a Balloon," "Paddy's Dream," "Mary Ann, the Milkman's Daughter," etc., as being sung by the leading comic vocalists, 30c. The First Selection of 25 Comic Songs. Price 50c. Mailed on receipt of price. BOOSEY & CO., 644 B'way, N.Y. 21-3m*

BOOSEY'S CHEAP MUSIC

Books for Voice and Pianoforte. Pianoforte and all Instruments, 50 cents each. Invaluable to the Profession. Catalogues free.
21-3m* BOOSEY & CO., 644 Broadway, New York.

BUCKLEY'S SERENADERS,
BRASS BAND AND BURLESQUE TROUPE.

TWENTY SIX TALENTED ARTISTS, under the supervision of
O. SWAYNE BUCKLEY.

alias Medora Becker, W. Hughes, Chas. Haywood, T. Sears, J. O. Barnard, H. Frederick, D. Brown, J. H. Murphy, A. Hoffman, Geo. Monk, J. Walters, T. Burke, G. Hogan, T. Waterman, E. Stasser, I. Hunter, S. Kline, O. Vanderhoff, Pete Lee, Jake Budd, O. P. Sweet, W. Boran, A. Buckley, Z. Fritze.

THE BUCKLEYS
have been located four years in the City of Boston, and five years in the City of New York, and have visited nearly every city in the States; also have twice visited Europe with their distinguished band of performers—everywhere meeting with unprecedented success—deem this a sufficient guarantee for the future approbation of the public.
21-1f H. E. FARMELEE, Agent.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC,
ERIE, PENN.,

(Licensed by the year). Centrally located, opposite Post Office. Just built; everything new; stage 38 by 50 feet; full set of scenery; seating capacity, 1,000; Auditorium seated with chairs; raised seats; good dressing rooms; illuminated balcony; largest and best place of amusement in the city. Population, 25,000.
Address WM. J. SELL & CO., Agents,
708 State street.
Office of P. C. Backus, City Bill Poster, at the same place. 25-13t*

HALL'S CONCERT HALL,
OWENSBORO, KY.

This new hall will be fully completed on the 10th of September. It is one of the finest halls ever built in Kentucky, being 88 feet by 72 feet in the clear, with thirty large windows; is good stage, built by speaker, of Louisville; scenery by West, of Louisville; chairs for seats.
The Davies County Agricultural and Mechanical Society will hold its annual fair near this city, from the 5th to the 9th of October, and the proprietor would like to have a good troupe to open the hall that week. There will be a Fancy Dress Ball on the Thursday night of the fair week. The room is fitted up with stage machinery, and lighted with gas. FRANK L. HALL,
25-3m Proprietor.

BILL POSTING FOR SALE.
MONTREAL, CANADA.

The undersigned, established as the City Bill Poster, with the entire business, owing to ill health, wishes to dispose of the good will of same, together with all the original bill boards now owned by him. Address, post paid,
W. ST. VINCENT,
23-4t* Box 2385, P. O., Montreal.

KAYLOR HALL,
CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

My hall is newly fitted up with Dressing Rooms, entire New Curtains; Scenery painted on flats by W. E. BRIGGS, Esq.; Gas Fixtures complete, with capacity of 500. Population about 10,000. Will rent by the Night, Week or Month, on liberal terms.
25-3m* D. KAYLOR, Proprietor.

ROBERTS' OPERA HOUSE,
395 MAIN STREET,
HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT,

Is pronounced, by the entire amusement profession, to be the finest Theatre of any in the country in which traveling companies play.
This new and beautiful house, arranged upon the most approved modern style, and seated with "Allen's Patent Iron Chairs" in Parquet and Parquet Circle and upholstered seats in Dress Circle and Family Circle, fitted with a complete set of stock scenes suitable for the production of any first class play, and for the last season, since the opening, January 20th, 1869, the only popular place of amusement in Hartford, will be rented on reasonable terms to managers of DRAMATIC, OPERATIC AND CONCERT COMPANIES, Lecturers, &c., upon application to the proprietor, W. W. ROBERTS, 395 Main street, Hartford, Conn. 25-3m

TO MANAGERS.
THE GAS LIGHT, HARTFORD, CONN.,

is published FREE for ALLYN HALL and the OPERA HOUSE Managers sending correct house bills in advance, and ADVERTISING WITH US, we guarantee a successful PASS, at 11 M., the day of entertainment. Send for circular.
25-3m JOSEPH H. BARNUM & CO., Publishers.

WEISIGER HALL,
LOUISVILLE KY.,

open to managers of
CONCERT, OPERA, MINSTREL, THEATRICAL TROUPES
LECTURERS, &c.

The largest, finest and most popular Hall in the West.
Gentlemanly ticket sellers, doorkeepers and ushers furnished desirable. Mr. BOGGS has charge of the Hall. For terms, &c address
WILL R. HAYS,
18-3m* No. 110 Fourth street, Louisville, Ky.

VELOCIPEDE RIDER.

A FANCY VELOCIPEDE RIDER. 201 Bleecker street
20-13t* ADDIE GRANEL.

ANNA MORRIS
AND
JOS. E. NAGLE

Will commence their engagements on or about 20th of Sept. Managers having time, please address box 290, Chicago, Ill. 24-3t*

"FORTY THIEVES" AND "SINBAD THE SAILOR."
(BURLESQUES PLAYED AT NIBLO'S GARDEN.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15, 1869.

In answer to numerous applications from managers and others desirous of producing the above burlesques, I beg to state that I have disposed of the entire right of representation of these pieces to Mr. Alexander Henderson, Manager of the Lydia Thompson Troupe, who will henceforth negotiate for any such performances.
H. D'ARNIE.

Being about to proceed to London and Paris, for the purpose of effecting engagements for the Lydia Thompson Troupe, and also securing them new pieces (amongst others a novel spectacular drama by Alexander Dumas, pere). I shall be glad to undertake similar commissions from other managements. Letters to be addressed, after 20th inst., to me, care of John Monroe & Co., Bankers, 7 Rue Scribe, Paris, France.
H. D'ARNIE.

In reference to the above, Mr. Alexander Henderson begs to notify managers that he is prepared to negotiate for performances of the above successful burlesques, in towns where the Lydia Thompson Troupe do not appear. Complete music scores, costume and scene plots, prompt books and special block printing included in the arrangement. All letters to be directed to him at Niblo's Garden, New York.
CAUTION!!! The original Niblo's burlesques of "Sindbad" and the "Forty Thieves" are fully protected by law in all their copyright dialogues, scenes, music and effects, and proceedings will be taken in every case of infringement. 24-4t

BOSTON THEATRE.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The Boston Theatre Dramatic Company is under the sole management of the undersigned, and travels only with his name attached. Mr. E. M. Leslie, the former traveling agent, has ended his connection with the Boston Theatre.
Boston, Sept. 10th, 1869. [24-6t*] J. B. BOOTH.

METROPOLITAN STAR COMPANY.

The young and talented actress, KATIE PUTNAM, supported by Seventeen Metropolitan Artists, now on the most successful tour ever made through the northwest. WANTED—A good cold woman! and three responsible men, with good wardrobe—singers preferred. Drinking men not wanted. Address EDWIN BROWN, Manager, 46 East Harrison st., Chicago Ill. 24-3t*

BECKEL OPERA HOUSE,
DAYTON, OHIO,

Has been entirely remodeled, with large stage, sunken footlights, elaborate scenery and all the modern improvements, constituting it one of the handsomest theatres in the West. It is in the first story, and provided with AMPLE MEANS OF EGRESS.
Centrally located and a seating capacity of about 1,000 persons. Is now open for first class entertainments only. Address
24-5m* J. S. CHURCH, Dayton, Ohio.

CLARY & REILLEY,
PRINTERS AND ENGRAVERS
13, 14 AND 16 SPRUCE STREET,
NEW YORK.

THE LARGEST SHOW BILL PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT IN THE WORLD.
THIS FIRM
Pays particular attention to getting up all kinds of
FANCY SHOW BILLS
For traveling companies, and have on hand a large and splendid assortment of large and small
WOOD CUTS
Suitable for Circuses, Menageries, Ethiopian Performers, Gymnasts, Magicians, &c., &c., which can be printed in one or more colors, to suit customers.
A deposit required on all work ordered. 19-tf

EVENING NEWS
JOB PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT,
Ninth street, above Main, Richmond, Va.

The only SHOW PRINTING OFFICE In the South.
PRICES AS LOW AS NEW YORK.
All information relative to Theatres, Public Halls, Licenses, Bill Posting, &c., &c., cheerfully given. Address
W. H. WADE & CO.,
1-tf Richmond, Va.

THEATRE COMIQUE,
CLEVELAND, OHIO.

MONTPELIER AND EGAN.....Managers.
Open throughout the year.
Lady Vocalists and Dancers and Specialties of all kinds wanted. Liberal salaries will be paid to good performers. 17-13t*

LIVING CURIOSITIES,

Who wish to make a winter engagement at the
CRESCENT CITY MUSEUM,
Will take notice that the museum will open on or about the 10TH OF SEPTEMBER NEXT.
GIANTS, FAT PEOPLE, DWARFS,
SKELETONS, CIRCASSIANS, ALBINOS,
And all other wonders will send their address, with photographs, to CLARK T. AMES, Crescent City Museum, 40 and 42 St. Charles street, New Orleans, La. 18-3m

PHILADELPHIA CHAMPION

CIRCUS, Tenth and Callowhill streets, will re-open for the fall and winter season of 1869-70, on or about the 1st of November ensuing. Artistes of unquestionable and acknowledged ability in the profession desiring engagements should address Manager PHILA. P. C., stating lowest salary for 2 or more weeks. Silence a negative. 18-3m*

DUNN'S HALL,
MOLINE, ROCKLAND COUNTY, ILLINOIS,

For rent. Terms moderate. 500 seats. Stage 16x31, with foot lights. Moline is an important manufacturing city, on the line of the C. R. I. and P. R. R., with a population of 8,000. Apply to 20-13t* THOMAS DUNN.

ROUSE'S OPERA HALL,
PEORIA, ILL. This popular institution is well adapted to and much used for Theatres, Operas, Concerts, Minstrels, Balls, Festivals, Lectures, Panoramas, Conventions, &c. It has an ample Stage, with Scenery, Comfortable Dressing Rooms, Dress Circle, &c. Seating capacity, 1,200. City population 35,000. Terms moderate.
R. ROUSE, Jr., Agent and Manager.
13-17t* R. ROUSE, Proprietor.

VARIETIES THEATRE,
MARKET STREET, ST. LOUIS, MO.

GEORGE D. MARTIN.....Proprietor
GEORGE J. DEAGLE.....Business and Acting Manager
ROBERT JONES.....Stage Manager
The Largest and Most Popular Varieties Theatre in the United States. Female stars and talent of all kinds treated with at all times. Address G. J. DEAGLE, Business Manager. 20-13t*

TO MANAGERS.
LEO HUDSON

can be secured for brief star engagements, together with her celebrated mare, "BLACK BESS," for the production of the equestrian dramas of the day. Address her care of CLIPPER OFFICE. 21-4f

SUMNER'S
NEW OPERA HOUSE,
AKRON, OHIO.

Opened July 26th, 1869; seating 1,500 persons. 300 Arm Chairs in Parquette; 700 seats in Dress Circle; 800 seats in Balcony; 4 Private Boxes. On 2d (not 3d) floor, reached by one flight 13 feet stairs; building, 72x140 feet; Auditorium, 50x72 feet, and 45 feet high; elegantly frescoed, lighted by gas and heated by steam; large and commodious Stage, with 10 prs. Flats, Stage Carpet, Foot and Border Lights, Drop Curtain, &c., &c.

TO RENT, BY THE NIGHT OR WEEK, TO FIRST CLASS ENTERTAINMENTS ONLY.

Own Bill Boards, City License, &c.
For terms apply to SUMNER & ABBEY,
Lessees,
Akron, Ohio.

P. S.—Akron is a city of 12,000 inhabitants, and the best show town in the State. 18-13t*

RICHARDS' HALL,
CHAMPAIGN

Champaign County, Illinois,
Forty by sixty-five feet, is open for all kinds of traveling troupe Terms reasonable and licence low. 15-13t*

AKIN'S NEW HALL,
PETROLEUM CENTRE, PA.,

will seat 800 persons; stage 20 by 30; new scenery; dressing rooms, and all necessary conveniences for theatrical performance concerts or exhibitions. For terms, address
13-13t* JEROME B. AKIN.

R. B. KENT'S Theatrical Hosiery.

No. 173 (late 202) BOWERY, N. Y.
FORMERLY GARNER'S ESTABLISHMENT.
All kinds of THEATRICAL AND CIRCUS CLOTHING constantly on hand and made to order. 21-3m*

THEATRE ROYAL,
MONTREAL, CANADA.

STARS desirous of visiting Montreal can apply to 13-13t* J. W. BUCKLAND, Lessee.

RUTLAND OPERA HOUSE,

seats 800, lighted handsomely with gas, nice dressing rooms, elegant scenery, etc. For rent for first class entertainments only. For terms, including town license, bill posting, day and night ticket selling, ushers and night hands. Address
N. V. BROOKS, Agent,
2-6m* Rutland, Vt

HAMILTON'S NEW HALL,
FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

Opposite the Public Square and Post Office. The Hall is 120 feet long by 55 wide, has two dressing rooms, raised seats, foot and border lights and carpet. The entrance is twelve feet wide.
Hamilton Hall is by far the most popular hall in the city.
N. B.—Hamilton Hall owns all the Bulletin Boards, and has eased all the desirable walls in the city for posting bills.
TO LET (for first class entertainments only.)
The above Hall will seat over 1,000 persons, is fitted with entirely new and elegant scenery (Flats).
The most centrally located building in the city, and every way adapted for
FIRST CLASS EXHIBITIONS.
1-6m* H. N. WARD, Agent.

TO RENT,
LIBRARY HALL, CHICAGO,

Formerly well known as METROPOLITAN HALL.
The above convenient Hall, suitable for Lectures and Exhibitions, will seat 1,500 persons; is the cheapest and best situated Hall in Chicago, close to the chief hotels and lines of street cars. Rent per night extremely reasonable. For terms apply to
JOHN ROBSON,
12-6m* 50 La Salle street, upstairs, Chicago, Ill.

THE NATIONAL THEATRE,

Of LARAMIE CITY, WYOMING TERRITORY, a beautiful and spacious Hall, can be rented by compalies traveling on this route, at very reasonable terms. It will seat five hundred persons comfortably. The scenery has been gotten up by the best artists of the day.
Musicians, well posted in the Dramatic and Minstrel business, always on hand. Proprietor A. TRABING. 19-13t

THE PITTSBURGH
ACADEMY OF MUSIC,

the only really first class theatre in the city, complete in all its appointments, is offered on favorable terms, by the day, week or season, to responsible parties for FIRST CLASS ENTERTAINMENTS ONLY. Address
FOR RENT
W. A. McCLURG, Pittsburgh, Pa.
20-8t

GREVE'S OPERA HOUSE,
SPARTA, WIS.

This splendid hall is now complete, and will be let at reasonable rates for respectable exhibitions. This hall is the only first class one in the place, and will seat 1,200 with ease. The stage is 35 feet deep by 40 wide, with traps and other stage machinery complete, and has recently been fitted with new and splendid scenery. Address or apply to 23-13t* Warner House, Sparta, Wis.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL,
ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN,

CORNER OF BROADWAY AND BLEECKER STREET,
HEAD QUARTERS OF SHOWMEN AND MEMBERS OF ALL PROFESSIONS.
One hundred good rooms at $1 per day. Hotel thoroughly repaired and meals served at all hours.
21-8t* GEORGE S. LELAND, Proprietor.

HAMBLIN'S OPERA HOUSE, (NEW),
BATTLE CREEK, MICH.,

Will seat 1,200 persons; stage, 30 by 50. Beautifully frescoed, full set of scenery (on flats), dressing rooms, &c., in fact
THE FINEST HALL IN THE STATE
outside of Detroit. For terms address
21-13t* A. C. HAMBLIN, Proprietor.

NEW THEATRICAL STORE

SHANNON, MILLER & CRANE,
(Removed from No. 39 to No. 46 Maiden Lane, New York)
Importers of and Wholesale and Retail Dealers in THEATRICAL GOODS of every description.
COSTUMERS' MATERIALS AND ALL KINDS OF GOLD AND SILVER TRIMMINGS.

NEW THEATRICAL STORE.

TIGHTS of every variety in SILK, COTTON, WORSTED, LISLE THREAD AND FINE COTTON, LEOTARD BODIES, SHIRTS, TIGHTS, CAPS, TRUNKS, CLOWN AND HARLEQUIN SUITS, BEAR, MONKEY AND WILD MAN'S DRESSES, STRIPED STOCKINGS, &c., &c., both imported and of our own manufacture. A large assortment constantly on hand; also made to measure at short notice.
PADDINGS AND SYMETRICS a specialty.
CLOG SHOES, HATS AND WIGS, every pattern.
NEW No. 46 MAIDEN LANE.
Goods sent C. O. D., to any part of the UNITED STATES or CANADAS. 13-6m*

LIVING CURIOSITIES.

ATTENTION!—Who want a winter's engagement to travel with C. W. Noyes' Crescent City Circus. Such as Fat Men and Women, Giants, Dwarfs, Wild Men and Women, Circassians, no armed Men and Women, Living Skeletons, &c. &c. Send your address and terms of salary per month, with photographs, to
J. A. WOOD,
24-4t* Care of Russell, Morgan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

CHARLESTON & SAVANNAH

THEATRES, the undersigned having secured the above Theatres, also the New Augusta Theatre (when finished), is desirous of securing first class talent for the coming season. The above circuit affords unusual opportunity for stars or combinations, as they can have from one to five weeks, including all the above places. All communications addressed to care of THOMPSON & HIGGS, 512 Broadway, COLLINS & MORSE, Managers. 24-13t*

ODEON THEATRE,
WILLIAMSBURGH, L. I.

The above theatre (formerly Hooley's Opera House) is now offered to rent. To a good party, alterations will be made, and a long and favorable lease given. Apply or address
G. T. REEDER,
24-tf Waverley Theatre, New York.

SOBEL'S OPERA HOUSE,
PETROLEUM CENTRE, PA.

This building has been ENLARGED AND GREATLY IMPROVED.
Depth, 135 feet; stage, 30x32 feet. To lease for long or short engagements. Address all letters to
S. SOBEL,
23-3m* Petroleum Centre, Pa.

HUSTON HALL,
DAYTON, OHIO,

Open to Concert, Opera, and Minstrel Troupes, Lectures, etc. The largest and most popular Hall in the city. Address
J. R. HUSTON,
24-3m* East of Canal, between 1st and 3d Streets.

BOSTON EXHIBITION OF 1869

A CARD.
ARTISTS VISITING THE ABOVE ARE RESPECTFULLY REQUESTED TO NOTICE THE CAKE OF THEATRICAL WIGS, EXHIBITED FOR PREMIUM, BY THEIRS RESPECTFULLY,
A. GILBERT,
24-4t* 135 Westminster street, Providence, R. I.

J. AND A. LESLIE,
GYMNASTS,

and Ferdinand Tourniare, Principal Rider, now with LEVI J. NORTH'S CIRCUS, would like to negotiate with responsible managers for the winter season south.
Address J. LESLIE or F. TOURNIARE, care of Levi J. North's Circus, National Hotel, Joliet, Ill. 21-4t*

MR. ALF
BURNETT

the most versatile performer living, makes the most rapid changes, and universally acknowledged as the FUNNIEST MAN AND THE
GREATEST FACIAL ARTIST IN THE WORLD.
Is now in New England, and will soon be on a tour through the Canadas.
Managers wishing to secure his services will address care of Clipper Office. 18-3m*

RESERVED SEAT

Ticket Printing a Specialty! Tickets Printed, Numbered and Sectioned accurately, promptly and at low prices for any place of amusement in the United States. Tickets printed for nearly all the Theatres in New York City.
A. S. SEER, 744 Broadway, N. Y.

Sec. A. No. 744 CENTRE. PARQUETTE

Retain this Check to find Seat's Number, 744 Broadway, N. Y.

THE UNION RECONSTRUCTED

UNION HALL, JOHNSTOWN, PA.

This already good and extremely popular Hall has just been entirely Remodeled, Enlarged, and Decorated. Is on the ground floor, principal entrance 15 feet wide; two side exit doors; can be emptied in less than five minutes; no jamming, crushing, or danger. Has over 600 arm and hair arm chairs on main floor, and seats 300 in the gallery. Building, 101x50 feet; ceiling, 35 feet high; stage, 26 feet deep, 40 feet wide. Full set of scenery on flats, by Richard S. Smith, of N. Y. Frescoes and decorations or auditorium by the same artist. Dressing rooms, green carpet, act drop and green curtain; foot, wing, and side lights. Stage door and water closet. Water in dressing rooms and on stage.
Union Hall has done nine-tenths of the business of Johnstown since first opened in November, 1868. It is now entirely perfect in sound, light and beauty.
The Association would confidently refer for character of hall and management to J. O. Sefton, Charles A. Morris, J. H. Haverly, Sam'l S. Sanford, Leo Hudson, Continental Vocalists, Wallace Sisters' Burlesque Troupe, Blind Tom's management, or any of the numerous parties that have occupied the Hall.
For terms, &c., address ROBERT W. HUNT,
15-3m* Secretary Union Hall Association, Johnstown, Pa.

WOOD CUTS for EXHIBITIONS.

And Large and Small Illustrated Posters.
TORREY BROTHERS, PRINTERS AND ENGRAVERS,
No. 13 Spruce street, New York, have upwards of Eight Hundred Wood Cuts
in their general stock, adapted to the following different Exhibitions, viz:—
Dramatic, Circus, Menagerie, Trained Animals, Negro Minstrels, Magicians, Jugglers, Varieties, Side Shows, etc., for the use of any of which no charge will be made to those having work done at their establishment.
Catalogues containing a description of the several Cuts may be obtained, and impressions of the various subjects seen on file at the office.
JOHN TRYON 13 Spruce street, New York, will attend to our amusement work, and whatever writing may be required in that department. 21-3m*

THEATRICAL HOSIERY
Of Every Description.

VANDERLIP & TAYLOR,
(Late A. RANKIN & Co.—Established 1833,)
No. 96 Bowery, New York.
THEIR FACILITIES IN MANUFACTURING
are such that orders for any style and of any material can be furnished at very short notice.
Orders by mail receive particular attention.
1-6m*

NEW WESTERN THEATRICAL STORE

129 Dearborn st., Chicago, Ill.